British People Doing Him Marked Honor - Paris Paper Says Visit is Praised. With Great Political Significance.

London, May 26 - M. Fallieres, president of France, and a busy day today. He started at an early hour by holding a reception to the Gallic colony in London at the French embassy, after which made a round of ceremonial calls upon various members of the English reigning house.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra, he paid a state visit to the Franco-British exhibition. President Fallieres is proving a highly popular visitor. Huge crowds gather wherever there is a possibility of seeing him pass, and the cheering which he is greeted are exceptionally lusty.

Paris, May 25 - Whatever may be the opinion of the rest of Europe, the French public believe that the present visit of President Fallieres to London is significant.

It holds that the presence of Foreign Minister Pichon means that the entente cordiale which has been a moral understanding for some time past, is now about to receive, even if secretly, a consecration of a more official nature, thus becoming a guarantee of the peace of Europe such as history has never before recorded.

If Germany does not like this new combination of England, France and Russia, brought about by the consummate skills of King Edward, she at least knows that she is the cause of its having come into existence.

It holds that the presence of Foreign Minister Pichon means that the entente cordiale which has been a moral understanding for some time past, is now about to receive, even if secretly, a consecration of a more official nature, thus becoming a guarantee of the peace of Europe such as history has never before recorded.

That President Fallieres is the first step in the inauguration of a new scheme for the European balance of power in which France will play the part of the "Good Brother" between England and Russia was the thought animating the enthusiastic crowd of French citizens, who cheered the President on his departure yesterday.

Exchange of Courtesies. London, May 26 - The grand chain of the Victorian Order was conferred upon President Fallieres in France today by King Edward. Later President Fallieres conferred the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor upon Admiral Lord Charles Bessford, who was in command of the fleet which received the French President at Dover yesterday.

The city is decorated in honor of the distinguished visitor, Mr. Fallieres getting a hearty welcome when he appears.
