AN AGED RESIDENT of Derby, Roland Crocker, Esq. died on Sunday last. He was one of the early settlers of the Miramichi, having come here from St. Stephen over sixty years ago. He was a Justice of the Peace and until prevented by old age took a prominent part in County affairs.

MR. LAWLER.—We have no doubt the many friends of Mr. W. Lawler, the contractor of the Parliament Buildings, and also of the additional wing to the Asylum at St. John, will be pleased to learn that he is about to commence the brick work on the latter contract in a couple of days; and we trust he will meet every success.—The Capital.

GOOD PIGEON FLYING.—It was stated the other day that Mr. F. W. Kaye had sent 9 of his Antwerp Homing pigeons to Widdford, Kent County, to be "set up." The flight home was a very hard one being over a long stretch of New Country. Four of them returned and one was caught in Moncton. Three of the birds were out this morning by a gentleman in Newcastle, and one has already returned having covered 169 miles. A this season's bird has flown 86 miles—which is very good for a young homer.—St. John Globe.

HIS LORDSHIP, THE METROPOLITAN visited Miramichi, on Saturday last, and was received at Chatham Junction and was received by a number of the Churchmen of the parish of Chatham, who escorted him to Bathville, where he was the guest of His Honor Judge Wilkinson. He preached at both of the services in St. Mary's on Sunday. Yesterday, he proceeded to Baie des Vents, where he held Confirmation service. He goes North to-day.

THE REGATTA. There seems to be a desire among the people here to attend to the proposed Regatta, that it come off about the middle of September, instead of on the 6th, as at first proposed. It is decided that the event shall take place at Bushville and the programme will be about as follows:—

The People vs. the Clergy.

Some of our friends have informed us that certain of the gentlemen who composed the Langevin reception committee, have been turning up their high-toned noses over a report that certain citizens, not rich in this world's goods, were at the Liberal meeting of last Thursday night in Chatham, and had their say in the proceedings with others of the party of more means or different social condition. If it is any source of gratification to these critics to have the privilege of sneering at their fellow-citizens, because they are not all merchants and professional men, let them enjoy it as long as they are foolish enough to do so. The Liberals differ from them in their ideas of these things, knowing that our public men, when they come to see the people like to feel that their reception is from all classes. The hearty welcome of the laborer is of much more value than the interested compliment of the mere political partisan, who generally "an axe to grind."

It is only by a combination of all classes of citizens that a reception worthy of the name can be given. Our Conservative friends may manage their party receptions in their own way, but let them do in the way of sneering at citizens of any class, the more their friends will respect them—and they sorely need something in that line, just now.

Strange Proceedings.

We have a report, under date of 13th inst. of a case in which a Gloucester Magistrate appears to have made a very improper use of his office. A sailor was charged with deserting from his ship at Caranquet, and taking with him a pocket book containing money and securities amounting to some $50, besides a quantity of clothing, the property of other members of the crew. On application of the captain of the vessel, Justice Blackhall issued a warrant for the arrest of the sailor who was caught at Tracadie—some 25 miles from Caranquet. The prisoner being taken before Justice Blackhall, the latter refused to require him to answer to the charge of the captain, who had, as the Justice said, arranged to cancel the warrant. The Constable who arrested the sailor, asked Mr. Blackhall for his fees, but was directed to apply for them to the captain. The Constable, however, refused to pay, and on the Constable asking Mr. Blackhall for a capias by which to compel payment he failed to get one. The Constable was obliged to return to Pocomouche and obtain a capias from a Magistrate there, when he and another Constable returned to their camp in the woods on the approach of winter, the school house has been placed as conveniently as possible, between the two localities, about a quarter of a mile north of Church Point Bridge.

The number of pupils on the register is 36 and the average attendance in summer is 16 and in winter 25. In summer the children are a good deal engaged in looking out for the bass at Church Point Bridge, and many also accompany their elders in search of bass and mackerel in the bay and outside Fortage Island.

Barnt Church Items etc.

FISHING. The fishing along the shore this season, so far, has not been very good. About the middle of May the lobster fishery commenced, and at first the lobsters were very plentiful both at Tracadie and all up the shore to Barnt Church, as well as at Portage Island, even in spite of the rough weather. With its continuance, however, up to the present time, came the repeated wrecking of the lobster traps and the catch is said to have been, on the whole, a poor one.

SALMON. The salmon fishery commenced June 1st, and has also been very poor, the estimate for Barnt Church, Portage Island, Negau and Tabusintac Beach being about a quarter of a fair average catch, all up the shore to Barnt Church, as well as at Portage Island, even in spite of the rough weather. With its continuance, however, up to the present time, came the repeated wrecking of the lobster traps and the catch is said to have been, on the whole, a poor one.
