There is no real estate; the personal estate, having been reduced by the testatrix in her lifetime, is stated at $400. Herbert C. Creighton presents his petition in person.

The court took up the matter of the estate of Edward Traynor, carpenter and tinsmith. He died some years ago, his widow, Mary Jane Traynor, at three infant children, Harold aged 8, Marion aged 5 and Serena aged 3 years. On the petition of Thomas Vallerott Edgewood Seely, administrator, there is no real estate; personal estate $700. Dr. Richard F. Quigley, K. C., is proctor. The will of Herbert C. INDIA HOARDING

Washington, July 7.—In reviewing the commercial and industrial activities of Bombay in 1912 Consul Edward J. Norton says: Attention was drawn in last year's report to the remarkable growth in the imports of gold. The increase then recorded was $12,028,746. The statistics of the year under review show a further advance of no less than $28,751,021. The imports of gold bullion to Bombay were valued at $89,308,088 at $17,807,519, the aggregate imports of the metal being equivalent to over 20 per cent of the total gold production of the world in 1911. The most noteworthy feature of the movement of gold in the marked increase in the importations of coin that strengthens the inference that gold is displacing silver as a form of hoarding and is supported by the marked decrease in the net imports of silver. Re-exports of gold, which included shipments from India, India and are subject to little or no variation, were valued at $11,901,186.

TRAINMEN AGREE TO STAY STRIKE

White House Meeting Successful

New Arbitration Board to Settle the Dispute

President Wilson and Congressional Committee Agree to Rush Legislation to Create a Permanent Mediation Commission.

(Canadian Press.)
Washington, July 14.—Representatives of the 80,000 conductors and trainmen of eastern railroads, who have voted to strike for higher wages, and managing officers of the railroads, agreed at the White House today to submit their differences to arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands-Clayton act, which President Wilson and congressional leaders promise to make law by tomorrow night.

In the meantime no strike will be declared, officials of the employees' brotherhoods agreeing to an armistice until Wednesday night.

This victory for arbitration over the strike was the result of a two-hour conference at the White House between President Wilson and congressional leaders, both Republicans and Democrats, the presidents and managers of the railroads and representatives of the brotherhoods of trainmen and conductors.

The agreement not only averted temporarily at least the strike which threatened to disrupt the railroads, but also secured the passage of legislation which will create a permanent mediation commission to deal with railroad disputes.

The pathway was cleared for prompt action in both houses. Senator Kern telephoning from the White House, where he has the senate adjourn until tomorrow, instead of Thursday, as contemplated, and Representative Clayton announcing that he would move to take from the speaker's table his bill, to the new amendments in conformity with the Newlands bill in the senate would be attached.

The president later announced that he would sign a measure such as agreed upon. A permanent mediation board.

The perfected bill will create the United States board of mediation and conciliation, to be composed of a committee of mediators and arbitrators appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years, and not more than two other fails from the government already appointed by the president with the consent of the senate who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board.

There also would be an assistant commissioner with a salary of $5,000 authorized to act in the commissioner's absence. For the settlement of controversies as they might arise the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three to be selected with the help of the board of mediators and conciliation wherever necessary. The latter board would pass upon any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

The president said he would name the new commission quickly as possible, and that the contending parties had assured him that they would await legislative action.

HOME RULE BILL BEFORE THE LORDS

Landsdowne Asks Government to Withdraw It and Hold Referendum

WILL ACCEPT RESULT

(Canadian Press.)
London, July 14.—The home rule bill for Ireland came up today before the house of lords for second reading, the second time under the provisions of the parliament act which permits the passage of bills over the heads of the peers within a specified period.

The main interest in the re-appearance of the bill in the house of lords lies in the possible developments of Lord Lansdowne's motion, which begs, "That this house doth not proceed with the consideration of the bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country."

The Marquis of Crewe, secretary of state for India, and Liberal leader in the house of lords, in moving the second reading, remarked that the government regarded the opposition motion as a demonstration against the parliament act rather than as one against home rule.

