Guelph Evening Mercury. WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 9, 1873.

Town and County News.

The Montreal Telegraph Company have opened an office at Orchardville, 8 miles from Mount Forest.

The Wheeler and Redmond Troupe. We would remind our readers that this popular troupe give one of their performances in the Town Hall to-night. From what we have heard of them, we expect a very superior entertainment.

Social and Lecture.—We would again remind our readers of the social and lecture in the Primitive Methodist Church on Thursday evening. Refreshments to be served from 7, after which the Rev. Mr. Guttry, of Toronto, will give his celebrated lecture on George Peabody. Mr. Guttry is well known as an eloquent and forcible lecturer, and we are sure his lecture on this occasion will be quite a literary treat.

INQUEST.—On Saturday last an inquest was held at Elora, on the body of the late John Bain, sr., whose death we chronicled in our issue of Saturday. It was shown that deceased had complained for some days of a pain in his side, and that he had taken some laudanum, and brandy the night before his death, to relieve the pain. During the night he complained of being cold, and asked for more bed. At about 8 o'clock his daughter discovered that he was dead. It would appear that he died between 3 and 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. A verdict was brought in of "Died by the visitation of God."

BRIDGE CARRIED AWAY ON THE GRAND RIVER.—We learn that the bridge across the Grand River at Winterbourne was carried away on Saturday evening about six o'clock. An ice jam formed about a quarter of a mile above the bridge during the day, and the pressure of the water on this mass, which extended to the bridge, was more than the structure could stand, and at the time mentioned all the main portion of the bridge was swept away, leaving only the approaches on each side. The bridge was built about 15 years ago, and was needing repairs. A lot of lumber was landed this winter to have it repaired, which will now come in very handy in the construction of the new bridge, which will likely be proceeded with as soon as the season will permit.

The rain yesterday and last night was pretty lively, and came down as if it meant business. We heard it remarked that it was splendental weather—for young ducks perhaps, or geese. It made things very dull and disagreeable in town, and little or no business was done. Within the last twenty-four hours or so the speed has risen some two and a half feet, flooding all the flats down by the Dundas bridge. The flood has done considerable damage at Dundas. Portions of the cotton mills were submerged, and engines, boilers, etc., washed away. Loss about $2000. Thorp's bridge was swept away, also the main pier of the bridge at the west end, cutting off connection with the works of Litter, Mair & Co. The oldest inhabitant does not remember so sudden and extensive a flood.

POLICE COURT.

April 9.

Robert White, a bus driver, was charged by Jas. Thorp with leaving his service without notice. Fined $1.00 and costs.

Dora Martin and Julia Ann Martin, two well-known characters, were charged by the Chief Constable with vagrancy. Fined $4.00 each, and costs, or twenty days in jail.

KNOX COLLEGE, TORONTO.—The Presbyterians of Toronto and elsewhere, feeling that the present buildings, known as Knox College, Toronto, are entirely inadequate to serve the various purposes for which they were intended, have taken steps to raise the necessary funds to erect an entirely new building, which shall prove an ornament to the city and a credit to the church. A large sum of money has already been subscribed for this purpose—$14,000 being promised in Toronto alone, while $2,000 or $3,000 more have been promised by outsiders. About $20,000, it is believed, will be raised in Toronto alone. The proposed building will cost $50,000 or $60,000, and we are sure that the Presbyterians throughout the Province will gladly subscribe, and raise the amount required with promptitude and cordiality!

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES.

The Prince of Wales and the Tempters.

The Gasmen's Strike.

London, April 8th.—The Prince of Wales is to be installed Grand Commander of the Order of the Knights of Templar.

London, April 9th.—The department of arts at the Vienna Exposition will present a fine display. England sends paintings valued at two million dollars; France contributes five hundred paintings and Italy three hundred statues. Elaborate show cases have already arrived from all parts of Europe. America is behind in this respect.

Paris, April 9.—An election is soon to be held in Paris to fill a vacant seat in the Assembly. The candidates are, Jemmet, a supporter of President Thiers, and Barode, an extreme Radical.

Lyons, April 9th.—The members of the Municipal Council and Council of the General Department have protested against the law recently adopted by the National Assembly, abolishing the Central Municipality, and have resigned.

New York, April 8th.—The capture of the Spanish commander, Gen. Pottier, in the Cinco Villas district, is confirmed. It is also reported that his entire staff was captured with him, by the Cubans.

Port Jervis, N. Y., April 8th.—The train on the Monticello & Port Jervis R. R. are stuck in the mud, caused by the slides.

New York, April 8th.—Arrived steamship "Russia" from Liverpool.

Washington, April 9th, 1 a.m.—Probabilities for New York and New England are light easterly winds and partly cloudy weather, easterly winds, clouds and rains.

