MODEST OPINION OF HALIFAX GAMES

What a Halifax Sporting Paper Has to Say About Recent Baseball Matches.

Sizing up the St. Peters and Marathon teams that visited Halifax "Sports" has this to say:—

"For the second time this year the Halifax fans have been treated to a brand of New Brunswick baseball, by the St. Peters and Marathons baseball teams of St. John. The St. Peters captured both their games, while one out of three was the best that the Marathons could do.

"We don't wish to show any favor, but in our opinion the St. Peters have it on the Marathons. They play snappier ball in the field and at base running, while they are reputed to be heavier batters than St. Peters it did not materialize here.

"The Crescents clearly outclassed the Marathons in the first game on Friday, while Marathons turned the tables on Saturday and won by the score of 9-4. The deciding game on Monday, was a good one, and resulted in a victory for the Crescents by a score of 3-2. It was not a victory in which the Crescents take an awful lot of glory, from the fact that the decisions of the umpire were at times a little off color. However, this was handed out on both sides, and the result of the series has been that the teams were evenly matched.

The Marathons made the games a little unpleasant by kicking, which seemed uncalled for, while the Crescents, while handicapped on account of the regular team not being together, took things as they came.

"The St. John papers tell a horrible story of how the last game was stolen, but these little things will happen, and sport is not helped any by crying over spilt milk."

At least two of the hockey players who figured prominently in the New Brunswick League last year have visited the city during the past week. It would not be surprising if some of the stars would line up on the city teams this winter.

TO BOX IN HALIFAX.

MAY BUILD FOUNDRY HERE.

W. S. Fisher of Emerson & Fisher said yesterday that his firm would for a certainty rebuild the Enterprise Foundry, but he could not say where. They had received offers from a number of towns offering inducements. St. John is under consideration for the purpose.

W. Selkirk Farris, of the Union Manufacturing & Packing Company, Salt Lake City, left for the west again last evening after a month's visit to his old home here. Mr. Farris said he believed New Brunswick had an encouraging future and that the province was a fine place to live in. He thought the people were the best in the world and the brotherly feeling so noticeable here was sadly lacking in the west.

Mr. Farris will return by way of Montreal, Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Kansas City.

Hon. John Morrisey, chief commissioner of public works, is at the Royal. He is here to attend the meeting of the government today. Tenders closed yesterday for Dunfield bridge, Kings county, and a contract will be awarded soon. After the meeting of the government, Hon. Mr. Morrissy will go on a tour of inspection in Gloucester, Northumberland or Westmorland counties.

RENFORTH DEATH RECALLED BY MARATHON

Vancouver Colonist Tells Again the Story of the Tragic Event on the Kennebeccasis.

(Victoria Colonist.)

The report of the death of Dorando, the Italian runner, (which later proved to be unfounded) must have recalled to a number of persons the tragic death of Renforth, the great oarsman from Newcastle-on-Tyne. At the Paris exposition held nearly forty years ago, a four-oared crew from St. John won the great regatta. Second in the race was the Newcastle crew, of which Renforth was stroke. He was the champion single scull of the world, and until the defeat of his crew at Paris his four had been unbeaten. When the world's championship was brought to St. John, Renforth issued a challenge to the St. John crew, and the race was rowed on the Kennebeccasis riven, a branch of the St. John, a short distance from the sea. The day before the race Renforth said to his men: "The boat that leads at Appleby's wharf going out will win the race." Appleby's wharf was a mile from the starting point. It was a beautiful race from the start to a few hundred yards from the wharf, the boats being even. Then the St. John boat began to move ahead, and Renforth said, 'Hit her up, boys," and leaned forward for a mighty effort. But although his men responded, the struggle was in vain. St. John crept ahead. The thousands on the shore and in craft of all kinds were wild with excitement, when suddenly Renforth threw up his hands and fell backwards. His comrades headed their shell towards the shore, and although the gallant oarsman's heart was beating when he was tenderly lifted from his seat, in a few minutes he was dead. Some said that his final effort was too great; others said that more depended upon the race than any one knew, and that when he saw it was lost his heart was broken. It was perhaps the saddest tragedy in the history of aquatics.

