

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Preface	1
Programme	3
Introductory Remarks by Geoffrey Pearson	5
Executive Summary	6
Introduction	9
I. The Nature of the Arms Trade	11
II. Why Suppliers Supply Arms	13
1. What motivates the superpowers to supply arms?	13
2. What motivates middle-tier states such as Britain, France, and Canada to supply arms?	14
2b. Discussion and Questions.	15
3. What motivates developing states to embark on the complex and costly venture of producing arms?	16
3b. Discussion and Questions	18
III. Why Recipients Receive Arms	20
IV. Canada's Role in the International Arms Trade	23
V. Prospects for Restraining the Conventional Arms Trade	26
1. Prospects for control	26
1b. Discussion and Questions.	27
2. An Arms Trade Register?	28
2b. Discussion and Questions.	29
VI. Concluding Comments	31
Appendix I: List of Participants	32
Appendix II: The Proposal for an Arms Trade Register	34