

AT THE 'PHONE.

She had promised to come down to go to luncheon with him, and about noon she opened his office door. Her husband's voice at the 'phone made her stop to listen.

HAVE PLENTY OF DAYLIGHT.

It is quite impossible for a thoroughly healthy person to have too much daylight. One might as well say it is possible to have too much fresh air.

BEAUTIFUL HANDS.

O your hands—they are strangely fair! Fair—for the jewels that sparkle there—Fair—for the witchery of the spell that ivory keys alone can tell.

Life Impossible Without Sleep

THE VITALITY CONSUMED DURING WAKING HOURS MUST BE RESTORED BY SLEEP—OTHERWISE COLLAPSE. Men have lived for weeks without food, whereas a few days without sleep and man becomes a raving maniac—a mental and physical wreck.

KNOWLEDGE OF ARCHITECTURE

It is often said that a little learning is a dangerous thing, for it makes people, who know only a little, conceited and critical. But, on the other hand, we must have a little learning before we can have much, and a little learning may make us ambitious, instead of conceited.

ANTIDOTES FOR POISON.

(Dr. E. E. Walker in September St. Nicholas.) One day, as the boys and their tutor were clambering over stones, poking about in the hole of finding some relic, Mr. Wilson exclaimed: "Look out for that poison-ivy, boys!"

A TRIBUTE TO READING.

The President of Hamilton College, in an address to some public school teachers, said in effect that the knowledge he had gained by reading was more valuable than all the rest he possessed, and declared that if schools failed to give a love for reading, they failed in the most important part of their duty.—September St. Nicholas.

THE DOCTOR'S HORSE.

When Dr. Jouail came to the little village to practice, in place of the old doctor, who had died, he found the whole population, as it were, on guard. They seemed not to know whether he came to kill them off or really to cure them.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

CHUCKIE WUCKIE'S FRIEND.

(Isabel Gordon Curtis in September St. Nicholas.) "Why, Chuckie Wuckie, what is the matter?" said papa. "They were walking home one afternoon when they met a squad of policemen marching two by two, and looking straight ahead—tramp, tramp, over the sidewalk. Chuckie Wuckie was holding her papa's hand when she saw the policemen. She gave a little scream and ran and hid behind a tall bush, with her hands over her eyes.

"The very next day, when Chuckie Wuckie and her papa went walking in the park they saw something very interesting. A policeman lay on his face beside the duck pond, and was pulling out of the water a little, half-drowned puppy. The policeman dried it with his handkerchief, and rubbed it to make it warm.

"I shall never remember it," said M. Jouail. "This horse will stand here until I give you a prescription. But I will have an explanation of this."

"I am learning a little too fast," said M. Jouail. "The doctor began to lose confidence. He found a little further on a young girl, whose hat stopped Midas at once.

"It is because you do not know, monsieur," explained the girl. "He thinks you are the good M. Denis. He heard me cough! Perhaps you might have in your medicine bag some cough drops. M. Denis always had some."

When he arrived at the home of the lady who had sent for him, M. Jouail had written five prescriptions gratuitously, by the time he arrived home at nine.

At the cafe that evening he made many inquiries concerning that "good M. Denis," a thing which he found he should have done before he bought Midas.

He found out that M. Denis, while living, was a simple soul, who had divided his patrons into two classes, the rich and the poor, those who paid and those who did not. And as those who did not pay were the more numerous, it was agreed between them and the doctor that they should speak to him as he went forth to see the clients who paid their bills.

M. Jouail entered his office and made some grave reflections. "Shall I sell the horse? What will the town say? That the new doctor is selfish. That he does not care for the lower classes, and only works for money!"

He looked at the animal, noted Midas' knowing eye and almost human intelligence. He was almost ashamed. So he took his part. He became a new "good M. Denis." He had, like his predecessor, the two classes of clients—and he found it did not work so badly after all. By some innocent stratagem in advertising his ability those who paid also paid the accounts of those who did not.

A FEW TESTIMONIALS RHEUMATISM

John O'Connor, Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to testify to the merits of Benedictine Salve as a cure for rheumatism. I had been a sufferer from rheumatism for some time and after having used Benedictine Salve for a few days was completely cured.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I have great pleasure in recommending the Benedictine Salve as a cure for lumbago. When I was taken down with it I called in my doctor, and he told me it would be a long time before I would be around again.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—After trying several doctors and spending forty-five days in the General Hospital, without any benefit, I was induced to try your Benedictine Salve, and sincerely believe that this is the greatest remedy in the world for rheumatism.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I am deeply grateful to the friend that suggested to me, when I was a cripple from Rheumatism, Benedictine Salve. I have at intervals during the last ten years been afflicted with muscular rheumatism.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Please send me three more boxes of Benedictine Salve, as soon as possible. Enclose please find cheque and oblige.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I write unsolicited to say that your Benedictine Salve has cured me of the worst form of Bleeding Piles. I have been a sufferer for thirty years, during which time I tried every advertised remedy I could get, but got no more than temporary relief.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—It is with pleasure I write this unsolicited testimonial, and in doing so I can say to the world that your Benedictine Salve thoroughly cured me of Bleeding Piles. I suffered for nine months.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Enclosed please find one dollar ($1), also postage, for which I wish you would mail to my address another box of Benedictine Salve. Hoping to receive same by return of mail, I am, sir, John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Herewith enclose you the sum of two dollars to pay for a couple of boxes of your Benedictine Salve. I purpose giving one to an old cripple and the other to a person badly troubled with piles, in order that they may be thereby benefited by its use.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—Early this week I accidentally ran a rusty nail in my finger. The wound was very painful, and the next morning there were symptoms of blood poisoning, and my arm was swollen nearly to the shoulder.

John O'Connor, Esq., Toronto: DEAR SIR,—I wish to say to you that I can testify to the merits of your Benedictine Salve for Blood-Poisoning. I suffered with blood poisoning for about six months, the trouble starting from a callous or hardening of the skin on the upper part of my foot and afterwards turning to blood-poisoning.
