We expect to call for tenders for the first half of the undertaking within the next three weeks The total expenditure involved in the undertaking is approximately one mil-

It will probably take ten months to complete a number of the principal roadways, but when the work is well under way the balance of the undertaking can be taken in hand

Steamship Victoria Starts on Last Trip of Season-Carries Very Few Passengers

SEATTLE, Oct. 20 .- The steamship Victoria sailed for Nome today, the last vessel of any line to leave for Bering Sea this season. The Victoria, which brought down from the north a record passenger list of 641, made another record when she sailed today, taking the smallest passenger list of the season, two women and eight men making the trip. The Victoria's cargo consist ed of chiefly shipments of supplies which consignors are hurrying north to merchants who will need the provisions to carry them through the long winter. It is expected that the Victoria will be the last steamship to leave Bering Sea, bringing south a full list of passen gers and a large consignment of treasure. Two other steamers, the Senator and the Northwestern, are now in Bering Sea and have all accommodations

Victora Club Proposes Purchasing Nine Acres of Reautiful Property and Establishing Fine Headquarters

commodious and comfortable headquarters for the cricketers of Victoria are contemplated. In a few words it is pro-posed by officials of the Victoria club to secure nine acres of level and cleared land, with a beautiful outlook on the gulf, and altogether suitable, for conversion into playing grounds and as a site for a handsome club house. The scheme, of course, has not yet assumed definite shape. A meeting of all members has been called for next Tuesday evening, the 24th inst., at the Balmoral hotel when it will be given careful consideration and, if it meets with the approval of the majority, a committee will be appointed to take the necessary steps to carry it through.

In the circular which has been issued appointed to take the necessary steps to carry it through.

In the circular which has been issued describing, in brief form, what is contemplated, it is said:

"For fifty years, off and on, the Victoria Cricket Club has been taiking of owning its grounds. We now have the chance to secure nine acres (or less) of sea view, windsheltered; level land, within ten minutes walk (for a cripple) of two car lines. As an investment, without any cricket club to help pay interest, experts pronounce it an A-I speculation. The entire field has been cultivated and is so level that grading is unnecessary. In order that the matter may be placed clearly before you, and that the club may benefit from your suggestions or advice, you are earnestly requested to attend the meeting arranged. There you will hear of a novel proposition, simple and inhear of a novel proposition, simple and inexpensive, embracing winter and summer outdoor, sports, indoor pastimes and social delay.

sexes, provided for in spacious clab houses, out-buildings and grounds."

While it is not definitely known where the property referred to is it is understood that it lies immediately back of the Bowker residence near the Willows. Those with whom the project has been discussed have displayed keen enthusiasm. There is an area there large enough to allow provisions for various forms of sport as well as for cricket. For instance a large number of tennis and croquet courts could be installed. The club house thought of is one of a character that would reflect credit on members. In it the intention is to have a billiard apartment, bowling alleys, etc. In short the idea is to make this one of the big sporting centers of the city. Of course the primary purpose is to make a permanent home for the cricketers whose numbers have been increasing to a remarkable extent during the past several years. Besides, owing to her axceptional advantages, Victoria has come to be recognized as the cricket headquarters of all Pacific Northwest devotees of the pastime. Here is held the annual tournament. And in order to provide for the entertainment of the large number who are attracted each summer by this feature it is essential that larger grounds be arranged for without delay.
