

I think it could also be increased by judicious management and a systematic reclamation of the waste lands.

The future of forestry in Quebec is, therefore, very bright. Situated at the door of Europe, we should be able to dispute their markets with any of our former competitors. But I believe, if the reports received are correct, that before long Norway will be obliged to import pulpwood from Finland, and it is our duty to be ready when the time comes to take advantage of these new conditions.
