Thomas Harvie of Harvie & Ca., box manufacturers, 28 and 30 Sheppard-street, was tried on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. Some time during last spring the defendant advertised for a bookkeeper with $500, for which mortgages on land were to be given. An old man named James Davis, said to be worth $40,000, applied for the situation, paid his money and got a mortgage on land represented to be worth $1000. Evidence given in court placed the probable value of the land at $50, and at most not more than $300. A week after his engagement the old man lent Harvie another $500 on much the same security. The third week he was discharged without reason.

John Rogers gave evidence to his having been "roped in" to the extent of $300 by the prisoner Harvie in much the same way.

After His Honor had addressed the jury Mr. Murpby, counsel for the defence, asked permission to bring forward a witness to prove that Harvie paid $700 for the property in question. His Honor was most anxious to hear the evidence, but when he learned that the witness was a Mr. Hosier, a former partner of Harvie, he refused, stating that he would put no confidence in it. The jury found a verdict of "guilty."

THE PARK BYLAW 18 SOUND.

THE PARK BYLAW 18 SOUND.

Justice Galt Says the City Has Ample Powerto Enforce It. Chief Justice Galt yesterday delivered judgment in the case of Cribben v. the City of Toronto, sustaining the Park Sunday Bylaw. In his judgment His Lordship says "that no question as to the legality of the bylaw was raised. Objections to its being unrea-sonable and unconstitutional were strongly urged, the contention being that all perso urged, the contention being that all persons have the right to hold meetings and make speeches in public parks and that the council have no power to interfere with such rights. I cannot assent to this view."

The case of Bailey v. Williamson, L.R. 8, Q.B., a similar case in the English courts, is then cited, and the learned Chief Justice says: "It seems to me that in accordance with this judgment, the corporation of the City of Toronto has power and authority to pass the bylaw, and that it violates no constitutional right and cannot be said to be unreasonable."

As to the objection to the word "Sabbath" being used in the bylaw instead of Sunday, His Lordship cites the definition of this word as given in the Imperial Dictionary and decides that there can be no question as to the day of the week which is meant by the terms of the bylaw, at any rate in the mind of a Christian.

Christian.

The application to quash the bylaw he dismisses with costs.

Ashbridge's Bay. Editor World: Neither J. C. Beavis, Mayor Clarke nor the City Engineer's Departmen can claim priority of thinking out a scheme of reclamation for Ashbridge's Bay.

The Courier newspaper of March 5, 1835, contains the information that a meeting of the friends of the measure was held at the Commercial Hotel and a committee named to request the governor to name an en-gineer and the mayor and corporation gineer and the mayor and corporation another one for the purpose of reporting on the cut (eastern gap). His Excellency promised to do all in his power to put the entire marsh at the disposal of the committee, etc., and the writer has in his possession a map prepared for the purpose, showing the canal through Ashbridge's Bay; map is dated March 12, 1835. Mr. Beavis truthfully says the engineer is wasting the citizens' money. the engineer is wasting the citizens' money.

his own proposition as outlined for the same position.

City Hall Notes.

Two markets and license sub-committees which were to have met yesterday afternoon at the City Hall falled to form a quorun. The first was to consider the advisability of changing the stands of the expressmen, and the other the opening of a new park in the East End to be known as St. Lawrence Park.

A deputation from the City Hall, consisting of the Mayor, Ald. Saunders and Hallam, the City Solicitor, Engineer, Treasurer, Clerk, Surveyor and Superindendent of the Waterworks, was to have met the Provincial Secretary yesterday in his office in the Parliament buildings to lay before him a proposition to annex to the city a strip of land 200 feet deep on the north side of Danforth-avenue. The train from Hamilton, by which the secretary intended to have arrived, was late and the interview was postponed till next Tuesday. A large number of opponents of the proposal were present, among whom were: Rev. John Langtry, Rev. J. P. Lewis, Mr. J. H. Plummer, trustee of the synod and reeves of Humberston; Mr. M. B. Jackson, registrar of the Court of Common Pleas; and Mr. Henry Frankland, ex-reeve of York. r of the Court of Comr non Pleas; and Mr. Henry Frankland, ex-reeve of York,
