Precautions. Avoid matches whose heads readily san off. Scores of deaths and destroy-ed homes are traceable to this cause. Liquid stove polishes of the kind sold by fakers are nearly always dan-gerous. Furniture polish should be used with great care too. All cloths used in rubbing polished house. Neither should they be thrown carelessly around at any time, as there is danger of spontaneous combustion. Cleaning compounds are always dan-gerous. Never use benzine, gasoline or like fluids in any room where there is artificial light. These oils are extreme-ing back to the source. Explosions and scattered fire are the result. Never drape a, mantel near a gas jet or a stove. Be careful that no portieres or curtains are so hung that they can blow against the flame. Many fires are due to such carelessness. When you retire for the night see that all the doors in the house are closed. Open doors create a draft. Danger from a dumb waiter may be minim-ized by seeing that it is tightly closed at night. "English-men always seem to put all they pos-sibly can into an address." Well, the address of an Englishman is a very important thing, almost as important as his pedigree. A good ad-dress, especially in London, is more highly regarded than square meals, the latter often being sacrificed for the

He gave an address in Lan-beth, a shop, where he simply called for letters. The record of this tele-phone swindler, however, does not end here, and it is evident that he has at least one contederate. The other day he rang up the Lord Mayor at the Mansion House and said: "I am the Lord Mayor of Manches-ter, you know. There's a poor follow just come out of hospital in London in whom I am interested, I should be most awfully obliged to you if you could send him along some small sum—say 21-in order that he might get back to Manchester tonight and report to me tomorrow morning at the council chamber." A colored man from Georgia had lived in Washington but a few days when ho was arrested for some slight viola-tion of the city ordinances. Upon hearing that the negro was in jail the secretary of the colored Y. M. C. A. secured the services of a minister to go with him and sign the prisoner's tail bond. They reached the jail short-ly before noon and told the negro the object of their visit. In response to the proffered kindness he said: "Mistah Johnsing, I sho is glad you all is gwine tah git me out, but I wants watch and gave the name of his brokk-er James McDonald, and the watch was charged. The prisoner requested that the mag-istrate dispose of the case and he was remanded for sentence. James Seal was charged with three burglarles. On Sunday, Jan 2nd, he is charged with having entered Mrs. Margaret Stephens' house at 122 Wat-erloo street. Mrs. Stephens was at church when the break was made, and in addition to some money a quantity of jewelery was stolen. Some of the stolen articles were found in the de-fendant's trunk by Detective Killen. Some time later a hole was broken in the rear door of the D. K. McLaren and Co. establishment, on Prince Wm. street an entrance was made, a desk was broken open and a few dollars stolen. The thief left a knife behind him, and this knife has been identified as Seal's. On Wednesday night last a window was broken in the rear of the Imperial Life Insurance offices, in the Palmer building, Princess street. The glass in the upper sash was broken and there was blood on the sash and broken glass. Seal was seen running from the place immediately after the crash of glass. He had a cut on his right wrist, and he is credited with this break. The defendant is a young English-men and is defended by S. B. Bustin.

