Conditions Not So Bad After All
So Market Gets Another Bump

Weather in Wheat States More Favorable, and Prices Get on Down Grade Again—Corn and Oats Reactionary.

CHICAGO, June 28.—The beginning of the movement of new wheat to this market undermined the confidence of buyers to-day. Largely as a result, closing prices showed a net decline of 1-2 to 1-1/2. The end of the session left corn 5-8 to 1/4 down, oats off 1-2 to 7-8 and hog products the same as last night to 7-12 to 10c. below.

Each downward swing was lower than the one before in wheat. For a while there was a stiff market, the price going to 1-1/8 premium over September, but the merely like all others of the day proved unprofitable. With more rain and predicted at northwestern states the final tone was weak. Between the opening and the close, September ranged from 88 to 90 3-8, with latest trading 88 3-8 to 89 1-2, and 2-8 to 1-2, compared with last night. Belief that recent buying had been overdone made the corn market depressed. Rain and cooler weather, however, created a bear sentiment especially as the crop reports seemed to show that the damage southwest had been exaggerated. September ranged from 58 3-8 to 59 1-2, closing 58 3-8 to 59 1-2, compared with last night. Cash grades were easy.

Oats suffered less than other grain. Every decline making plain that the market was full of resting orders to buy during breaks. Nevertheless, the west indicated a steady decline from moisture and cooling coming from the west. The market was full of resting orders to buy during breaks. Bell Piano Competition

First prize in the Bell Piano Company's competition was won at Association Hall Tuesday night by Eva E. Galloway, 642 Bathurst-street, a pupil of Mrs. J. H. Farmer. Second prize went to Master Harold Spencer, 320 Canton-street, a pupil of W. E. Fairclough. The other contestants were Simeon Joyce, Gladys McMaster, Kathleen Davis, L. C. Stewart, Isabel Kue and Helen Skoy. They had been selected from several hundreds of competitors for the final trial. Optional numbers were given from Bach, Schumann, Chopin and Hoffman. The judges were Messrs. Hambourg, Alcock and Fuddelcombe, the latter from Hamilton and Ottawa respectively. The two prize winners were called for a second trial along with a lad who played with delicacy and taste, while not lacking in virility. He displayed subtlety in his sostenuto and had many supporters for his fine, strong touch. A little pink witch with a professional manner and much character in her playing was also regarded by many as deserving to win. She displayed more individuality than any of the other performers, and the piano under her touch, as she seemed to put her soul into the melody. The judges, however, preferred Miss Galloway, who if not so distinguished in tone was thoroughly correct and accurate in execution. She played with more confidence the second time. Master Spencer, with his curly head and Elbert Hubbard like was a picturesque figure. He was awarded a prize in his interpretation, and excellent in manner and feeling. All the candidates were under sixteen. The first prize winner is Miss Galloway, the daughter of W. O. Galloway, a statistician in the provincial department of agriculture. The first prize was $100 in gold, and Miss Galloway expressed a choice bouquet. The second prize was a silver medal. There was a large audience in attendance, and the performers were loudly applauded. The Bell Piano Company is to be congratulated on the marked success of their competition.
