Frederick T. Williams, the postoffice clerk who was arrested on June 15 by Dominion Police Officer Matthew Heron on a charge of stealing a number of letters from the Toronto general postoffice, was placed upon trial at the General Sessions yesterday.
There were three counts against him,
but the specific one upon which he was tried was that of stealing five letters on the evening upon which he was arrested. The prisoner was defended by B. B. Osler, Q.C., and T. C.
Robinette. Detective Heron, Superintendent Curran and Assistant Postmaster John Caruthers were the witnesses for the Crown, the defence offering no evidence, After a delibera-The Jury Disagreed. fering no evidence, After a delibera-tion of two and a half hours, the jury were unable to agree. A Bicycle Brings Suit.

Robert F. Linsey, a bicycle machinist, was riding a bicycle in Queenstreet east, on Jan. 17, last. George Watson, a Vaughn township farmer, was driving up Jarvis-street. A collision between the wheel and wheelman on the one hand and the farmer's horses on the other, resulted, in which Livsey was badly hurt and his wheel pretty badly broken up. Livsey spent five weeks in the hospital. pretty badly broken up. Livsey spent five weeks in the hospital. On the ground that Watson was driving at an immoderate rate of speed, Livsey brought action in the County Court yesterday for $200. Watson's defence was that he was going at a fair rate and that the acident was caused by Livsey's own reckless riding. The verdict will be handed in this morning.

The Assault in the Glue Factorys

The adjourned case of the Queen vs.
George Coleman, charged with throwing a hot fluid on George Dumn, a fellow-laborer at Harris' glue works on Saturday, Aug. 31, was dismissed by Magistrate Nimmo last night, on the grounds that the charge of aggravated assault was not proven. N. D. Mills appeared for Coleman, while G. H. Thompson represented the Crown. Dunn appeared with his head boud up and stated that he received his injuries after knocking off Coleman's hat while stepping out of the elevator. Dunn and Coleman, who are both employee at Harris' glue works on Students of the Crown. The state of the Crown of the C Dunn and Coleman, who are both employes at Harris', were firm friends and the practice of throwing water on each other was common with them.

Dunn said that if he had been left investment Co. to himself he would not have prose-cuted. All the witnesses testified that Coleman was not angry at the time of the occurrence and that the fuld was hot water and not glue soup.

Hugh Grant, 197 Franklin-avenue, Toronto Junction, was grooming a pet colt yesterday, when the animal kicked him on the forehead just above the right eye, fracturing his skull. He was removed to the General Hos-pital. Slight hopes are entertained of his recovery.

Convicted of Pocket Picking. John Forman was convicted at the Police Court yesterday of attempting to pick pockets at the corner of Yonge and Adelaide-streets on Friday evening. His arrest was effected by Mr. Edwin Pearson of Pearson Bros., who saw the accused inserting his hand in the pockets of several ladies. For-man was sent to the Central Prison

Henry White Pardoned. Henry F. White, who last October was sent to the penitentiary for two years for embezzling funds from the Walkerville Malleable Iron Works, has been pardoned by the Government. White was manager of the works, and months after his departure was arrested in Chicago.

One Convicted, the Other Acquitted. Francis Wurster, the Queen-street west jeweler, was yesterday acquitted
by a General Sessions jury on the charge of receiving stolen property.
Frank Cable, who was tried on the same charge, was found guilty, but recommended to mercy. A reserved case was granted and bail accepted in two sureties of $750 each.