Lord Lansdowne, in presenting his motion, remarked that if the house read the bill a second time it would be tantamount to accepting the principle of the parliament act, and would be an acquiescence in "the treatment which has been meted out to this house." In his opinion this could not be done without loss of self-respect.

Lord Lansdowne invited the government to withdraw the home rule bill from the operation of the parliament act, and before it became law, to discontinue parliament and refer it to the electors by means of a referendum. The opposition, he promised, would accept that verdict.

Carson Changes Tactics.
Montreal, July 13.—A special London cable says:

Sir Edward Carson's forecast of the appointment of a provisional government for Ulster is a welcome change from the threats of blood and revolution which he has all along been making. "At the same time, it is not expected that the forecast will be fulfilled. A provisional government requires practical unanimity, and how can this be assured when Ulster returns a majority of Nationalist members? The question of the birthplaces of electors living in Ulster would also be a drawback to such a government."

Then again, it is hardly likely that Orangemen would pay sufficient taxes to carry on what after all would be a sham government.

"Ulster must not forget that revolution breeds revolution," said a leading Irish parliamentarian to the media.

Sir Edward Grey Declares Powers Cannot Force Peace—Turkey Within Her Rights—Greece and Serbia Determined to Wage War Against Bulgars Without Mercy.

(Canadian Press.)
London, July 14.—That the Balkan struggle will end by a process of mutual exhaustion seems the only hope that Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, is able to hold out. In a statement in the house of commons tonight he said that mere words were not likely to affect the situation, and it would be most difficult for the European powers to resort to force to impose peace.

Neither Serbia nor Greece has paid any attention to Russia's proposal that they cease hostilities. They appear determined to negotiate peace with Bulgaria only on the field, without intervention by any third party, and unless Bulgaria prove amenable, it is believed that an advance will be made upon Sofia to enforce acceptance of the Serbo-Greek terms.

Serious fighting for the time being is suspended, but the advance of the Turkish and Roumanian troops continues without opposition. A Belgrade report says that the Serbians on Sunday captured an important position eight miles west of Kustendil.

According to the Athens correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, Greece and Serbia signed a secret treaty last May, binding them to prosecute a war, which was then frozen, with Bulgaria until the Bulgars acquiesced in the territorial arrangements laid down in the treaty. If these arrangements the eastern boundary of Greece would be extended to the Aegean Sea at two points.

Greeks Chasing Bulgarians.
Sofia, July 14.—Greek troops today occupied the town of Melnik, 55 miles northeast of Saloniki and are advancing toward the Bulgarian frontier. The Bulgarians further retreated to Dimitriev close to the famous pass, which the Greek commanders anticipate that the next big fight will take place on Bulgarian territory.

Russia Disarms Bulgarian Warships.
St. Petersburg, July 14.—A Bulgarian gunboat and several torpedo boats lying in the harbor of Sebastopol which had taken refuge from the Roumanian fleet, were disarmed today by the Russian authorities, and twenty-four hours grace allowed to belligerents having expired.

Bulgaria Seeks Armistice.
Belgrade, July 14.—Only outpost engagements along the frontier occurred today. It is reported that Bulgaria has made direct overtures to Serbia for an armistice.

Turkish Troops Advancing.
Constantinople, July 14.—The Turkish delegates to the Balkans financial commission at Paris have been recalled. The Turkish army are continuing their advance and have arrived at the Sillir-Belgrade forest line. Ever Bey's forces have occupied Forost.

It is understood a Serbo-Turkish agreement has been reported, but that it is awaiting ratification from Belgrade before being signed.

Bulgarians Effect 'Splendid Retreat.'
Sofia, July 14.—It is confirmed that General Ivanoff has effected a "splendid retreat." Serbo-Turkish forces are being issued, accusing the Greeks of setting fire to the town of Seres and declaring that the Bulgarians attempted vainly to get the fire under control. Other statements charge the Greeks with wholesale massacres and atrocities at Seres and elsewhere in Macedonia.

