Letter From Louis McMenamin, Who is With Signallers — Tells of St. John Soldiers

A letter received yesterday by Thomas McMenamin, of Spar Cove Road, from his son, Corp. Louis McMenamin, from France, tells of his being still in good health and gives an interesting description of recent events with his unit, No. 2 Signal Section, 1st In-

LOCAL NEWS

ON PILGRIMAGE

A special car attached to the Ocean Limited, leaving the city at 11:30 this morning, carried quite a number of passengers for St. Anne de Beaupre, on an annual pilgrimage to the shrine there. The number was not so great as in previous years, though others will join the party at points along the line.

FOR THE RED CROSS

A pie social and concert will be held at Perry Point on Saturday evening, July 10, entire proceeds to be donated to the Red Cross. Fred Yeomans has kindly provided his motor boat to take any one desiring to go from Hampton. Boat will leave the village at 8:30 p. m. S. C. Matthews will take part in the concert, and auction the pies.

TO TAKE COURSE

John H. Gale of the teaching staff of the St. John High School, has come to Halifax to take a course of instruction with the intention of qualifying for the rank of captain in the militia. He has held the rank of lieutenant in the infantry from his connection with a regiment while he was residing in Victoria, B. C.

CAUGHT A PORCUPINE

A young porcupine ventured too far from the woods about Seaside Park last night and daylight this morning found him still quite a distance from shelter. The little animal was chased by some of the residents there, and finally caught by being driven into a shed by Mrs. M. Allan and Miss Margaret Allan. Their intention is to have the animal given to Rockwood Park.

ST. JOHN TO HAVE HOME FOR AGED MEN

Incorporators Meet and Choose L. R. Ross President

WILL CONDITIONS WAIVED

Bequest of $5,000 Left by Colonel Tucker Made Available and Now in Bank Earning Interest — The Officers and Directors

At a recent session of the legislature an act was passed incorporating a Home for Aged Men in St. John. At a meeting held yesterday at the office of Judge J. H. Armstrong, the persons incorporated proceeded to organize. They adopted a constitution and by-laws, and elected officers as follows: — Lewden R. Ross, president; Edward L. Rising, vice-president; Frank B. Ellis, treasurer; William C. Jordan, secretary. A finance committee consists of the president, the treasurer, Judge J. H. Armstrong, W. Shires Fisher and Theodore H. Estabrooks. Those, together with the following, were elected directors: — John Sealy, Joseph Allison, Alexander P. Barnhill, Miles E. Agar, William E. Earle, Martin G. Teed, Gerson S. Mayes, Percy W. Thomson, Manning W. Doherty and Frank H. Fawcett. It was resolved to make ordinary membership $5 annual fee; life membership, one payment of $100. The annual meeting is to be held on the first Wednesday in February.

Mr. Ross, the executor of the late Colonel Tucker's estate, asks the meeting under Colonel Tucker's will the sum of $5,000 had been left for the Old Men's Home conditionally upon four individuals contributing a like sum within three years from the death of the testator, but that Mr. Ross, desiring not to take advantage of this restriction, had already deposited that sum in a chartered bank on interest, intending to hand it over as soon as the association should be organized.

On motion it was resolved that the hearty thanks of the association be extended to Mr. Ross for his generous waiver of all conditions which might have rendered the legacy void, and that the sum be gratefully accepted. While, in consequence of the war, it is not probable that immediate effort will be made to raise a sum sufficient to proceed with the work, still sums which may be offered will be most thankfully accepted, and it is felt that with this first sum of $5,000 as a nucleus, the fund will soon grow. It is hoped that generous disposed persons may remember this institution, either in the near future or when drawing their testamentary dispositions.

MAY BE POSTHUMOUS HEIR FOR VANDERBILT

Friends of Lusitania Victim's Widow Say Interesting Event Will Occur in the Autumn

New York, July 6.—Among friends of Mrs. Alfred Vanderbilt, it is whispered an interesting event will take place some time in the autumn. At Lenox, where she is spending the season, it is understood preparations are under way for the expected event.

In case of the birth of a posthumous child a re-arrangement of the estate left by one of the victims of the sinking of the Lusitania may be necessary.

In his will Mr. Vanderbilt made these stipulations:—

"In the event that I leave surviving me but one son of my said wife, Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself, then I direct that all my said real-estate be held by the said executors in trust as aforesaid for such surviving son."

"If I leave surviving me daughters or a daughter issue of my said wife Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself, I give and bequeath to my said executors, securities from the personal property which I may own sufficient for the purpose to hold $2,000,000 in cash or in trust for such surviving daughter."

"I give, devise and bequeath all the residue of my estate to the executors to divide the same into as many equal shares as I shall have sons, issue of my said wife, Margaret Emerson Vanderbilt and myself surviving me, and to hold one of such shares in trust for each of our said sons."

