Bullish Tendency Because of Dry Weather in Other Sections Favorable to Crops.

in Southeastern Misouri and Southern Illinois turned many wheat traders today to the selling side. The result was to wipe out nearly all of an early advance. Closing prices were steady at a gain of a shade to ¼c net. Latest trading left corn unchanged to ½c, higher, oats up a shade to ½c, and provisions 2½c to 7½c off.

Uneasiness concerning dry weather all over the southwest had much to do with giving the wheat market a firm start. Strength at Liverpool, believed Illinois turned many wheat traders tostart. Strength at Liverpool, believed to be due in considerable part to unfavorable reports about danger to the winter crop in the U.S., attracted wide attention and helped keep prices on the up grade until m.dday, when the snow-fall brought on realizing sales despite knowledge that the storm was confined to narow limits. Big receipts at primdry terminals, especially northwest, failed to make any impression. The theory was they had been discounted, and were not likely to continue. Scantiness of European stocks appeared more than an offset. Corn rose and fell with wheat. A little export business was being done, but the small number of farm animals on feed had a discouraging effect. Cash grades were unsettled.

Some improvement in shipping de mand hardened the oats market.

Provisions drooped on account of a liberal run of hogs. There was an average setback of 5c all round.

Crop Outlook in West.

Price Current: Complaint of the winter seeding of wheat being injured in the far western and southern sections has been made during the past week. The fact that there has been a very small amount of moisture over the entire wheat belt is calculated to give rise to some concern and also to some exaggeration in speculative circles.

CHICAGO GOSSIP. Neill, Beatty & Co. had the following

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 2—The market opened with shorts covering moderately on the expectation of lighter arrivals and the firmer Plate offerings of new and prices were higher. There is more apprehension hefing felt regarding good milling wheat and holders are firmer. The continent is bidding more freely and the unfavorable weather in the American winter wheat is expected to lead to an increased demand for spring grades. Stocks, both here and on the continent are light. Following the opening the market further advanced with March leading. Later there was a period of dulness, which resulted in a partial dudine and the pressure was accelerated by a private forecast of larger Argentino shipments this week.

Corn—Opened higher on the firmness of spot and expectations of lighter Argentines in the pressure was accelerated by a private forecast of larger Argentino shipments this week.

Receipts of farm produce were 300 bushels of grain and 35 loads of hay, with one load of straw.

Barley—Two hundred bushels sold at 41c for the distance of the first bushel.

Age and the close:

Wheat—We do not think there has been any damage done to winter wheat by the dry weather, but as long as the drought continues, it is likely to keep the market more or less nervous.

Corn—Present weather is making a big difference in corn consumption and assures our carrying over the largest stock of corn on record.

Oats—One hundred bushels sold at 41c per bushel.

Hay—Thirty-five loads sold at $16 to $18 for best quality, and $13 to $15 for No. 2.

Bailey, Gifford and Peterson Lake among the Porcupine and Cobalt stocks.
