

R.O.A.N. PERSONNEL COUNSELLING PROGRAM

First advice to industrial sphere of occupational counselling for the post-war civilian population of the personnel in the Royal Canadian Air Force. On June 1, 1944, the program of personnel counselling went into operation in a number of selected sectors.

The scope is to offer assistance, information and assistance to men and women in the R.C.A.F. to enable them to find themselves in the post-war period. The program was set up to help them in their transition from military to civilian life, including training, education and employment.

The main or woman's best civilian opportunities are discussed, and he or she is then turned over to the civilian officer for assistance in obtaining such additional education or training as the other demands.

This is a study of a civilian program to be conducted before demobilization. It is a study of the program to civilian life. It is a study of the program to civilian life. It is a study of the program to civilian life.

The technique of this kind of personnel counselling is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection.

This technique is also applied in other counselling. The first approach is an assessment of the man's skills, interests and personality. This is done by the personnel counsellor.

Personnel counselling have been, and are being, carried out in various forms. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection.

A personnel counsellor will be asked to assist in every way possible. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection. The program is based on the experience gained through the R.O.A.N. program of personnel selection.