How It Happened - Terrible Experience

of the Survivors.

London, Nov. 19 .- It is now stated that ten lives were lost by the wreck of the British steamer Memphis (announced in yesterday's dispatches), which went ashore in Dunlough Bay, near Mizenhead, on the south coast of Ireland, Tuesday night. The Memphis struck at 10 o'clock at night, during a dense fog. At the time of commandant of the Royal Military during a dense fog. At the time of College, Kingston, Ont., news of which the accident the steamer was prowas cabled some days ago, is this ceeding cautiously, blowing her whistles continuously, and keeping a sharp lookout for the Mizenhead and Brow Head lights, which the thickness of the weather prevented her from making out. They were constantly drenched by the heavy seas which passed over them, and some of them, after a hard fight for their lives, becoming weakened, dropped from their places and were carried away. The rockets sent up by the steamer's crew were seen by the coast guard, Recklinghausen, Westphalia. Four but the latter were unable to commu nicate with the shipwrecked men until after daylight, when all who remained in the rigging were taken off by the rocket apparatus of the life-savers. The rescued persons were immediately taken to the various farmhouses, whe they were kindly cared for by the inmates. Many of them were almost since his return to China from his naked, but were supplied with suffiforeign tour, and has consequently cient clothing to enable them to proceed to Crook Haven, at which place most of them are now.
