Your readers would no doubt be amused by your attempt to contrast unfavourably my position with that of Mr. Bennett. You have apparently suddenly developed an admiration for Mr. Bennett, and especially for the following sentences which he used not long before his defeat in 1935: - "The old order is gone. It will not return." Very shortly after he used those words, the "Leader-Post" became feverishly active, not to get rid of the "eld order", but to get rid of Mr. Bennett,
