

EXCALI-COMICS

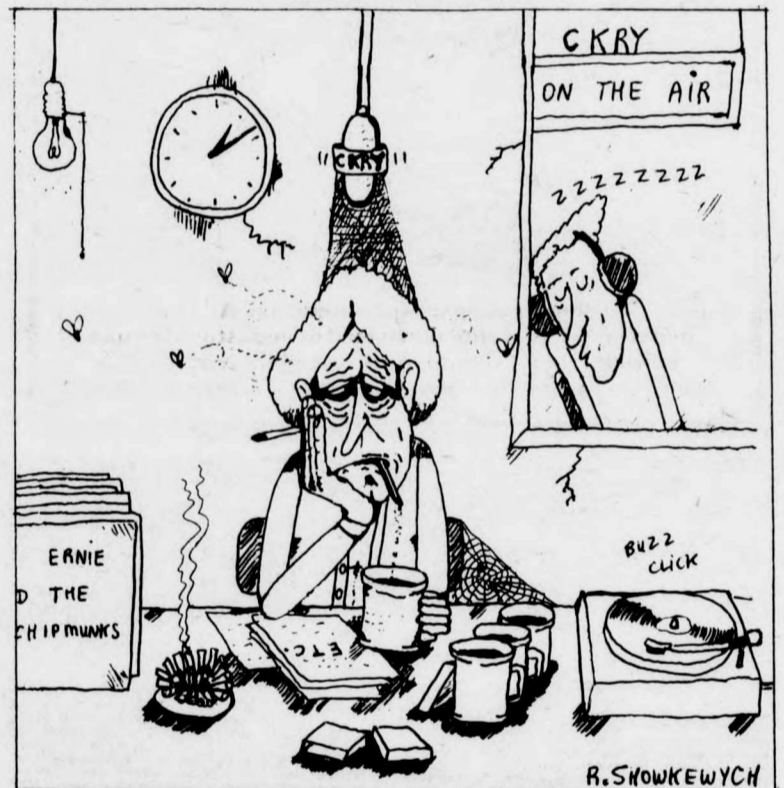

"So what's your problem? You can go to another store if you don't like our prices."

Happy Valentine's Day

With over 800,000 Canadians unemployed last month, and no relief in sight, many York graduates will find themselves like those two, doing time on some park bench.

A picture of health, Radio York disc jockey enters his twentieth hour in the CKRY marathon.

The page's comics are the work of Excalibur artists, past and present. Thanks to Don Ballanger for the unemployed York graduate, to John Rose (wherever he is) for this timeless portrait of Oasis, and to Roman Showkewych for the rest.
