number of New England journalists is to

Mrs. Sark Curry is enjoying a vast cross number of New England journalists is to visit our province in a few days. They are to come by way of Yarmouth, make brief stops at several of the chief places in these western counties, and after visiting Halifax for several days return home the way they came. They will thus see our province, and particularly this beautiful valley, at a time of the year when looking their beat, just after nature has given to everything the finishing touches of her matchless handiwork. As preparations are being made at the various places where these gentlemen are expected to stop, to give them a cordial reception, we have no doubt, should the wester from the way no doubt, should the wester of managreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be comproved an agreeable one, and that they will cannot be compared by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allows Banks, a Nova Scotian, was inside have to undergo on arriving in Bosunce of the comproved and swers noted down in the same way to see if they agree with those given on the boat. Let all the passengers be kept in this way for two or three hours until every individual member is thus questioned, regardless of whether he is a gentleman on business, whose time is precious, or one having the appearance of the genuine tramp. Let our visitors be subjected to this kind of treatment and we fancy the journals of New England would ring with indignation, scorn, and contempt at the discourtesy shown them. Yet this is no fancy picture of what the average visitor from this side has of late been compelled to undergo on his way to the boasted land of the free.

Without doubt our neighbors have during recent years been receiving a good many immigrants whom the country would be far better without. Vast hordes of Russian Jews, Poles, Hungarians and Italians have been dumped upon their shores by the various steamship lines, and this miscellaneous mass of humanity, with its crude ideas of government, its readiness to engage in strikes and of humanity, with its crude ideas of government, its readiness to engage in strikes and other deeds of violence, has been received with little question or protest. Yet our neighbors seem so greatly concerned lest some undesirable immigrants find their way into their country from these provinces that other deeds of violence, has been received into their country from these provinces that they must needs subject travellers from here to all manner of annoyances and petty questionings before they are allowed to land. It is not from .Canada, and more especially from this province, that the United States gets its supply of socialists and anarchists, but from the slums of European cities. The precautions our neighbors seem to be taking of late to protect themselves from this class of people would appear, therefore, to be wholly out of place, so far as travel between this province and New England is concerned and we trust that this fact will be impressed upon the minds of the visiting journalists.

-In discussing the road question, our gen ial friend, the Councillor for Ward 3, must not overlook the fact that within a few years there has been spent upon the roads of the province, in addition to the ordinary road grant, the sum of $600,000, or thereabouts; and upon our bridges, within a trifle of $1,and all opon on things, when he seems depicted are simply representations or is he really visiting the various places of interest of the world. The solemn annual expenditure would be required to keep them in good condition. At the time this money was borrowed it was distinctly stated that it was to be expended only in making permanent improvements upon our roads. If it was not so spent then it failed to accomplish the object for which it was borrowed and its expenditure could scarcely be justified. Neither could it be justified if it still required as large a yearly grant to keep our roads in good condition as it did before the $600,000 was expended. Again, the expenditure of $1,300,000 upon the bridges of the province, by means of which the expenditure of $1,300,000 upon the bridges of the province, by means of which our councils have been relieved of the conour councils have been relieved of the construction of all the larger bridges, has left the entire road grant for the road service alone, whereas formerly that grant had to be didived between roads and bridges. Under all these circumstances Councillor Elliott will see that any argument he can base upon the fact that our Councillors have less road money at their disposal now than they had a few years ago, is not sound. Less money is needed now, or ought to be, if the road and bridge money recently spent by the province has accomplished the object for which it was borrowed.

We agree with everything Councillor Elliotts and manager, had been a period in which his relations to the community, both as citizen and manager, had been a period in which his relations to the community, both as citizen and manager, had been to him a source of great satisfaction, despite the commercial depends on the feed of the control of the control of the Londonderry Iron Works, C.
