The replies which were received give the vertical system the highest recommendation, both from an economy and an efficiency standpoint.

Montreal shows that the gas department of that city is producing 15,000 cubic feet of gas and an increased amount of tar and ammonia from every ton of coal carbonized, and also that during the seven years of vertical retort service, the department has been compelled to increase its daily output from 4,000,000 cubic feet to 8,000,000 cubic feet.

Results achieved at the Ottawa plant, as stated in the reply, show even greater production. The depart ment obtains an average of 15,000 cubic feet of gas per ton of coal carbonized, and in Ottawa, as in Montreal, the output of the plant has been now being more than 1,500,000 cubic feet, as against a daily average output of 800,000 cubic feet nine years
