The Setting Hen

By WALT MASON

The old hens, with feathers ruffled, upon her bunch of fourteen eggs; for three long weeks she hasn't scuffed around the yard on scratching legs. She's tended strictly to her knitting—fidelity's the old hen's beast; by day and night still brooding, sitting, the martyr mother at her post. And now the time has come for hatching, and soon the old hen, swelled with pride, around the dooryard will be scratching her fluffy offspring at her side. Then mark, oh, mark her guard and cherish the welfare of her little flock! Before she'd see one chicken perish, she'd whip a wildcat or a hawk. And when the lightning and the thunder announce the sudden, pelting storm, the chickens crawl her wide wings under, and she protects them with her form. There's nothing, truly, more affecting than mother love that old hens bear, as they go clucking round, prospecting, to find their children's bill-of-fare. I sympathize with orphan chickens hatched out in patent tin machines; I can't imagine what the dickens that sort of innovation means. To rob a chicken of its mother—to ride its owner on a rail: One crime's as lowdown as the other, and each should send a man to jail.

the back-stopping brigade, also reported yesterday afternoon. Both men will be out this afternoon. Corns states that he is feeling as fit as at any time during his careers and expects to have a good season.

For over two hours yesterday afternoon, Manager Lee had the aspirants out, and the manner in which they cavorted about under the warm sun was a sight for sore eyes. The boys who will likely line up in the practice games at the different stations in the infield were placed at their probable positions and for some time Lee kept batting them at 'em in every shape. Greene was at first, Thomas at second, Flynn at short and Trembe at the difficult corner, corner. The diamond was wet from the rain of early yesterday morning, and the infielders had to be content with working out on the grass in left field, which has been rolled and is now in pretty fair shape. Despite the fact that the ground was soggy in spots, the new infielders showed great form and they all looked very promising.

The pitchers will prove a difficult problem for Lee. He has Walter Smith, Alric Paquette, Yaymann, Klein, and Sutton working out, and they all appear to have more than the ordinary on the pill. Sutton reported here as a first baseman, but in practice he showed Manager Lee that he is possessed of a barrel of speed, and the local pilot is giving every chance to him to become a hurler. The big fellow is warming up to his new job, too and is bound to create a stir. Walter Smith, according to Tommy Hiss, has a cross-tire that will carry him a long way, and he should not be overlooked. Of course, when Teed and Garlow reach here, some of the pitching squad will have to go, but just now Lee is doubtful as to who will go under the hammer. The same situation confronts Lee in regard to his catchers. In Brooks, Whelan, Barton, Fisher and McCarthy he has five good boys, but only two will be carried. It looks like Fisher and Barton.

Play for Medals In six weeks these crack lawn bowlers from Canada will sail for the Old Country, where they are to be pitted against the best players in England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales. Each Canadian rink will play an equal number of games and the rink making the greatest number of wins will be awarded four gold medals, presented by Mr. J. Ross Robertson. Four additional gold medals will also be given to the rink making the highest score over their opponents during the tour. These medals also have been presented by Mr. Robertson.

Football Football Free icks.

The English Football Association has passed a resolution regarding the bill in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. W. Hayes Fisher, M.P., for the prohibition of advertisements or coupons of ready-money football betting. Preston have won the Second League championship while North County and Woodrich Arsenal are due for relegation to the Second for next season. Swinton and Plymouth Argyle are battling for the Southern title. Sunderland now leading the First Division, have Bolton Wanderers as their opponents in tomorrow's fixture. Sheffield Wednesday, sitting behind are to meet Bolton, and Alton Villa go to Newcastle. All three leaders are away from home to-morrow. The meeting of Secretary Webb of the English Football Association against the danger to football from the proposed introduction of the professional game to Canada adds another to the many difficulties in the way of the promotion. They will hardly set up the plea that professional is not their aim. The joint commission that inquired into the charges of collusion in the Chelsea-Liverpool match which practically saved Chelsea from relegation to the Second League, reported that the charges were unfounded. It was also announced that Mr. Morris admitted his indiscretion in not putting his allegations before the League and the Football Association, instead of giving them to the newspapers.

CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN AT ONCE, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

In One Minute Your Stuffy Nose and Head Colds, Sneezing, Mucous Running, Dull Headache Goes. Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or "aternal sore throat" will be gone. End such misery now. Get the small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which blocks the nose; heat and moisture clear the air passages; stop sneezing, discharges and a feeling of cleansing soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head snoring, nostrils closed, yawning and blowing air out of your nose, with its rank, cold, raw disease depressing and distressing but truly needless. Put your faith—just once, in Ely's Cream Balm—and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

Artistic Display Wall Papers!

You may not know that you are indeed a true lover of Art—you unconsciously have a feeling that you are not satisfied with the hangings of your rooms, and when you see an effect that is the something that appeals to your ideas of what is pleasing, you say "Now, there is the style, I have wanted for a long time, but it must be very expensive and difficult to make." Yes, perhaps you are right, but then, again, you may not be—there are many very elaborate effects attained by simply "knowing how." We make a specialty of "knowing how," and will be pleased to give any person the benefit of our advanced knowledge of the proper styles in paper hanging, and also of a stock that is right-up-to-now in correctness.

Advertisement for Foot-Rite Shoe Heel Repairs. Includes images of shoes and text: 'The heel is the most adulterated part of an ordinary shoe. "Any old stuff for the heels" is the policy of shoe factories who are not particular about wearing quality. Pulp, shoddy, "scrap," pressed shavings and even paper are some of the things used to make shoe heels—to save five or ten cents in the cost. Every layer in a Foot-rite heel is made of good, honest, serviceable leather—the best heel leather possible for the price. While Foot-rite heels will not wear for ever or last as long as the rest of the shoe, still they will wear LONGER than inferior heels, and will cost you less for repairs. The Foot-Rite Shoe is honestly, substantially and carefully made all the way through. They are made to gain your permanent comfort and satisfaction.