St. Louis, April 9th.—Rise in the river was so rapid that a large amount of freight on the levee could not be saved. Reports from the interior of this and other States say that the tributaries of the upper rivers are swelling greatly, and a general freshet is feared, and it is believed, much property will be destroyed.

Portland, Me., April 9th.—Arrived steamship "Scandinavian" from Liverpool.

New York, April 9th.—The gasmen and police came into collision last evening and after a short and sharp tussle the policemen were victorious. The strikers made a demonstration on Manhattan gas works, on Tenth Avenue, but the attacking party were repulsed. The strikers number nearly four hundred.

News From Ottawa.

Special to the Mercury.

Ottawa, April 9, p.m.

Public Accounts Committee met this morning, and were again engaged in the investigation of the Intercolonial Railway matters.

Sir Francis Hincks is laid up with rheumatism.

The House will adjourn on Thursday till the following Tuesday.

The Committee on the Pacific Railway charges are not expected to commence enquiry till after the Easter vacation.

The weather is very unpleasant, steel and rail falling all over.

Local and Other Items.

LAUDABLE.—Lauder has been carpet-bagging around Bramford, and the nearest thing the street boys there can think of now is to accuse each other of "lying like Lauders."

ALARMED.—The Protestants of South Germany are becoming alarmed at the length to which Bismarck carries his high policy against the Roman Catholics. The defiance of all State authority by the Roman Catholic bishops of North Germany is considered no justification for the proposed governmental interference with the internal affairs of churches of all creeds.

WORTHY OF Imitation.—The people of Copenhagen have a way of removing snow from the streets which seem at once practical and expeditious. The town authorities give a small sum of money to owners of horses and wagons as a sort of retaining fee, for which—these are bound, immediately after any fall of snow—to send their horses and wagons and cart it away at so much per day. It is dumped into the river, or upon the ice, if the river is frozen. So well does the plan work that a six inches fall of snow is often removed within a day and a-half.

A CRAZY MAN.—Mr. A. McCorkindale, Paisley Block, found a man on his farm on Tuesday morning completely drenched and apparently out of his mind. He was kindly cared for at his house, and in the afternoon brought into town but escaped out of their hands and went into several houses. Chief Constable Kelly put him in jail, in order that the doctor might examine him. He gives his name as John Noble, and appears to be respectable and connected.

A SLIGHT MISTAKE.—A mild and affectionate wife in Lancaster, Pa., overheard an acquaintance remark that her husband was too fond of her. She waited for him that night, and when he came home, she immediately asked him if he had been spending his time again with her. The unsuspecting husband admitted that he had, when, without giving him time to explain, she went for him with a fire shovel. The husband does not remember how the interview ended, but he could never convince his wife that her husband was any more than a good fellow. The wife of the moment got home and gets home before ten o'clock.

A STRANGE TEST.—Among certain Arabian tribes the Indian bridegroom is put to a strange test. While the marriage festivities are going on his hand is tied up in a paper bag full of fire ants. The bites of these creatures are said to be truly terrible. If the bridegroom can bear the test spoken of, he is considered equal to the trials of matrimony.

The New St. George's Church.

Description of the Building.

We have from time to time adverted to the progress made in the erection of the fine edifice on Woolwich street, for the congregation connected with St. George's Church in this town, and now that the building is all but completed, a fuller description of it than we have yet given will not be out of place. Before doing so we may premise that the work on the church was commenced in the fall of 1870, when the foundations were dug, and the basement walls built to the level of the ground. In the following year work was recommenced, and the masonry proceeded with more or less vigor. In the fall of 1872 the basement was completed, and ready for occupation, and in it the congregation have worshipped while the work for the completion of the church proper was going on. The undertaking, ever since a large and wealthy congregation like that belonging to St. George's Church, was of no ordinary character, but by great liberality, and the exercise of a spirit of unanimity, they have overcome all difficulties, and have now the gratifying prospect of soon worshipping in an edifice which their money has been held in Paris to fill a vacant seat in the Assembly. The candidates are, Jemmet, a supporter of President Thiers, and Barode, an extreme Radical.

foliage gilt. Here—one on each side—are two reading desks, and further on the seats, two on each side, for the choir. Still further on we come to the communion-railing, of similar design and execution to the one previously mentioned, with a massive brass rod in the centre, which can be removed at pleasure to admit the officiating clergyman to the table. The floor of this part, richly carpeted, and a massive communion table stands close to the wall, on which is a beautiful cloth, with a ruby ground, and richly embroidered. It was contributed by friends in the old country. On one side of the table stands the Bishop's stall, and on the other the sexton's stall, with seats for three clergymen. The ceiling of the chancel is painted like that of the church. It is painted in ultramarine, and studded with gilt stars, while the wood work is nicely carved, finishing with lightly decorated corbels. Below the walls are richly painted and decorated in blue, green and gold, and underneath this again they are covered with a rich crimson gilt papering. An appropriate inscription from Scripture, beautifully painted, ornaments the wall immediately over the communion table.

