

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Latest Intelligence from all Parts.

Crisp Items of Interest for People Who Want the News in a Hurry—Information Brought Down to suit our Readers Time.

The editor of a health journal in England recently died. His widow says that the cause of his death was his attempt to live in accordance with the health principles advocated in his paper.

The Anarchist Sanferfest Committee of Chicago called upon the Mayor to plead for permission to supply beer at the Battery D demonstration of this day week.

At 2 o'clock Saturday morning fire was discovered on the first floor of the Commercial Hotel, Guelph, one of the largest hotels in the city.

We ought not to be too anxious to encourage untried innovation, in cases of doubtful improvement. For a quarter of a century Dr. Sear's Catarrh Remedy has been before the public and passed through the severest test and is pronounced the most reliable remedy for that disease, scrofula.

It is stated that the town of Hugo, O., is overrun with rats. J. M. Humphrey has received a letter from there stating that rats have collected in the town by the million, and asking him to gather all the cats he can find and express them there.

The high joint Fisheries Commission have been laboring all the past week, and sharpening their wits for the diplomatic deliberations that are at present engaging their attention.

Scrofulous humors, erysipelas, canker, and catarrh, can be cured by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. "I have used this medicine in my family, for scrofula, and know, if it is taken persistently, it will eradicate this terrible disease."

The high joint Fisheries Commission have been laboring all the past week, and sharpening their wits for the diplomatic deliberations that are at present engaging their attention.

She Broke the Engagement because she saw that he had ceased to love her. Her beauty had faded, her former high spirits had given place to a dull lassitude.

A Reward—Of one dozen "TEABERRY" to any one sending the best four-line rhyme on "TEABERRY," the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Bath.

A Wonderful Three-Year Old. Our little 3-year old is very fond of oranges. One day when he had eaten a large one he came to mamma and wanted more.

He Counted them. "Just three," he said. "Very well," was the reply, "there is one for papa and one for mamma and one for you. You can have one."

More Trouble May be Expected. If you do not heed the warnings of nature and at once pay attention to the maintenance of your health.

but if you are constipated, or have sick-headache, bad taste in the mouth, rush of blood to the head, bilious complaint, or any similar difficulty, you should go at once to your druggist for Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," the most efficient means for eradicating it.

Sarsaparilla. It is a purgative, and means fresh blood to no one can deny. Cleanse the blood from all impurities with B. B. B., the best blood purifier known.

It's Always the Way.

"Didn't I tell you so?" said a gentleman to an acquaintance whom he chanced to meet on the street; "It's always the way." "What's always the way?" inquired a mutual friend of the two men who happened along just then.

Men are so fond of speaking satirically about the length of time which women consume in effecting small purchases—a pair of gloves or a yard of ribbon—that one would suppose the masculine mind quite above such trifling, but in that case what are we to make of incidents like the following:

A broad-shouldered young man, six feet tall, approaches the necktie counter. "Can I show you anything in neckwear?" asks the clerk.

"Well, yes, have you anything new?" replies the young man, running his eyes over the silk and satin contents of the show-cases.

"Show me the latest thing you have." The "latest things" are spread before him. He handles them all, looks at them in different lights, holds them at arm's length, lays them on the sleeve of his coat, and altogether is as "fussy" as can well be imagined.

"Here is something I think will please you," says the clerk. "No; I don't like a decided check."

"Here is a broken plaid." "It has blue in it, and I am too dark to wear blue."

"Stripes are very fashionable this year." "Are they? Let me see some of the newest styles."

"It's what colors." "Well, I hardly know." "How about black or cardinal?"

"I don't just fancy a decided cardinal." "Wouldn't you like a scarf-tie?"

"I think not. It is so difficult to tie neatly. Let me see that brown and white satin tie."

"Ah, yes; that's something new, and very stylish." "That shade is well enough but that shade of brown never looks well on me."

"We have the same thing in black and white." "No; I have no suit to match black and white. On the whole, I think I'll wait till your spring styles are in. I can probably suit myself better then."

Give Them A Chance.

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them, that is take Rochee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle.

More Remarkable Still.

Found at last, what the true public has been looking for these many years and that is a medicine which although but lately introduced, has made for itself a reputation second to none.

The distressing plagues so often observed in young girls and women, is due in a great measure to a lack of the red corpuscles in the blood. To remedy this requires a medicine which produces these necessary little blood constituents, and the best yet discovered is Johnson's Tonic Bitters.
