

- (b) new trends, means or methods of committing Customs offences; and
- (c) any other data that may assist the Customs administrations with risk assessment.

ARTICLE 4

Special Instances of Assistance

1. On request, the requested Party shall, through its Customs administration, provide the requesting Party with the following information:
 - (a) whether goods which are imported into the territory of the requesting Party were lawfully exported from the territory of the requested Party;
 - (b) whether goods which are exported from the territory of the requesting Party were lawfully imported into the territory of the requested Party and the customs procedure, if any, under which the goods have been placed;
 - (c) whether goods which are transhipped or reshipped in the territory of one of the Parties were lawfully transhipped or reshipped.
2. On request, the requested Party shall, through its Customs administration, and to the extent consistent with its domestic laws and administrative provisions, maintain surveillance over and provide the requesting Party with information on:
 - (a) persons known to have committed or suspected of being about to commit a Customs offence in the territory of the requesting Party, particularly those moving into and out of the territory of the requested Party;
 - (b) goods, either in transport or in storage, known to have been used or suspected of being used to commit a Customs offence in the territory of the requesting Party;
 - (c) means of transport known to have been used or suspected of being used to commit a Customs offence in the territory of the requesting Party; and
 - (d) premises used for storing goods in the territory of the requested Party that may be used in connection with the commission of a Customs offence in the territory of the requesting Party.
3. On request, the requested Party shall, through its Customs administration, provide information on the assessment of customs duties to the requesting Party if the requesting Party has reason to doubt the accuracy and truthfulness of a declaration.