The broken glass with the blood on it was exhibited in court. The wit-ness described that in ralleving the window catch the top sash would fall, as there were no weights attached to it. it. There were also knife marks on the sill.
M. J. O'Leary gave evidence that about 8.15 o'clock Wednesday evening he was on the corner of Princess and Canterbury streets and heard a crash of glass from the side of the Palmer building. He saw Seal jump from the embankment and run towards King street. Witness caught up to him and asked him what was the matter and Seal said a fellow had struck him on the arm with a stone, and later he said a stone had fallen off the bank on this arm. He refused to have a doctor's fattendance and said he was hurrying to his home on Peter street.
Leland Nickerson, who boarded with Seal on Peters street, said the defendant arrived at the boarding house about 9.30 o'clock Wednesday night with a bad cut on his right wrist. He said he had been catching a bothe from a fellow on Main street, the bothe house and when he returned later he said he had been to Dr. Baxter and had two stitches to close the cut. Witness said Seal had been a bell boy in the Royal Hotel and lately had been a waiter in the Union Club. There was blood on defandant's coat sleeve. Witness identified the coat. If people only realized the utter ab-surdity of attempting to cure a pimply, blotchy unsightly complexion by means of the many irrational and 'illogical methods employed in "beauty parlors," and also in the boudoir, thousands of dollars which are wasted every year-literally thrown away-would be saved, and the complexion rendered clear and free from blemishes through constitu-tional treatment, at about one-tenth of one per cent of the cost of the "fancy" and exceedingly expensive local "treat-ments." The idea of massaging the cheeks, mattern pting to rub in a so-called "skin-food," is the height of nonsense. Nature never intended the skin to be field from the outside, but from the in-side exclusively, and it is the blood which really feeds the skin, builds it up, and supplies it with nutriment ab-sorbed from the digestive system. "heart-food," or "lung-food," or a "brain-food." The skin is a water-proof, air-proof envelope over the muscular system, and it has no power to abserb cold creams, or any other medicaments when rubbed over its surface. While, of course, steaming the face, or mas-saging with electricity, or by hand, will draw the blood temporarily to the surface and produce an artificial glow, which may last half an hour or so, but such treatment brings no lasting bene-fit, and will never cure wrinkles, pim-ples, pustules, blackheads, or other facial blemishes. Besides, the frequent treatment of the skin in the way which "beauty doctors" have-those kneading, rub-bing "cooking" methods, making the face for the time being as red as a boiled lobster, also have the very un-desirable effect of increasing and strengthening the hair-growth on the cheeks. An old sailor noticed something sus-picious about a sack of meal that was being swung by a crane at Port Nol-loth on to his ship. The sailor told the captain there seemed to be something moving in that particular sack, and the captain said:

the captain said: "Aha, a stowaway, I guess! Keep it till the last. Then sling it to the yard and let it hang there." The sailor kept the sack till the last. Then he swung it up over the hold, and as the winchman was going to lower it he shouted: "No, no! Don't lower down! Let her hang!" And there the sack hung in midair. The ship put out to sea. And there the sack hung in midalr. The ship put out to sea. The sack swung this way and that with the rolling of the waves. Now it spun like a top. Now it bumped against the mast. And for nearly three hours this swaying and banging, this bump-ing and spinning, went on, but never a sound came from the sack. Finally the captain winked and shouted:

It is undoubtedly due to the fact that scratching is so disagreeable that people thought it no worse than the evil one. A scalp full of dandruff keeps one scratching all the time; not only disagreeable but considered very inelegant in polite society—as it should be—because one ought to keep the scalp so clean that it would not itch. To cure the scalp of dandruff effect-ively, use Newbro's Herpicide. It kills the germ that creates the dandruff, which is preliminary to falling hair, and, finally, baldness. No other hair preparation kills the dandruff germ. Herpicide also is very delightful and effective hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. The strongest argument in the latest forty page booklet issued by the Currie Business University is the abundant proof produced that this school is bene-fitting young men and women, not ex-ploiting them. This record of hundreds of names of successful students who have been placed in good positions by this insti-tution is an evidence of the school's preeminence as well as an inspiration to others to prepare for the great work of commercial development ' al-ready begun in St. John. The booklet will be mailed to any ad-dress.

QUEER VILLAGES.

Some Peculiar Ones That May Be Seen In England. The English village is very dear to the hearts of poets and painters, and thousands of them are certainly charming. A few, however, are more amusing than anything else—as, for instance, one which consists entirely of old railway carriages, even the chanel being composed of four horse trucks. Another village, with a popu-lation of 1,100 and taxed at the valua-tion of $8,000, has neither school, church nor other public building, the phy thing of the sort being a letter by on a pillar.
