

SUMMER UNION CHURCH PLAN IS BROUGHT TO END

Large Attendance Marks Resuming of Service in Own Churches

REV. J. S. BONNELL SPEAKS OF BALLOT

Rev. J. Dunlop Begins New Pastorate—St. David's Hall

All of the city congregations which had united for the summer months met separately yesterday and for many of the Sunday schools was the season's formal reopening. There were large congregations and large attendances at the Sunday schools. In many of the church buildings renovations and improvements had been made during the vacation time.

In St. Andrew's Kirk very extensive renovations have been carried out. The spire had been completely re-roofed and the whole of the front of the building had been repointed with red cement. In addition the whole interior had been redecorated in buff, cream and gold and the work had been carried out under the direction of Miss Louise Wetmore of Clifton, who was formerly of Columbia University, interior decoration school. The new scheme of decoration brings out more fully the distinctive features of the architecture of the church which are on the lines of 14th century Gothic. The choir loft has been enlarged giving a seating capacity of from 36 to 40 and the left has a new paneled wall of walnut and ash of the same design that will be on the new organ case when that instrument is installed. The members of the congregation were greatly pleased with the much enhanced appearance of the church. In his morning sermon Rev. Mr. Bonnell referred to the beginning of St. Andrew's church here and paid a tribute to the loyalty of the present congregation. In the evening he spoke on matters affecting the Dominion election.

He made a strong appeal for recognition of the sacredness of the polling booth and the ballot and stated that the saddest sight in the world was men and women made in the image of God selling themselves like sheep and oxen and bartering away the priceless privilege of free people. Mr. Bonnell stated that a party newspaper had come to him in the mail filled with vituperation and stinging invective against the opposing party and he asked if the day would ever come when politicians and partisan presses would realize that a man might hold a differing opinion without being either a rogue or a fool. But that Mr. Bonnell stated that it would help to restore the people's faith in political parties if there was some recognition of the honesty and integrity of their political opponents.

The prophet had received a call to service, Mr. Bonnell said, and had offered his life as a prophet and a statesman. Mr. Bonnell contrasted Isaiah's self-effacement with the many speeches in parliament intended merely to catch votes. He stated also that a man had come to him more confused and puzzled after having heard the political speeches and said that he thought it better not to vote at all. But that would leave the government of the country to the bootlegger who would be sure to vote. Mr. Bonnell said that at least it was possible to know the man for whom the vote was to be cast and be sure that he was a man of Christian character and integrity. If a church member voted for a man whose life and influence was directed against the Kingdom of God he should not repeat the Lord's prayer. Thy Kingdom come, as that would be unpardonable blasphemy.

BEGINS PASTORATE

Rev. James Dunlop entered upon his pastorate of the Charlotte street Baptist church yesterday and large congregations were present both morning and evening to hear his messages and extend a hearty welcome. He delivered forceful sermons and also made a special announcement to his flock. He stated that he did not wish the pulpit or church to be a vaudeville or picture show or concert room. It would be a school of Christ for bible exposition and a temple of God for worship. He had the joy of sharing the fellowship of the ministers of West Saint John and did not purpose trying to build up any branch of the work at the expense of any other church. He would rather go down to defeat than steal sheep from other men's pastures. The church was very beautifully decorated with flowers and a full choir of 20 voices led the singing. In the morning Mr. Dunlop took for his text Hebrews 13:15, and his theme was "The Christ of Today." He said it was the historic Christ who had blessed little children, healed the sick and comforted the bereaved, but the historic Christ could become the Christ of experience today. What Christ had done that He could do and faith could transfer the historic Christ into immediate life and experience. In the evening Mr. Dunlop took for his text 1 Timothy 1:11, his theme being "The Gospel of Today." That gospel, he said, was of a happy God suited to the present day. It was glorious in history and glorious in experience and cast a halo of glory around the future.

AT ST. DAVID'S

Rev. Hugh Miller, pastor of St. David's church, occupied his own pulpit again after his vacation yesterday at both morning and evening services. He was welcomed by good congregations. In the morning his subject was the essentials of religion. In the evening he spoke of living on the heights. "It was a challenge to live the life for which we were created," he said. "In every soul there is a recognition of the good, and a divine urge prompting us to attain it. All progress is the result of striving after the best, that which we have not already attained. It is the secret of civilization as seen in discovery, knowledge and a spiritual life. We may live on the heights of love, service and sacrifice, or on the lower plains where they in their magnitude and power are not realized. Christ has revealed the heights, calls us to it."

The minister stated that he had hoped to be able to state the date of the dedication of the new Sunday school memorial hall but unfortunately it was not possible to do so. He hoped to make it next Sunday. The work is rapidly progressing. The hall will be the largest in the city and the most modern equipped church hall in Canada. There will be an up-to-date stage for young people's work, ladies' parlors, badminton courts, gallery, a modern appointed kitchen. It will be one of the finest memorials erected by any church since the war.

RECTOR'S STALL IS DEDICATED

A rector's stall, a very handsome piece of workmanship, was dedicated in St. Jude's church at the morning service yesterday by Rev. J. H. A. Holmes, the rector. It has been presented to the church by Mrs. T. Albert Linton, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Amour Court, who died last March. Mrs. Linton also presented a nicely bound prayer book as part of the memorial gift.

EMBER DAY SUNDAY.

Ember Day Sunday was observed in the Anglican churches of the city yesterday and special prayers for the clergy and for those who are studying to enter the ministry were offered. Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of this week will also be observed as Ember days.

HOLY TRINITY MISSION

A two weeks' mission for the congregation of Holy Trinity parish opened last night when the first mission sermon for the women was preached and the church was thronged with a deeply reverent congregation. The mission is being conducted by Franciscans from the New York House of the Order, Father Daniel and Father Paul. The mission for the women will continue throughout this week with services each morning at 8:30 and 8 o'clock and each evening at 8:30.

MEIGHENS PLANS.

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 12.—An announcement was made here that Premier Arthur Meighen will not speak in Montreal tonight, as was expected, but will deliver his final appeal to the voters in Coburg, this evening.

At the start both crews got away on even terms and the spectators witnessed one of the best fights seen in Saint John for many years. The crews were very even down the course and rowed towards the western shore for smoother water. When off Sand Point the Halifax crew had a very slight lead but found worthy opponents in the McGinnis crew, who were rowing strong and were doing wonders in an old unsuitable boat, being much too light for such heavy men.

INGRAHAM WINS ROSS CUP RACE FROM A. BELVEA

When the two boats finished the race the McGinnis crew were right along with the visitors and when passing Navy Island were on even terms. It was a wonderful rowing battle to witness and the excitement was keen. When about 800 yards from the finish line the McGinnis crew appeared to have a slight lead over the visitors, but when six or eight lengths from the finish line the McGinnis crew put all they had in a spurt and crossed the line only one quarter of a length ahead, the bow of the McGinnis boat being even with the bow oarsman of the winning crew. The time for the race was 10 minutes 3 seconds.

ON THE RANGES

J. T. Downey, with a score of 100, won the "A" class spoon at the weekly spoon shoot held by the City Rifle Club on the range Saturday. F. Boyaner was awarded the "B" class spoon. An unsavory fight at 600 yards and a fairly strong wind during the evening made conditions only fair.

On next Saturday the City Rifle Club will send a team to Sussex to defend the Moncton Challenge Shield at a shoot there. Saturday's scores follow:
