

their Speaker, that those rigid rules have often been broken, and he the Speaker had acted upon them, but he being now interested, is disposed to think and act differently.

Others again spoke.

Mr Adam Martin addressed the Council, to the effect, he did not desire to continue a Candidate amidst such opposite opinions, and excitement.

More discussion, several rising at once, and the Hon. Sec. too, taking part.

Adjourned. Becoming late, with no prospect of a decision, the Supt. proposed adjourning until Tuesday next, when, if they could not agree in accordance with their rules, he would recommend an open vote by the Chiefs, when the matter would be soon settled, their nomination being of course subject to confirmation by the Supt. Gen.
