Champ Clark loves to tell of how in the heat of a debate Congressman Johnson, of Indiana, called an Illinois representative a jackass. The expression was unparliamentary, and in retraction Johnson said:

"While I withdraw the unfortunate word, Mr. Speaker, I must insist that the gentleman from Illinois is out of order."

"How 'am I out of order?" yelled the man from Illinois.

"Probably a veterinary surgeon could tell you," answered Johnson, and that was parliamentary enough to stay on the record.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. Miscellaneous.

GRAFTING-WAX.

Please give a good recipe for making grafting-wax. F. G. G.

Ans.—Melt together rosin 4 parts, by weight, beeswax 2 parts, tallow 1 part; pour into cold water, grease your hands and pull till nearly white.

UNTHRIFTY COLT.

My spring colt is very unthrifty; his appetite is poor and he is very thin. A V. S. said the colt had worms; but his treatment did no good. Please prescribe. OLD SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—Get your druggist to mix three ounces each of sulphate of iron, gentian, ginger and nux vomica, and divide into forty-eight powders. Give a powder three times a day in a half pint of cold water as a drench. Feed bran and chopped oats, and good clean hay, and keep comfortably warm, with good ventilation.

A WAYWARD BOY.

What is to be done with a lad 12 years old that is going from place to place, staying a few days, and then going on? He is lazy and saucy, and his friends are in the States and do not care anything about him. I think they are very poor people. He came to my place on June 13th, very poorly dressed. We gave him some clothes, but we do not need him, as we only have a few chores. If he goes to a farmer and the farmer scolds him, he leaves and goes on, and now he hasn't any place to go. Is there a place for such boys? What must I do to get him there? Do not like to put him out in the cold. C. J. T.

Ans.—If there be a society or other organization in the neighborhood for the care of such children, it would be well for you to consult with the officers thereof. If not, then see a magistrate, or the County Crown Attorney.

SKIM MILK FOR COWS, COLTS AND POULTRY.

What is the best way to use skim milk, providing you do not wish to raise calves or pigs? Is it profitable to feed back to milk cows or young horses?

YOUNG FARMER.

Ans.—Skim milk makes an excellent feed for poultry and may be fed in limited quantities with much advantage to colts, especially weanlings. It may also be profitably fed to milk cows, though a little difficulty may be experienced at first in persuading them to take it. Skim milk is rich in protein, the element which chiefly makes bran, oil cake and gluten-meal so valuable in a dairy cow's ration, and, apart from theoretical considerations, we know more than one dairyman who has fed skim milk to his cows with good results.

KEEPING SILAGE IN CEMENT SILO.

As a subscriber to your valuable paper, in which I get many suggestions in "Questions and Answers," through other correspondents, may I ask the following question:

I am thinking of building a silo. There is no cement silo in my neighborhood, but I am told that the silage will spoil for six inches all around the wall. I would like to hear from those who have had a few years' experience. E. L. K.

Ans.—Our inquirer has been misinformed. If the wall is properly built and smoothly plastered, or even washed with cement, and the silo properly filled, there need be no waste whatever around the wall, except a little, perhaps, for a few feet down from the top. A well-constructed, round cement silo will keep the silage at least as well as a first-class stave or hoop silo. Of course, with either, there may be a little waste in an exposed location, from the silage freezing to the walls, and then when it thaws, spoiling before it can all be used up, but this can be largely avoided by keeping it out away from the wall with a sharp pole or shovel as the surface is lowered, letting the frozen chunks thaw out in the yard as a better feeding, or, if necessary, as a little warm water to thaw out a portion. Where gravel or road dirt and clean, coarse sand are within a reasonable access of the farm building, permanently located, a round cement silo is the kind to build.