On the south side of the chancel stands the organ chamber, the front of which is being in line with the three arches which divide the chamber from the main building. The organ was built by Messrs Warren & Co., of Montreal, and is a large and powerful instrument, with 21 stops, 2 banks of manuals, 2 octaves of pedals and 3 sets of pipes, each set filling its appropriate arch. Another set of pipes fills a small arch fronting the church. The pipes are ornamented, and when viewed from a distance look well. It cost $2,400 and was purchased by the ladies of the congregation, who, with a spirit worthy of all commendation, raised the funds to themselves. They also accomplished their handsome gift by paying for the furnaces used in heating the church, and we understand they intend to crown their noble efforts by raising a sufficient sum to put up an iron railing in front of the church. At the south side of the chancel stands the Bishop's stall, of Ohio stone, handsomely carved and placed on a stone pedestal. It was cut by Mr. Armitage, of Toronto, cost $150, and was presented to the church by the children of the congregation. On the opposite side of the chancel stands the pulpit, a handsome Gothic structure, elevated a few steps above the chancel floor, with a north railing leading up to it, of the same pattern as that running across the chancel. The aisles, vestibles and passages are all matted.

The vestry is on the north-side of the chancel, being only divided from it by a passage, thus rendering it most convenient for the minister, who has only a few steps to walk from it till he is in the church. The apartment has been most tastefully and richly furnished by Mr. George Elliott, whose liberality in this, as in other matters connected with the church, deserves special mention. The furniture is complete, including the parson's chair, massive table, book-case, wardrobe, washing and toilet apparatus. The painting and decorations are also in keeping with the architecture.

The body of the walls are of stucco finish, of a light blue color, the arches, ceiling, &c., of three coat plaster, in what is usually known as hard finish. The general effect is greatly improved by a number of appropriate inscriptions from Scripture over the arches and lower side windows. These are done in old English style, and being of variegated colors are very pleasing to the eye. They have been admirably executed by Mr. Elliott, of Toronto. Over the great central arch in the nave is the inscription, "In all places where I record my name, I will come over the main door in the west gate the words, "How assist are thy tabernacles, O Lord of Hosts," and over the transept door, "Ye shall reverence my sanctuary, I am the Lord."

The church will be brilliantly lit with gas. In the chancel there are four brass standards of novel and handsome design, with nine lights each. The nave will be lit with two coronas in brass, 21 lights in each corona. There will also be pendants between each arch to light the aisles, 6 lights in each pendant. In addition there is a chandelier in each transept, 9 lights to each, and the pulpit is lighted with two handsome standards, richly ornamented. There will also be two lights in the vestibule, and one in the south porch. The gas fittings are all of clear brass, new in design and very elaborate. They were manufactured by Messrs. James Ritchie & Son, Toronto, Canadian manufacture. The fittings are being put up under the superintendence of Mr. Jas. Hoskins.

The style of the building, both exterior and interior, is known as the early decorated English, or that which prevailed in the early part of the fourteenth century, and is that which is proving best adapted to modern ecclesiastical wants. It is intended to fence off the church on the side facing Woolwich street by an iron railing with heavy cut stone gate posts and gates, opposite each of the side doors. The church will seat about 800 persons.

We have now given as full a description of the church as our space will permit. It is a noble edifice, an ornament to Guelph, and as we already remarked, a worthy monument of the liberality of the congregation. Mr. H. Langley was architect. Mr. Stephen Bolt contractor for the whole work. These contractors being—for the mason work, Mr. D. Kennedy; plastering, Mr. Wm. Day; painting, Mr. F. Sturdy; tin work, Mr. George Howard; glazing, and stained glass, Mr. McCausland, Toronto; ornamental iron work, Mr. Caleb Chase; slating, Mr. Wm. Duthie, Toronto; carpentry, Mr. John Mill, Hamilton; decorations of the chancel (from a design by Mr. E. M. Chadwick, Toronto) and inscriptions, Mr. Wm. Fullinwider, Toronto. It is but right to say that the chief contractor as well as all the sub-contractors have performed the work to the entire satisfaction of the building committee.

The church will be opened for divine service on Sunday, the 20th inst. Service at 11 a.m., when the Bishop of Toronto will preach; and at 7 p.m., when the Rev. Provost, of Trinity College, will preach. There will be service on Monday evening, at half-past seven, and again on Tuesday morning at 11 a.m., when the Rev. Dr. Boomer, Dean of Huron, will preach. Service will also be held on Wednesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday evenings, at which ministers from a distance will assist. We have no doubt these services will be largely
