However, after an absence of two months, full of interest but also of varied and intense activity. I can assure you that great as has been the welcome extended everywhere in Britain and the cordiality of the hospitality of the Old Land, there is no joy equal to that of being again at home, and sharing once more the daily life of one's fellow citizens.

"It would be impossible at the moment of landing to give any review of the many events incidental to the conference or even of the more salient."

the many events incidental to the conference or even of the more sallent features of those very important gatherings. Such a review must await a more favorable place and time. Out of the great mass of impressions gained amid the quite exceptional opportunities the conference afforded, and which necessarily more or less envelop one's thought, there are one or two observations which it is possible to make which I believe are not without significance to the people of our country. Canada Is Fortunate.

"The first is, how singularly fortunate we in Canada are compared to the peoples of Europe and the British Isles. Indeed, having in mind the review of world affairs as gained at the conferences, I should be inclined to say, compared with any other people on the face of the globe. There is no denying the fact that throughout the world, conditions are most unsettled. world, conditions are most unsettled.
In Europe there is the greatest unrest;
hatreds are rife as between nations and classes, suspicions and jealousies are giving rise to the creation of fresh enmities and new fears; there appears to be neither certainty nor stability

The coal handlers and the Dominion Coal Company had not arrived at any agreement this morning. They met yesterday afternoon and discussed the matter of wages and conditions very fully, but failed to agree on a scale. After the meeting the Dominion Coal Company forwarded a request to the Minister of Labor, Ottawa, for a board of conciliation.