FEW LETTERS IN FROM THE 26TH

Hundreds Written But Held Up For Censorship

HAD GOOD VOYAGE ACROSS

First Part Rough and Sea-Sickness Overcame Many — Last Days Ideal and "Water as Smooth as the St. John"—Caribbean Picked up by Torpedo Boat Destroyer

Eager mothers and members of the families of the men of the 26th Battalion and the Divisional Ammunition Column, awaiting letters from sons, brothers and husbands, must wait a few days longer.

The English mail brought a few welcome envelopes, but the greater proportion of the letters have been delayed because of the requirements of the censor, and that meant the missing of a mail.

A very few got through all right, chiefly those of officers. Hundreds of letters had been written by the men, but there were instructions to leave them open, so that they could be looked over to see that all written was in consonance with the military regulations. There was not time to comply with this essential and take advantage of the first west-bound mail, so there were hundreds of the letters which had to wait for later passage across the Atlantic. When they come, however, they will be welcome, for in many homes the postman's knock is eagerly awaited.

Naturally, with their loved ones at the war, fathers, mothers and all are anxious to learn from their loved ones, chiefly to learn that they are well and, so far at least, safe in the midst of dangers.

The letter-carrier never was such a man of importance, or never was so eagerly looked for as he is today. "Now," said one of the other day, as the carrier came, "I was answered, 'don't scold me any more. Here's a letter for you from the front.' Smiles all round and then the mother joyously hurried in to see how the dear one away had been faring."

From Captain May

A letter to a friend came from Capt. F. May of C Company, 26th. He wrote that on the first three days of the voyage of the Calcedonia from Halifax, the weather was very rough and nearly all the men of his company, not excluding himself, were more or less seasick. But made up for the earlier portion, for the weather was delightful, so much so that the decks were used by many for sleeping. The food was good and abundant, and in all they were well pleased with the Calcedonia.

The day's routine on board was: — Turn out at six o'clock; breakfast at seven; free time till ten, then muster parade and physical drill until a quarter after eleven; dinner at noon; parade drill, supper served at five o'clock, and lights were out at nine.

On the day on which Captain May wrote, the Calcedonia was in the danger zone and a close lookout for submarines was being kept. The weather was perfect. On the previous day, whales, porpoises and sharks had been seen, and naturally had created great interest.

Just as Captain May was writing, H. M. S. torpedo boat destroyer Misanda came along and acted as convoy for the rest of the voyage to Plymouth, which port they expected to reach on the next morning. Captain May said the health of his men had been excellent. He added a word of glowing interest over the great send-off given the troops on leaving St. John.

A letter received from Walter Dennison of the Divisional Ammunition Column told of a most enjoyable trip.

BRITISH SUBMARINE LAUNCHED AT QUINCY

New York, July 6.—With but little ceremony the submarine H-13, constructed by the Fore River Company at Quincy and intended for Great Britain, was launched. She is the first of ten submarines built for England to be shipped after the war.

President Charles M. Schwab, for whom the launching had been postponed for several days, was on hand. Mrs. Erick N. Ewertz, the sponsor of the ship, officially christened her H-13, breaking a bottle of champagne over the bow.

After the launching Mrs. Ewertz received a diamond ring from the company under whose plans the plunger was built.

NO OTHER STORE IN ST. JOHN CAN MATCH THE OAK HALL $20.00 SUITS
For Men and Young Men

Because this clothing store of ours retails at one profit over cost of making, you are able to buy the best clothing obtainable at decidedly less than you'd have to pay in any other store.

Take these $20 suits as a basis of comparison. Examine the fabrics, the linings, the tailoring on the outside. And the materials and workmanship used on the inside. Then compare them with what you'll find in suits sold elsewhere at $25, or, for that matter, you can extend the comparison to other stores' $28 suits.

You will find that our suits at $20 are equal or superior at every point to the suits costing $5 to $8 more at other stores.

Are you going to pay this excess profit, or are you going to investigate for yourself the unmatched opportunities afforded by the Oak Hall Clothing Store?

Today's as good a time as any other to do the investigating, and you can't find a better example for the purpose than these $20 suits.

Of course, the same advantages apply to all our clothing. You are sure of getting the best and paying the least for it, no matter what you choose in Oak Hall clothes.

Up-to-Date Furniture!

WE ARE taking advantage of the wonderful values offered by the manufacturers, at a time when they are willing to turn out goods at little or no profit in order to keep their factories running, and so have a stock limited only by the capacity of our store. There never were better values in furniture than we are offering at the present time, and never as large or as well assorted a stock in St. John to choose from. In every department it is most complete, and the person who purchases an outfit without at least visiting our store, is taking a chance of regretting it later on. Call and judge for yourself.
