MISS COATES TELLS OF V. O. N. MEETING

Only University Graduates to be Eligible for Executive Positions.

Miss Dora E. Coates, superintendent of the local Victorian Order of Nurses, has arrived home after attending a V. O. N. conference in Ottawa. She said that it was decided to adopt a new nursing manual for Canada. The details of the new manual were taken up at the conference, section by section, and the only thing remaining before it will become effective is its sanction by the members of the board of executive. Miss Coates said that it was expected that this approval would be secured soon.

Another matter decided at the conference was to have only university graduates eligible for executive positions. All members of the order must be graduates of nursing schools of good standing, but the university course is demanded now for executive positions.

There were 46 delegates at the conference and they were well entertained by the members of the Ottawa board. Lady Borden and Mrs. Reford gave luncheons to the delegates at the Chateau Laurier. The doctors in the city joined their automobiles to take the visitors for a tour around the capital. A reception was given the delegates by Miss Elizabeth Smellie, chief superintendent of the V. O. N. for Canada.