ARE ALL ATHLETES UNDER SUSPENSION

View Taken by Local Baseball Men of M. P. A. A. A. Suspension Order.

It is now claimed by local base ball players that the suspension order recently issued by the M. P. A. A. A. in connection with the baseball tangle or dispute has had a far more reaching effect that at first known, and that from stress of circumstances all the athletes that took part in the recent evening sports of the Every Day Club are under suspension. The trouble, they say, is on account of the participation of F. L. Greargon. Mr. Grearson played one game with the Marathon ball team, getting out of the bleachers one evening to help them out when they were short two men. The suspended ball players contend under the recent M. P. A. A. A. ruling, Mr. Grearson and a lot of good amateurs of the Every Day Club, Algonquins and Portland Y. M. A. have to suffer. As a consequence of this situation the question has been raised as to whether the time is now not opportune to grapple with the situation as to whether effort should be made to straighten matters out under present conditions or remain out and go with the Federation. T. A. Armour, chairman of the Athletic Board of the Portland Y. M. A., has suggested that a meeting of all the local clubs be called in his association's rooms at once, so that a decision might be arrived at.

The president of the Every Day Club has written the secretary of the M. P. A. A. A. to learn exactly how the situation stands.

KINGS COUNTY COURT

In the Kings County Court in the case of Abraham W. Day and Charles V. McBeath vs. Arthur Crandall, a verdict has been entered for the defendant.

In this case the plaintiffs had been hauling lumber for the defendant during the winter, and claim the balance due them of $191.87. A dispute arose between the parties as to the quantity of logs hauled. The plaintiffs immediately issued a ballable capias against the defendant in the Kings County Court for the recovery of the amount they claimed and at the same time procured an order from Judge Wedderburn (without disclosing the fact of the bailable capias) for the issue of the writ of attachment under the Woodmen's Lien Act, and sent the writ of attachment and capias to the sheriff of Kings county by the same mail, in the same envelope. The sheriff executed the capias, but before he could execute the writ of attachment, an application was made by Hanington & Hanington to rescind the order for the attachment with the writ and proceedings thereon, upon which a summons was granted by the judge with a stay of proceedings. After a lengthy enquiry, including the reading of fifteen affidavits, many of them being of great length, the plaintiffs having refused to attend for cross-examination (upon the affidavits) and upon hearing counsel for both parties, His Honor Judge Wedderburn rendered his decision in favor of the defendant, rescinding his order and setting aside the writ of attachment and proceedings thereunder with costs. R. G. Murray, plaintiffs' attorney; Hanington & Hanington, defendant's attornies.

THE BEVERIDGE CUP RACE

The Beveridge cup race to be sailed over the Millidgeville course on Saturday is expected to prove one of the most interesting yachting fixtures of the year. The entry of Hermes II, the Yarmouth boat, has greatly intensified the interest in this event, as she is expected to make it very lively for the local cracks.

Prices cut to lowest notch. There will be lengths of dress materials, wash goods, muslins, silks, odds in whitewear, waists, skirts, besides numerous bargains in smallware department. YACHTSMEN NEED ADDITONAL SPACE

R.K.Y.C. Members Will Tonight Consider Necessity of Securing More Yard Room at Millidgeville.

The quarterly meeting of the R. K. Y. C. will be held in their rooms, Germain street, this evening.

The most important question that will come up for consideration is the providing of more yard room at Millidgeville for hauling up the yachts. Of late, the position there has been cramped, and with the additional boats this year the yard will be crowded, in fact, so close together have the boats been placed previously, that it was almost impossible to paint some of them. For increasing the space it will of course be necessary to buy or lease more land, and this might prove the problem to solve.

Arrangements will also be completed for the mountain climbing trip to Bauld Mountain on Labor Day.

The fleet will go to Devil's Back or Brown's Flats, where the landing will be made. The drive will then be made for the mountain. After the top has been reached and a view of the surrounding country had, the return will be made to the yachts for the sail to Millidgeville.

In the absence of Commodore Thomson, Vice-Commodore Merrill will preside this evening.

IRISH AMERICANS WILL CUT OUT HALIFAX

Athletes Will Not Compete at the C. A. A. U. Athletic Meet in the Sister City.

The Irish-American athletes are taking part in the Federation annual sports at Montreal cutting out the C.A.A.U. meet at Halifax. "Sports" of the sister city has this to say:—

"J. B. Crooks, trainer of the Wanderers, has received word from E. W. Hertberg, trainer of the Irish-Americans, that their athletes are to compete in the annual sports of the Montreal Federation at Montreal and will cut out the C. A. A. U. Championships at Halifax. Lukeman, the crack sprinter of Montreal, being connected with the Federation will not compete here. It is probable that all the Olympic point winners of Canada will be here, as the Federation failed to capture a point in London."

DRIED FRUIT HIGHER

An Advance Announced in Prunes, Raisins and Apricots.

The California dried fruit market is advancing. There has been a half cent advance in prunes, raisins and apricots in the last few days. Saturday's New York Journal of Commerce says:

"The remarkable spectacle has been presented in the dried fruit situation, all the week past of a steady advance in prices without the slightest sign of activity in the demand. Such trading as has been noted has been only slightly influenced by prices, though there has been some disposition in certain quarters to suspect packers of trying to force the issue by bulling prices. The controversy as to the contract has been the chief stumbling block, Eastern buyers holding together very well in the determination to force the coast shippers to grant the buyers' terms in buying.

Still some trading has been reported, even on the coast contract, though it is whispered that such trading has been in consideration of concessions which were really more beneficial to the buyer than the extra cash discount and other considerations at issue in the contract. The situation is really somewhat critical, according to the coast advices, packers having been wary of making their contracts with the growers on account of the reticence of jobbing buyers. Now the grocers are "taking the bit in their teeth," forcing packers to pay high prices, in some instances above the prices at which packers sold their early futures. On the one hand, packers are said to stand to lose on their early futures contracts, and are stiff on present prices in the hope of getting out whole. Both buyers are fearful of high prices, both as a matter of past experience and because they fear that consumption may be curtailed by too high prices. What will result, therefore, when the contract difficulties are adjusted is a matter for interesting developments."

BOLD BURGLARY IN BLISSVILLE STORE

Blissville, Sunbury County, Aug. 2.—This community is aroused over a bold burglary which occurred on Wednesday night, when the general store of F. C. Taylor was entered and goods to the value of $50 carried away. A robbery of such a bold nature is unknown in this section and an effort will be made to bring the guilty parties to justice.

The thieves entered by means of a back window, breaking the glass and taking away the window fastener through the opening. The window is not more than forty feet from Mr. Taylor's residence but none in the house was aroused by the noise. Mrs. W. Y. Hoyt, a close neighbor, was awake shortly after 12 o'clock and heard the crash of glass but did not rise to investigate.

Entering the store the thieves broke open some boxes of fine shoes and a number of pairs of ladies' fine shoes were missed. They used wax candles and the shelves were daubed with melted wax. The money box was forced open and probably $2 was taken. Some difficulty was experienced in getting the till open as files, butcher knives and hatchets were left strewn about in profusion. A case of razors also lay on the floor.

Going up stairs, the midnight visitors looked over Mr. Taylor's stock of ready made clothing and selected several suits of the sizes 37 and 40 inches. The supply of candles had evidently given out as the floor was found covered with dozens of burned matches.

The bolt and bar were taken from the front door and the plunderers left the store wide open.

Mr. Taylor thinks he has a good idea who the guilty parties are and arrests will likely be made.

Rev. H. D. Marr, pastor of Queen square Methodist church, who is about to leave on his vacation was made the recipient yesterday of a purse of more than $100, the gift of his congregation. The presentation was made by R. Duncan Smith, at the close of a committee meeting in the office of A. B. Gilmour.

Speaking of his deep appreciation of the gift, Rev. Mr. Marr said last evening his only regret was that he would have no opportunity of expresing his thanks to the congregation in a more personal manner before leaving for his vacation.

FAILURE OF PARIS STRIKE WAS MORTAL BLOW TO UNION

Paris, Aug. 3.—The failure of the strike today taken in conjunction with the ending of the strike at Vigneux, the original cause of the trouble is generally interpreted here as a mortal blow to the General Labor Federation.

The workmen themselves are reported to be tired of supporting a tyrannical organization which they now realize is actuated more by political motives than for the well-being of the workmen. It is also said that the government is considering a plan for the dissolution of the body.

The federation has drawn up another violent poster which will be placarded tomorrow. It congratulates the workers on the success of the demonstration and warns the government that further "crimes" will be followed by a repetition of the strike.

UP-TO-TODAYNESS.

When the term "Up-to-date" is used, it is wise to question the date. For instance, some loose-leaf card and duplicating systems are ten to twenty years behind the times. This class of so-called up-to-date stationery is sold by publishing houses to business colleges. If you desire to be "up to today" in the latest systems, examine those now exclusively controlled by the Currie Business University, Ltd., which systems are being daily received from the largest offices in Canada, United States and Europe. You cannot be deceived, as the names of the firms are printed on the forms. Four or five new systems of cost accounting are now being introduced into St. John by experts. One St. John concern handles successfully over a thousand time-drafts a month without the aid of a bill-book. Ask any business college manager what he knows about these things, then call at the Public Service Offices of the Currie Business University for its side of the story. Be just to yourself—That's business.

A GOOD WORD TO MOTHERS.

M. R. A. Ltd. have an announcement in tonight's Times that will be of more than ordinary interest to parents. It is a story of halved prices on boys' soap-and-water suits, blouses, etc., for the three remaining months of warm sunshiny weather. Read the low prices.

Weak women should try Dr. Shoop's Night Cure. These soothing, healing, antiseptic suppositories go direct to the seat of these weaknesses. My "Book No. 4 For Women" contains many valuable hints to women, and it is free. Ask Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis., to mail it. Ask the Doctor in strictest confidence, any questions you wish answered. Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is sold by All Druggists.

The most expensive publication, with the least income, in New York city, is the city record, which will cost New York $1,174.500 this year.

LORD ROBERTS IS BETTER

Ottawa, Aug. 3.—(Special.)—Field Marshal Lord Roberts spent the day quietly at Government House. His only excursion beyond the grounds of Rideau Hall was a drive to the Central Experimental farm during the afternoon.

It has been arranged that Lord Roberts shall receive the South African veterans of the city and district, probably on Wednesday, and will also meet a deputation of the city council who will present him privately with the civic address. It is likely Lord Roberts will leave the capital for Quebec on Thursday afternoon. The rest and the enjoyable weather experienced since he arrived in Ottawa have greatly invigorated the distinguished soldier of the empire, and the ocean voyage home is expected to restore him completely to his wonted vigor.

Thomas Ellis

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 3.—Thomas Ellis, an operator in the office of Direct Cable Company, Halifax, became ill on the street today, and in a few minutes was dead. Heart disease is supposed to be cause of death, but he was not known to have been troubled with this previously.

Ellis was a native of Wales and came to Halifax from Torr Bay Station, twenty-five years ago. He was 49 years old and leaves a widow, a well known singer, and six children.

well-known yacht owner said one night recently as he ate some very rich and fragrant turtle soup:—

"This soup reminds me of something that happened to my old friend, Captain Jeremiah Gotschalk, of the brig Scud.

"Captain Gotschalk and his first mate were doing London. On a fine summer morning they walked in the Row and saw the fashionable horsebacking; they strolled in Piccadilly, where all the great clubs are; they looked over the guns and men's things in Bond street; and lastly, they got hungry.