Bulgaria Has Asked Russia to Aid Her in Securing Peace, and Serbia and Greece Had Agreed to Cease Hostilities Upon Certain Conditions.
As to Turkey, no suggestion that an armistice should be forced on the Balkan states, said that it was impossible to exaggerate the horror of the war, but mere words were not likely to affect the situation and it would be most difficult for the concert of Europe to resort to force to impose peace.

Columbus, O., July 14.—Railroad and interurban traffic out of Columbus will be paralyzed by a cloudburst which swept a large part of Central Ohio early today. Small rivers and creeks were swelled into raging torrents which resulted in washing out bridges, causing landslides and doing other damage. At Zanesville, the temporary bridge of the Baltimore & Ohio went out during the night. This is the only connecting link Zanesville has with the west. The Muskingum river is said to have risen nine feet during the night.

Militant Leader Breaks Terms of Release and Defies Authorities—Spoke at Suffragette Meeting and a Lively Battle Follows—Escapes Arrest By Speed of Auto—Another Amazon Auctions Her Tickets of Leave and Is Captured.

(Canadian Press.)
London, July 14.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the suffragettes, made her escape from the police today under exciting circumstances.

With Miss Annie Kenney, one of the most ardent of the militants, she appeared this afternoon at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political Union.

Both women, although they were suffering severely from the effects of their recent hunger strike in prison, delivered stirring addresses. Mrs. Pankhurst announced she would rather die than submit to the government.

Mrs. Pankhurst said she had come against her doctor's orders, but that if she was well enough to be tortured in prison by Regina McKenna, the home secretary, she was also well enough to attend a meeting of her comrades.

She leaned heavily on a table as she addressed a few fervent sentences to the audience. She said:

"I am a rebel as Sir Edward Carson is. Both of us are rebels because there is no other way open to us to redress our grievances. I would sooner be a rebel than a slave. I would rather die than submit. I mean to be a voter in the land of my birth or die. My challenge to the government is: 'Give me freedom or kill me.'"

Reels Off the Names of Washington Legislators and Others and Identifies 600 Letters from Employers—Relates of Campaign to Elect Labor Congressman.

(Canadian Press.)
Washington, July 14.—Martin M. Mulhall, professed field agent, strike-breaker, lobbyist, and political worker for the National Association of Manufacturers, continued today his remarkable story for the senate lobby investigation committee.

Mulhall was on the stand for six hours. In that time he read 600 letters, telegrams and scraps of memoranda were identified by him, with hardly more than a glance.

He remembered apparently the first names of members of congress, of lesser politicians, of labor leaders and underlings, of secretaries to congressmen, and of all the men he had worked with throughout a year of most active campaigning in many parts of the country.

His performance seemed so remarkable that lawyers present that they set about a long day intently watching the witness and listening closely to the letters and every word that the witness uttered in his brief cross-examination that accompanied some of them.

The senate committee devoted today largely to reading into the record the present relations between Mulhall and the labor legislation activities which he had undertaken in connection with the "lobbyist" had figured, and an allusion now and then to the fact that Mulhall was a union-buster for the most part it was a story of politics as Mulhall played the game.

Spent $60,000 in Maine Election.

Mulhall's correspondence told of the efforts to re-elect former Congressman Littlefield, of Maine, and defeat the present representative from that district, Daniel J. McGillicuddy. Littlefield was to be supported by the National Association of Manufacturers because of his stand against labor legislation. Mulhall said on cross-examination that he had been told that $60,000 was spent in that campaign. Littlefield was beaten.

Mulhall's letters went into detail concerning the campaign he made in Maryland to beat former Congressman Pearce, of Cumberland. Pearce was author of an "injunctive bill" and Mulhall and other agents went out to get his political scalp.

