Abandoned Farms and an Empty School House Where Once Were Thirty-Five Pupils—Fine Opportunities for Market Gardening—Steamer Service Should Be Improved—A Game Country Near at Hand—Great Local Market

A member of the Times staff who has spent the week-ends during the summer at Public Landing gained some information concerning farms and farming along the river within fifteen miles of the city, which may be of considerable interest to readers generally. One fact stands out clearly, and it is that the farmers are not getting anything like the fullest returns from the soil, and that the area under cultivation is very small compared with that which might be profitably used for fruit raising, market gardening and general farming purposes. One of the greatest difficulties, it is said, is that of getting satisfactory help, but even with the help that is available a good deal more produce could be raised if all the owners of the land set themselves seriously to the task of getting the best out of their farms...

MARRIAGE IN GERMANY

Guarding Against Hostile Demonstration Against Ex-King Proved Unnecessary—Prince of Wales Represented King George

(Canadian Press)
St. Gallen, Germany, Sept. 3.—Manuel, former King of Portugal, was married here today to Princess Augusta, the Victoria daughter of Prince William of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, former Archbishop of Lisbon, who conducted the religious ceremony and by Count August von Stolberg, grand marshal of the Prussian court, who presided over the civil function. The religious rites began at half-past eleven in the Catholic parish church, where the king and queen, with the bride and groom, were seated in the choir. The bride passed from the palace to the church, was spanned with arches covered with light-blossoms, and along both sides were drawn up lines of soldiers and school children. The little capital of the Principality of Hohenzollern had made every effort to render itself attractive for the occasion, although it was understood that the marriage was to be celebrated in as quiet a manner as possible, owing to the political situation. A gate of honor was erected at the railroad station, where all the royal guests were met by military escorts, which accompanied them to the palace. At the same time, a strict watch was kept on all strangers arriving here, because it was thought by the police that an attempt might be made on the life of the former king. Nothing, however, in the way of a manifestation against the exiled monarch, marked the occasion. (Continued on page 7, fourth column.)

MASONS' GIFT TO PRINCE ARTHUR

Three Hundred Guineas Voted For Wedding Present

PLANS FOR ROYAL MARRIAGE

Few Guests in Chapel Royal Outside Family Circle—New Home to Be Ready by First Week of December

(Canadian Press)
London, Sept. 4.—The Grand Free Masons Lodge of England, under the presidency of Lord Ampthill, last night adopted a motion that the sum of 300 guineas be taken from the funds of the grand lodge, to be voted for the purpose of presenting a suitable gift to Prince Arthur of Connaught on the occasion of his marriage with H. R. H. The Duchess of Fife. No ceremonial programme for the royal wedding has yet been prepared. Proceeding will very largely govern the ceremony, which will be on the lines of the wedding of the king and queen. There will be very few guests beyond the actual family circle, and even then the limited accommodation at the Chapel Royal will be quite sufficiently taxed. The Duke of Devonshire has been asked to purchase a residence in Mount Street, which Prince Arthur of Connaught purchased from the Earl of Plymouth. The orders are that the house must be ready by the first week in December. The name of the Duke of Fife is personally attending to the furnishing, the decorations and other details. The key of the whole is simplicity. The Prince of Wales, whose hobby is modelling and metal work, is preparing beautiful gifts for the bride. Prince Arthur's bride has proposed a dinner party housewarming, to be attended by the royals in London, headed by the king, Queen Mary, Queen Alexandra and Empress Maria of Russia. SOME CARS IN USE FOR LAST FIFTY-ONE YEARS

New Haven Wreck to Lead To Greater Precautions

COMMISSION'S PLANS

Inquiry Into State of Pullman Equipment—Secret Inquest Opened at New Haven Today by Coroner Mix

(Canadian Press)
Washington, Sept. 4.—Evidence became stronger yesterday that the Wallingford wreck on the New Haven railroad will result in legislation for the protection of passengers on the railroads of the United States. This slaughter by the railroads must stop and we are going to see that nothing comes out of this wreck besides publicity," was the comment of Interstate Commerce Commissioner Michael, who has charge of the enquiry into the New Haven disaster. As a one of the first steps in this general enquiry, the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday called on the Pullman company to submit a statement showing the number of cars of wood and steel construction in its entire service. In speaking of what may be done to safeguard the life of passengers as a result of this wreck, Commissioner Michael said: "We will, before this is ended, investigate the entire question of comparative cost of steel and wooden cars, their respective life and service, the capacity of the country's manufacturers to turn them out and other details. I understand that the cost of the steel car is about one third more than that of a wooden car of like capacity, but we have not been in vogue long enough to give an accurate answer to the question of their lifetime of service. On the New Haven, though, we have found cars of wooden construction, that have been in use since 1862." "Neither do we know how long cars of each type will last, or which is the cheaper in the long run. My understanding is that the steel cars have not been in vogue long enough to give an accurate answer to the question of their lifetime of service. On the New Haven, though, we have found cars of wooden construction, that have been in use since 1862." Secret Inquest Begun New Haven, Conn., Sept. 4.—The formal inquest into the wreck which cost the lives of twenty-one passengers, began behind closed doors this morning in the office of Coroner Mix. The facts of the case were given in public by the state attorney as a basis for criminal prosecution, should they warrant such action. All the passengers and publicans of these facts might prejudice the state's case, and the interest of justice required that the coroner should hold the inquest in secret. The condition of five of the injured who were brought to the hospital this morning, as still critical. All the bodies of the bodies of those killed have been sent to their homes. REPRISALS ON BULGARIANS

