

find a similar case mentioned in any of the bee-books, and I have "Langstroth on the Hive and Honey-bee," and have read the A B C, also a good many bee-journals. I can find cases mentioned of two queens in one hive—one old one and young one, but never two from the same lot of queen cells. The queens are both good, as I have taken one of them and introduced her to a colony of hybrids, and she was well received, and both colonies are doing well."

HONEY MARKET.

CINCINNATI.

There is a very slow demand from manufacturers for extracted honey, with a large supply in the market, while the demand is very good for clover honey in square glass jars. Prices for all qualities are low and range from 4 to 8 cents a pound on arrival. Supply and demand is fair for choice comb honey in small sections, which bring from 12 to 15 cents per pound on arrival. Good yellow beeswax is in good demand and arrivals are fair. It brings 20 to 22 cents on arrival.

CHAS. F. MUTH.

Cincinnati, O. Nov. 10, 1885.

BOSTON.

Honey is selling very well but prices are very low, and we are often obliged to shade our prices in order to make rates. We quote 1 lb. comb, 14 to 16 cents. 2 lb. comb, 12 to 14 cents. Extracted, 6 to 8 cents.
