Kennett, Hopkins & Co say the shorts seem to be well covered and that wheat market looks ripe to selt to-incrrow on further advance.

R. Cochrane's correspondents: Trade dragged considerably till near the close, when open turned very strong in sympathy with wheat and higher cables. The market now depends on the receipts. If they are liberal, as expected, prices will doubtless give way; should anything occur to retard shipments a further advance in near futures is protable. Oats did slightly better, following corn, but trades showed little anumation. Provisions have been heavy nearly all day. Shorts covered moderately on the little rally at close, buying mainly in consequence of strength of other markets. Receipts hogs very large, 42,000, considerably exceeded expectations, and over 20,000 carried over. The bearish sentiment is growing, and if the run of hogs continues to increase a further decline is extremely probable.
