The brooks are still too low for good fishing, though the P.P.'s (persistent professionals) get a good one occasionally.

The autos are kept busy and constitute a convenience and source of pleasure. We are beginning to wonder how we did, and how we could possibly do without them—now.

Mrs. Hollands, of Carbonar, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Fred Morris. Glad to see her.

Mr. Edwin Grant, Mrs. Grant and Miss Grant returned on Thursday from Blanc Sablon. We are glad to have them back again.

Mr. Brett, of St. John's, representing the Direct Agencies, is registered at Garland Hotel.

Mr. Ernest Morris, of the staff of Ayre & Sons, has returned to St. John's, after a short but enjoyable holiday. Mrs. Morris will follow later.

Mr. H. Y. Mott and son are expected next week. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Somerton, and are looking forward to some good fishing. This will be Mr. Mott's second visit this season, and he is not the only one who would gladly do this if it were possible.

Rev. Canon Khuring, of the Diocese of Fredericton, is scheduled for Trinity on or about the 22nd of August. He is coming in the interests of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and will present its objects and claims at a public meeting. The Canon is a prominent priest of the Church of England in St. John, N.B., and served with distinction as chaplain during the war.

Mr. Smith, the new Principal of Trinity High School, came on Wednesday to make preliminary arrangements for his future work. His presence and position here means a great deal to us, and to the children entrusted to his care. He will have some time to make up, owing to defective conditions of the recent past. This will make his initial work more difficult than otherwise it would be; but stern discipline, definite knowledge, and the science of imparting it will quickly change conditions and will ensure for Mr. Smith our highest respect and deepest gratitude. Miss Goodwin will be here next week.

Mrs. Mercer and daughter, of Bay Roberts, are spending an enjoyable holiday with Mrs. Mercer's sister, Mrs. William White.

Mrs. (Rev.) A. Tulk, nee Effie Morris, of Burin, and Master David, are visiting Mrs. Tulk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morris. The parson will follow later. He was one of our best teachers some years ago, and will share in the welcome.

Miss Somerton, of Montreal, is visiting her parents at Trinity.

Mr. A. G. King, who has been visiting his parents at Bonaventure, spent a few days in Trinity on his way to St. John's and is registered at Garland Hotel. Mr. King went over with the Newfoundland Regiment in 1916. He was wounded at Steenbeek and invalided to England. Being medically unfit for active service for a year, he took the usual examination for a Rhodes' Scholarship and won it with a credit of 98 per cent. He then matriculated at the University of Oxford, and at the end of three years he was graduated as Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Law. He hopes to spend a year at Aberdeen University as a Law Student whilst completing articles with the firm of Higgins and Hunt, St. John's. Previous to Mr. King's enlistment he taught school at herring Neck, and at the outbreak of the war was preparing to enter McGill University as a medical student. Mr. King is a son of Richard H. and Rachel King, and we offer them and Bonaventure our congratulations.

Magistrate Somerton paid his monthly official visit to King's Cove on Tuesday last. The law abiding district, however, had nothing for his worship to attend to this time.

Mr. Nelson W. Pittman left for New York on the Thursday's express.

The Memorial and Flower Service in the Mortuary Chapel on Sunday last was well attended. It was conducted by the Rector, Rev. Charles M. Stickings, and it was in every respect a beautiful and a helpful service, and increasingly so year by year.

Mr. Palmer, the Tinsmith, has permanently improved the appearance and surroundings of his shop and dwelling house.

Capt. Barbour has added a Lumber yard to his premises, and stocked it with a cargo of useful material.

Mrs. (Capt.) Davidson left Vancouver for Japan on August 19th.

The Church of England School House has been thoroughly cleaned and painted inside, and the drainage and sanitary matters have been carefully attended to, by the amalgamated

Mr. and Mrs. Sheehan and family will move into the "Old Doctor's House" at an early date.

Miss Rachel Fowling, our local telegraph operator, is relieving her sister, Eliza May in the Catalina Office, and her sister, Mrs. Morris, is in charge of the office here.

To prevent accidents, the brush on the numerous curves on the King's Cove road needs to be cut out. Autos pass over it nearly every day during the tourists' season, and the driver cannot see far enough ahead.

Mr. W. McGrath will occupy the Clifford House.

Miss Stella Lockyer and her cousin, Canon Lockyer, leave on Tuesday next for Nova Scotia.

The deportation of our currency to-day is nothing to be thought of in comparison with the slump in Confederate paper money after the Civil War. General Mulholland relates that shortly after Lee's surrender he heard two Confederate soldiers bargaining over a very ordinary-looking horse. "He'll do for my farm, John," said one. "I'll give you $20,000 for him."

"No," said the other. "Give you $50,000."

"No."

"Give you $100,000."

"Not much," replied the owner. "I just paid $120,000 to have him shod."

Ubiquitous Bags For Women.

There are few occasions of a woman's life when she does not carry a bag. She carries a bag to shop and she carries a bag to work, she carries a bag to church and she carries a bag to market. Moreover, she often carries a bag to bed. She hangs it up beside her pillow and has it ready in case she should want any one of half a dozen little accessories in the night—a flashlight to see the clock, a cough drop if she chokes, a handkerchief if need be, or—and this has actually been known—a chocolate drop if she wakes up hungry.

And of course she has bags for the beach. There is one sort that contains bathing costume and accessories that she carries to the bath house, and another that she carries actually to the beach, containing her handkerchief and purse. If she merely lingers on the beach she carries this all the time. If she goes in the water she entrusts this little bag to someone on the shore.

Not a few brides of the summer have carried delightful bags to the altar. One carried by an aristocratic English bride was a combination of brocade to match her gown and crystal beads. She carried this in addition to a bouquet.

SIR JOHN CROSSIE GIVES ORPHANS AN OUTING.

The little girls of the Methodist Orphanage were given a very enjoyable outing by Sir John Crossie on Thursday, 19th inst. The children were conveyed in the motor bus at 10 o'clock to Bowring Park, there they spent a merry and happy afternoon boating, bathing and larking in the sunshine, until the clouds gathered and the young people were driven to the Bungalow by a shower of rain which luckily did not last long. During the course of the afternoon the children were treated to ice-cream and a delicious tea, lemonade and candy. Finally the long drive homeward during which the little ones cheered and sang songs, crowned the jolly day. This has been the second time this summer that Sir John has shown his generosity and kindness to these who have learnt to think a great deal of him.