Villages Burned and Peopled Are Slaughtered—Of 1,200 Prisoners in One Case, All But 41 Killed—One Writes of Slaying 14 Himself

(Canadian Press)
Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 4.—In order to prove that Greek soldiers were responsible for some atrocities against the Bulgarians in the fighting last July between Bulgaria and her former allies, Greece, Serbia, and Montenegro—there have been made public in Sofia extracts from letters written by Greek soldiers and officers to friends at home. These letters were captured in a mail bag of the 10th regiment of the 70th Greek division by Bulgarian troops in the vicinity of Raslog. They have been given out by the Bulgarian telegraphic agency in pamphlet form. Each letter is printed in facsimile of the original Greek, followed by a translation in French, which gives the dates and the names signed to each communication. The first letter is dated July 11 and is printed in facsimile of the original Greek, followed by a translation in French, which gives the dates and the names signed to each communication. "We have burned all the villages abandoned by the Bulgarians. They burned the Greek villages and we the Bulgarian villages. They massacred, we massacred, and the murderer has operated against every member of this dishonest nation who has fallen into our hands. Out of 1,200 prisoners that we took at Nigrita, only forty-one remained in prison, and everywhere we went we have left behind us a trail of blood." Another letter from a sergeant says: "We burned the two villages of Doulou and Sinitza, and put everything to the bayonet on the flames, making exception only of women, children and old people, and churches. We did this without pity and without grace." A third letter, dated Nerio River, July 12, says: "Here at Vrondon I captured five Bulgarians and a girl from Serres. We shut them up in the police station. The girl was killed, but the Bulgarians also suffered. When they were still alive, we gouged out their eyes." This letter is signed Costi. Another Greek soldier named Panaghis Beglikis writes to his brother under date of July 16 as follows: "The Greek army is burning wherever it finds a Bulgarian village, and is massacring all those which it overtakes. Things are happening which it is impossible to express. God knows where this business will end." A very brief extract from the letter of Nico Theophilatos sent to Demetris Chr. Tsigaridis at Mexistada under date of July 11, Nico writes: "They gave me sixteen prisoners to take to division headquarters, and I turned in only two. The others were lost in the darkness, massacred by myself." This last letter bears the seal of the 7th regiment. The first of October, when the hot season is first over, Miss Mason remained with Miss Clarke at Vishnagar. She also wrote that the general conference, which meets twice a year, was held in July at Cochrane. A large number of missionaries were present. The board yesterday expressed appreciation of a generous gift from King and Mrs. Miss Bessie King of Chipman and Mrs. Mand King of Montreal who recently donated $1,200 each for the erection of a residence for the surgeons and nurses at Chicocote, in the Quebec district. The residence is being erected in memory of their deceased brother and will be known as the Frank C. King memorial building.

Paving Contracts Are Awarded

Matter of Alleged Discrimination Disposed of—More Band Concerts—Conference on Street Railway Extension—City Bonds For Our Own People

Contracts for laying the permanent paving on the south side of King square and in Queen street were awarded to the Warren Bitulithic Company, and to George & Moses, respectively, at an adjourned meeting of the commission which was held this morning. Inquiries were made regarding the reports that a discrimination among the contractors by quoting a price for the surface work for coal was awarded to the City Paving Company, and the payment of bills for fire apparatus, totalling $800.00, was authorized. Besides His Worship, Commissioners Wignore, Agar and McLellan and the common clerk were present. The council was called to order at 11:30 o'clock and went into committee of the whole. Commissioner Agar submitted a statement showing the cost of the complete paving on the south side of King square, including estimated cost of surface paving. The various tenders were figured out as follows: A. R. Clark & Son, $7,166.00; G. & M., $7,882.00; Warren Bitulithic Co., $6,028.00; Louis Corey, $6,988.00; George & Moses, $6,712.00. A. R. Clark & Son, $6,801.00; Warren Bitulithic Co., $6,788.00; Louis Corey, $6,801.00; George & Moses, $6,801.00. Commissioner Agar moved acceptance of the tender of the Warren company for King square, and Michael George for Queen street, explaining that he recommended Warren Brothers in the first case as the area desirable because their work would induce them to keep their plant and their crew here. Commissioner McLellan, in seconding the resolution, asked if any inquiry had been made into rumors that Warren Brothers had furnished estimates for laying the top surface to certain contractors to the exclusion of others. He did not believe the story, as all his inquiries showed that the work was done by Warren Bitulithic Co. (Continued on page 10, fourth column.)

POPE AGAIN INDISPOSED

Illness Slight, But Something Like That of Last Spring

POPE AGAIN INDISPOSED

Rome, Sept. 4.—Pope Pius X is again suffering from a slight indisposition, somewhat similar to the serious illness through which he passed last spring. A doctor in the Vatican it is said that his present trouble is due to a cold, but it has brought on hoarseness, headache, and a slightly rising temperature, and the Vatican physicians have suggested a complete rest. His Holiness, however, insists upon keeping engagements he had made for today, and he received in audience Cardinal Ferrari of Milan, who headed a body of Milanese pilgrims. The Pope afterwards appeared before the pilgrims themselves and welcomed them to Rome. The general condition of the Pope is good, according to the doctors today. They think that, although he is troubled by an occasional cough and some catarrh, he will be able easily to overcome the affection and will be assisted in this by the favorable climatic conditions now prevailing.
