

of girl to come from England, under the right kind of protection. The large number of unsuitable girls who drifted here, were so many doves let loose in a cage of vultures. He thought that some supervision should be exercised outside, over the class of Immigrants coming here.

The Rev. J. F. Renaud said he was informed on all hands that the Immigrant girls who had come out this year, were of a better class than usual; there was that type of servant girl which was most desired in this country. He bore testimony to the faithfulness and earnestness of the late Secretary.

After a few remarks from the Rev. E. McManus, the motion for the election of officers was unanimously passed.

A vote of thanks was then tendered the chairman, on the motion of the Rev. J. F. Renaud, seconded by Dean Carmichael, and the proceedings terminated.
