ORNAMNETAL TREES.

One of the most popular lady writers, who, judging from what she has written, has lived among plain farmers in the western country, has said that most settlers in a new country consider a tree as their natural enemy. This is true, we confess, to some extent. The earlier settlers in clearing then fields generally slay every thing before them; for if a tree should occasionally be left for shade or ornament, it would be saved with difficulty during the scathing fires that follow afterwards. But when the farmer removes his old log-house, to give place for his new mansion, neatly vainted and adorned with bright green shutters, then the dock thistle, the briefs, and brush-heaps should be routed from his door-yard, and some kind of omamental shrubbery planted instead. Every portion of our country has some such statable trees indigenous to the soil. The maple and locust are very hardy trees, and every where obtained in our latitude. The blac is pretty, and dozens of other kinds procure I with little trouble. By way of variety, and to enliven the scene a little, a few evergreens should be interspersed. The baleam fir is one of the most heautiful of this class. Evergreens, if transplanted are not apt to live unless extra care is taken. The surest way is to dig them with as much earth adhering to the roots as possible, and place them immediately in an old tub, half barrel, or something of the kind, then filling it up with the same earth from which the shrub was taken, and thus removed home and placed tub and all, in the holes prepared for them. Afterwards the tall or lox containing them can be knocked to pieces, that the roots may spread. Don't forget to water the plants occasionally if the weather should be dry. The trees should be placed on the outer margin of shrubberic s for the beauty and protection .-- Philadelphia Dollar Newspaper.

Lime.--Ono farmer saved his clover from destruction by the slug, or small small, on land bearing a wheat crop, by a slight dressing of powdered lime, scattered through a clover seed machine late in the evening, when then insects were busy at werk. Lime would be frequently useful if applied in this manner. Sown in moderate quantity on light land, it will bring in white clover; it is said, also, that it will destroy the fungus which causes the rot in potatoes.

VEGETABLE SLUMBERS .-- Mr. Lindley, a celebrated London Professor, says, "there is not a single gardener who is master of his profession, who does not know how injurious a high nocturnal temperature is to plants. The coorners of nights is to plants rohat sleep is to animals. This law may, to some extent, be violated for a time, but the plants cannot, on pain of loss of life, be deprived of their proper period of repose,"

Bilious Attacks, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Loss of Appetite, Lowness of Spirits with sensation of Fulness at the 1'it of the Stomach, Pains between the Shoulders, Acidity in the Stomach and Bowels, Flatulency, Spasms, Heartburn, Dimness of Sight, Drow-smess, and the Distressing feeling arising from Debility

All these diseases have each something in common each some principle of continuity, which, amid all their apparent cariety, establishes their unity of type, one remedy alleviates or cures them all; and that remedy is DR. HOPE'S PILLS.

They are the very best remedy, and can be taken at any time, without any danger from wet and cold, requiring no restraint from business or pleasure; they act mululy on the bevels, without pain or griping, giving strength to the stomach, and promoting a healthy action of the liver, by which they prevent and cure Jampice and Dropsy, clear the skin, remove Sallowness and Pimples, purify the Blood, brace the Nerves, and invigorate the whole system. Females at a certain age should never be without them.

THE CURE OF RHEUMATISM. ACUTE OR CHRONIC, RHEUMATIC GOUT, NEURALGIA, DISEASES OF THAT CLASS.

MIIS extraordinary and potent compound is made acf cording to a favorite prescription of the above emi-nent Physician. Sir Ashley Cooper, also, frequently re-terred his students to the compound as eminently calculated for the cure of Rheumatism and other diseases of that class—its ingredients are entirely from the Vegetable Kingdom, and it any medicine could legitimately be denominated a specific, this remedy is preeminently entitled to that appellation. But the Proprietor does not believe in INFALLIBLE SPECIFICS for the cure of any disease; yet this confidence in this medicine is such from personal knowledge, as to supply it, when taken under his own supervision, on the condition of "NO CURE NO PAL." Its success, in almost every case where it has had a fair and honest trial, fully confirms its general reputation, of being the very best incurrent in the world, for the cure of Rieumatism, Gout. Neurallia, &c.,

A Case of Chronic Rheumatism of fifteen years standing, cured by Halford's Balsam and Hope's Pills.

Toronto, 14th December, 1848.

Dr. Unquitant .

Dear Sir.—I hereby certify, that I have been afflicted The Sir.—I hereby certify that I have been affected with Rheumatism for fifteen years; for a considerable time I was confined to bed, and the greater part of that time I could not move myself; some of my joints were considerable dislocated, my knees were stiff, and all my joints very much swelled; for the last three years, I was scatedly able to do three month's work without suffering the most exeruciating pains. I was doctored in Europe by several physicians of the highest standing in the profession as well as in this province, I was also five months in the Toronto Hospital, and, notwithstanding all the means used. I could not get rid of my complaint, indeed I was told by a very respectable physician that I never could be cured, so that at the time my attention was directed to yourSir HENRY HALFORD'S IMPERIAL BALSAM, for the cure of Rheumatism, and Rheumatic Gout—and Dr. HOPE'S PILLS, I was despairing of ever getting cured; when I called on you, I was hardly able to walk, and what was almost infraculous, in three weeks from my commencing to take your medicine. I gained fourteen pounds in weight; my health was much improved, and in about these weeks more my Rheumatism was completely gone and my health perfectly restored. I now enjoy a good health as any man in Canada. Since my recovery I have walked forty-six miles in one day with perfect freedom, and I assure you, Sir, that I feel truly thankful. You can make any use of this you please; my case is known to several individuals of respectability in this city their names you know and can refer to them if necessary. Yours, truly and gratefully,

THOMAS WRIGHT.
