The fashion of keeping little dogs as objects of luxury is not at all modern. Both Greek and Roman wo-men used to have small pet dogs, over which they made as much to do as does a fashionable lady of to-day over her poolle.

Even men, usually foreigners, were not ashamed to stroll about the Roin streets carrying dogs in their arms. It is said that Julius Caesar, once seeing some men thus occupied, sarcastically inquired of them if the women of their country had no children.
