THE ROADS

Premier Veniot's visit to St. Andrews included an inspection of the road from St. John to the border, and Hon. Mr. Veniot well says that the fact that this road is now in fine condition should be well advertised, so important is it in connection with tourist travel which this province desires to encourage, and, indeed, is actively encouraging.

Although the patrol system was introduced only a few weeks ago, it is being rapidly extended, and the results should give great satisfaction not only to motor car owners and tourists but to the residents along the main roads which are brought under this system of speedy repair and upkeep. Already, Mr. Veniot says, more than half of the main roads are now being systematically patrolled, and the plan is producing admirable results in keeping the chief highways in excellent condition.

This work was decided upon before the province experienced heavy losses from freshets and from forest fires, and yet it is, and always should be, a work of real economy. Particularly in the spring and in the autumn a stitch in time saves nine on the roads, and the patrol force will prevent heavy expenditures which would otherwise be necessary, as well as adding to the comfort and convenience of those who make use of the roads.

It is a sound policy to take good care of the roads which have been built up to a much better degree than ever before in the province. This is a big problem considering the immense mileage with which the government has

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP MONUMENT

Second Attempt to Wreck Monument Erected to Soldiers.

Montreal, July 4.—Early yesterday the residents of the village of St. Hilaire were roused from their beds by the sound of a violent explosion when it was found that an attempt had been made to blow up the Colonel Gault monument in that village erected to the memory of St. Hilaire men who fell in the war. The sides of the horse trough and drinking fountain at the base of the monument were broken, together with three windows of the church and 27 windows in a general store. A man of suspicious appearance was seen loitering around the village prior to the explosion and he is believed to have been the tool of a gang which damaged the monument a year ago. No arrests have as yet been made.

HON. CHAS. MARCIL TO BE APPOINTED

The Member of Parliament for Bonaventure to Be Clerk of Privy Council.

Ottawa, July 2.—Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Bonaventure, Quebec, will be appointed. It is understood that the position of clerk of the Privy Council, vacated by the recent death of Rodolphe Boudreau. Mr. Marcil, who is an old newspaper man, has been a member of the House of Commons since 1896, and has filled the important office of Speaker of the House of Commons.

to deal, and there is every reason to think that a full season's experience of the patrol plan will give general satisfaction. More attention, however, might be given the roads in the northern part of the province, and particularly in the northern part of Restigouche County.

EXHIBITION OF OLD TRIBAL DANCES

Magnificent Pageant Presented After Opening of Banff-Windermere Road.

Field, B. C., July 4.—Following the opening of Banff-Windermere Road, five tribes of Kootenay Indians assembled at Lake Windermere, B. C., from points as far south as Kalispel, Montana, have entertained the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and large numbers of tourists from Canada and the United States to a magnificent pageant of costumes and dances, followed by a stampee. The celebrations have centered round a semi-circular tepee camp and the David Thompson memorial fort erected last summer at Lake Windermere Camp. The Lieutenant Governor replied in the Kootenay language to the welcome of the great chiefs, and was escorted in imposing ceremony by a glittering cavalcade of braves richly costumed in the beaded blues and vermillions favored by these highly cultured Indians to the beautiful home of Randolph Bruce, old time pioneer, who acted as host to the official party. The ceremonials and exhibition of old tribal dances surpassed in splendor anything of the kind hitherto seen in the Pacific slope and stirred the admiration of spectators, who were particularly impressed by the fine bearing and discipline of these mountain tribesmen during the days of celebration. His Honor the Lieutenant Governor was so much impressed that he added substantially to the prize money for the stampee, leaving allocation of this to the discretion of the chiefs in recognition of their evident regard for the welfare of their tribes. The stampee was particularly interesting, owing to skilled horsemanship of Kootenay Indians, who are particularly interested in improving the breed of native ponies. A strong movement has been initiated to ensure that the genius for pageantry displayed by the Kootenays should not be confined only to sporadic occasions, but should be encouraged by all celebrations, and with this movement the Lieutenant Governor has expressed himself as in entire sympathy.

UP TO THE TIMES.
A newspaper may boom a town through its official and news columns, but a critical investor takes his cue from the advertising columns for substantial evidence as to the thriving and prosperity of the place. To him the advertising is the barometer that measures the prosperity of a town. The ads reflect a prosperous condition and tell him that the place is up with the times in business.

A short address was also read and Mr. and Mrs. McEwen warmly expressed their appreciation of the thoughtfulness of the people of St. Andrew's.
