

to think of it. It is an open step, which I have not yet taken. Truth, thy way is a thorny one * * * " In order to understand his position at this time, we must consider him affectionately bound to Calvinistic relatives; and patronised by Calvinistic friends, who, attracted by the promise of his college life, had offered him a Professor's Chair in a Presbyterian College in Ohio. He declined the proffered Professorship, and became a Unitarian minister, settling in Augusta, Maine, where he ministered faithfully until he was called to rest from his earthly labors.

Mr. Judd was alive to what was going on in the world around him, and those who wish to see his relation to progress and reforms, will find it set forth in this volume. The frontispiece and title page are embellished by a neatly executed portrait, and an engraving of the cottage where he dwelt.

THE ELEMENTS OF CHARACTER. By Mary G. Chandler.

Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. For sale, in Montreal, by B. Dawson, Great St. James Street.

THE third edition of a book which, on its first appearance, we strongly commended to our readers. We take this opportunity to repeat our recommendation.

THOUGHTS TO HELP AND TO CHEER. Second Series. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. For sale, in Montreal, by B. Dawson, Great St. James Street.

A LITTLE volume designed to assist at private devotions. It is so arranged that a text of Scripture, a brief meditation, and a few lines of devotional poetry, are presented under the head of every day in the year. This second part commences with the first day of July, and concludes with the last day of December. Its spirit and tenor are fitly indicated by its title.

DISCOURSES. By Abiel Abbot Livermore, of Cincinnati, Ohio. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. For sale, in Montreal, by B. Dawson, Great St. James Street.

SOME one has said that the sermons usually preached in the Christian pulpits of the present day might as well have been uttered in Babylon of old, so far as any relation to the actual interests and events of our time is concerned.