Just before the committee adjourned, the letters began to show Mulhall's activities after Marshall Cushing, the secretary of the association with whom he had corresponded so long, had resigned "on leave" from the legislature. Mulhall declared, "because he said no self-respecting politician could report on lobby work."

Mulhall said Cushing resigned in the spring of 1907 to the late James W. Van Cleave, then president of the association, who wanted full reports of all his work. The committee read several letters from Mulhall to Van Cleave in which the "lobbyist" showed that he did not care so much for Cushing after the secretary left the association.

Some of the letters read earlier in the day showed that Mulhall had been known to the late Vice-President James S. Sherman, who in 1907 was chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee. In a letter he wrote on July 1907, to Mr. Sherman, Mulhall said he was going west and call on the Hon. James E. Watson, of the sixth Indiana district, and that he intended to look up members of the organization in that district.

N. W. Howell made this statement on the result:

"My information convinces me that the result in North Grey was due to the open combination between the Whitney government and the liquor interests with unlimited financial resources at their disposal. For the sake of Mr. McQuaker, who was an exceptionally fine type of candidate and the workers who stood so valiantly by him, I regret the result. The loss of the seat, however, will have its compensations if it helps to awaken the people of the province to the undoubted fact of an offensive and defensive alliance between the Whitney government and the liquor interests. When the people realize that this combination exists I don't believe they will stand for it."

Officials Blame Trainmen for Disastrous Collision at Los Angeles—Many Others Are Not Likely to Recover.

(Canadian Press.)
Los Angeles, July 14.—Fourteen persons are dead as a result of the wreck at Vineyard station last night, when two Pacific electric trains collided. The number of injured was said tonight to exceed 150. Several of these are in a precarious condition. Two bodies, those of a man and a woman, have not been identified. The revised list of the dead follows:

- Edna Altar, secretary Associated Charities, Pasadena (Cal.)
- Ollie W. Azley, Bakersfield (Cal.)
- Jacob Marmon, Los Angeles.
- F. Gonniguchi, Japanese, Los Angeles.
- Sidney Johnston, Youngstown, Ohio.
- Miss Veronica Miller, Los Angeles.
- Edward Murray, Toronto, Canada.
- J. Carl Murray, Los Angeles.
- Mrs. C. C. Norman, Los Angeles.
- William Taylor, Pasadena.
- Unidentified man, about 35 years old.
- Unidentified woman, about 25 years old.

Among the injured are:

- S. B. Craig, Detroit (Mich.), internal injuries.
- Mrs. Irene Gray, Detroit (Mich.), body crushed.
- Nellie Murray, Toronto, Canada, nose broken.

Officials of the Pacific electric road assert that the blame for the disaster lies between Conductor Emil Bartholomew, of the standing train, and Motor-man Joseph Forrester, of the one that crashed into it. The conductor insists that he waves a red lantern in front of Forrester's train in plenty of time for the latter to have stopped had he heeded the signal. Forrester, who was found today at his home, slightly injured, declared he did not see the lantern until within 600 feet of the standing train. This distance, he declared, was so short that his brakes failed to stop the train. Before the state railway commission officials of the road stopped a train of cars the same type within 600 feet. A coroner's inquest will begin tomorrow.

Owen Sound Majority Elected Cameron—Views of the Leaders.

Owen Sound, July 14.—By a majority of 278 North Grey today elected Colin S. Cameron to represent it in the legislature. It was the vote in the town of Owen Sound that defeated John McQuaker, the Liberal candidate, as the town gave Mr. Cameron a majority of 12.

Toronto, July 14.—On hearing the returns from North Grey tonight Sir James Whitney said:

"It is a magnificent victory and a very far-reaching one, indeed."

Hon. W. J. Hanna (over the long-distance telephone from his home in Sarnia) said:

"The electors of North Grey did what anyone would have expected. They were fully acquainted with the issues and the hypocrisy of the leaders of the Liberal party who went into North Grey to agitate the electors. There was no mistaking, from the time the electors got busy, what they were going to do."
