Hong Kong, May 1.—Rebellion, brigandage and anarchy are stalking through the western half of Kwang Tung Province, murdering, pillaging and burning.

The brigand chief, Lu of Shuntian, is at the head of a horde of outlaws whose object is robbery, accomplished by killing.

Following the standards of these men are anarchist groups who purpose the present outbreak lends itself most advantageously. The combined forces have thrown themselves with fanatical disregard of their own lives against the troops, and since the first outbreak Thursday night much blood has been shed.

So far Canton is a special source of alarm, as it is feared that the defeated soldiers will desert their officers if the revolters appear to have the upper hand. Official advices and the refugees arriving from Canton confirm the situation.

SISTER WAS FOUND AFTER 37 YEARS

Joyful Reunion of a London Man and Long Lost Relative in Pennsylvania.

Mr. W. H. Gallup, 87 Mamelon Street, Never Gave Up Hope and Won at Last.

After a search embracing 37 years, Mr. W. H. Gallup, 87 Mamelon Street, East London, has at last found his sister, who has been parted from him all that time. She was located in Chester, Pa., and Mr. Gallup paid her a visit last week, the first time he has seen her in nearly two score years.

When they were quite young the family was broken up. Mr. Gallup came to London and his sister went to the United States in care of relatives. He did not hear from her for a time, and endeavored to locate her.

Countless letters were written by him, but to no purpose. Not long ago, he traced her to Chester, Pa. He corresponded with some officials in that city, and they were able to further trace the lady. She had married in the meantime, but her maiden name was recorded, and that means she was located.

Two weeks ago, Mr. Gallup received absolute proof that his sister was living in Chester, and paid her a visit. It was a great surprise to her.

A Joyful Meeting.

The meeting was a joyful one. Mr. Gallup spent several days in Chester, afterwards paying a visit to Baltimore, Philadelphia and other cities.

"I had often read of such instances," declared Mr. Gallup. "I had often wondered if such a thing would happen to me. I had had no word of my sister for over thirty years, and I was anxious to see her. I wrote and wrote, but never received much encouragement. However, I at last located her at Chester, and I can assure you it was a happy reunion."

A Chester, Pa., paper has the following to say of the reunion.

"Thirty-seven years ago, W. H. Gallup, of London, Canada, parted from his sister, now Mrs. Mary Kwing, and since reaching Melbourne has been making efforts to locate her. He was not successful until yesterday, when he found her at the longest avenue, near Fourth street, where she occupies apartment."

Mr. Gallup, prior to coming here, had been in communication for some time with Chester people, who finally assisted in locating Mrs. Kwing, the woman whom he had parted when quite young.

PRIZE FOR DRAMATIC CLUB

Winnipeg People Were Charmed With the Performance—Ottawa and London Are in Line for First Place.

The London Dramatic Club will get a valuable prize even if the judges in the Earl Grey dramatic competition do not award them premier honors.

One of the members of the club, in a telegram to his family in the city to-day, stated that the Winnipeg citizens were so delighted with the presentation given by the London players that a subscription list has been circulating for the purpose of obtaining a suitable trophy for the club, in case the judges failed to give them first prize.

It was also stated that the club would be equally as valuable as that donated by the Governor-General.

The club are on their way eastward, and will arrive in London on Tuesday at noon.

A number of prominent Old Boys in Winnipeg are behind the scheme, and it is being backed up by the citizens of Winnipeg.

The latest information is to the effect that Ottawa and London are in the running, with many points in favor of the local Thespians.

$200 REWARD FOR PERSON WHO FOUND WILSON BOY'S BODY

It Looks as Though Roger Hutchinson, of High Street, Has the Best Claim to the Cash—Council Will Look Into the Matter.

Who will get the reward for finding the body of Freddie Wilson?

That question is puzzling Mayor Beattie, and it is very probable that the council tonight will have to deal with that problem.

It will be remembered that early in February, the city council at a special meeting, decided to offer a reward of $200 for the recovery of the lad, dead or alive. No time limit was set, and the money stands today ready to be handed over to the person finding the body.

It will also be remembered that a fortune teller from Port Huron wrote to Mayor Beattie, claiming the money on the grounds that in a dream she had seen the body of Freddie Wilson in the river. No attention was paid to her claim at the time, and it is not at all likely that she will get the reward.

Mayor Beattie informed The Advertiser that the reward would not be paid over to her.

Who Is the Lucky Man?

Who was the first to discover the body is now the question that is agitating his worship, and it is probable that evidence will be taken to determine who is entitled to the money.

According to the information received, Mr. Roger Hutchinson, of High Street, is most entitled to it.

Mr. Charles Mountjoy, who was one of those who helped get the body out of