"For lunch they entered a smart-looking restaurant. A maid in a white cap took their order. The things in the little restaurant were rather cheaper than they had expected. Still, that was all the better, providing the quality was good.

"In a few minutes the maid put two plates of thin, transparent fluid with a somewhat salty taste before Captain Gotschalk and his mate.

"The mate tasted it and coughed.

"'Put a name to this, Cap'n, will ye?' said he.

"Captain Gotschalk tried a spoonful, and then beckoned the waitress to him.

"'What might ye call this here, my lass?' says he, lifting a spoonful and letting it fall back into the plate.

"'Soup, sir,' says the waitress.

"'Soop,' cried Captain Gotschalk.

"'Yes, ignorance,' the waitress answered flushing up.

"The captain turned to the mate.

"'Soop!' he said, 'Soop! By tar, Bill, just think o' that. Here's you and me been sailin' on soop all our lives and never knowed it till now.'"

James A. Belyea, formerly driver of No. 1 engine company and now a member of the San Francisco police force is in the city on a visit. Mr. Belyea went away nearly twenty years ago but is well remembered by many friends here and he is enjoying the renewal of friendships. He is at the Victoria.

PROGRESS OF SIX YEARS

Wall Street Journal Sees Much Ground for Cheerfulness in the Record.

The Wall Street Journal of New York has made an admirable catalogue of the "gains of the last six years in the processes of trade and the administration of business," the chief of which are:

A most remarkable extension of publicity in the departments of transportation and industry.

The abolition of the railroad pass.

The doing away of most of the evil of rebating and secret discriminations.

The exposure of corrupt alliances between designing corporations and political bribe-takers and blackmailers.

A notable advance in the direction of reform of the evil of campaign contributions.

Equality of opportunity has been widened and strengthened by legislation intended to prevent unfair competition.

The danger of a too powerful financial concentration has been met by creating an adequate sovereign in the federal government for the great inter-state corporations.

A notable advance has been made in the standards of trusteeship.

The administration of the great insurance companies has been reformed.

For the first time in the history of the New York money market, a comprehensive weekly statement of banking conditions has been established, giving to New York a pre-eminence in this respect over every other international market, and thus laying the foundations for the building here of the world's biggest money reservoir.

A wonderful extension of temperance, so that a large section of the country is now under laws prohibiting or strictly limiting the sale of liquor.

The South has undergone what amounts to an industrial birth with enormous possibilities in prospect.

There has been a stupendous electrical expansion.

The steel car is replacing the old wooden car, and gradually the steel or cement tie is taking the place of the wooden tie.

A powerful movement for the improvement of the national waterways and the prevention of the wastes of the natural resources.

In agriculture there has been a marked advance in the selection of seeds, thus making for a greater production, while irrigation is steadily adding thousands of acres to the productive lands of the country.

Wireless telegraphy has been made a commercial fact, thus adding to the facilities for communication.

Laws have been enacted to prevent the adulteration of drugs and foods, thus promoting the health of the people.

The value of combination as a method of preventing the waste of competition has been more generally recognized at the same time that the courts, legislators and executives have enforced measures for the prevention of oppressive monopoly.

This list is a fair and convenient summary of our most definite steps forward, which prepare us not only for a renewal of prosperity, but for a wiser use of it. These things all make for "good business." They make also for good character. To this list may be added:

The very much more scientific and therefore more effective management of philanthropy.

The rapid change in education and its rapid growth, whereby the practical needs of the young are more directly provided for—the better training of the workers of society.

The rebound in public sentiment from mob judgments and from "muck-rake" methods of reform.

The solving of the problem of aerial travel—in its first stages at least. Even if the commercial stage of flying machines has not yet been reached, their present advancement is a strong influence for peace.

The vastly increased importance of the United States among the powers, and especially the practical cessation, largely through our influence, of revolutions in Central and South America, and the coming of stable government there

The very strength of the peace sentiment of the world and the growing hold of international arbitration on all civilized governments.

The list might be further extended, but these changes are enough to make any man cheerful who looks out on the world with a balanced judgment.
