IN MEMORIAM.

On Thursday evening, December 7th, Elizabeth Hagerman VanKoughnet, was called to her rest. One of the oldest residents in this neighbourhood, she has worshipped in St. George's for nearly fifty years. With her were always associated the graces of love and pity, and a standing monument to their practical result is the present Orphans' Home. This great institution owes, under God, much of its success and excellent organization to her zeal and farsightedness. Many can remember when it stood in relative obscurity on Sullivan Street, and can contrast it with the present fine institution, as it now stands free from debt in the open spaces of the west end. Her care for the orphans was untiring up to the very end, and no more appropriate mourners could have been chosen to follow her than these children who will "rise up and call her blessed."

CHRISTMAS TREAT.

The Christmas Sunday School Treat comes off on Tuesday, January 9th. At Christmas-tide we are all so glad to help the children to be happy that it needs only to mention the matter to ensure kindly help towards the expenses from those whom Christmas always makes young again.

Parish Notes.

As Christmas Day fell on a Monday the Christmas Eve service was for once worthily celebrated, and as much contrast as possible was made between the morning service for the 4th Sunday in Advent, and the evening service, the first to celebrate the Christmas Festival. All the decorations had been prepared with a view to being easily put up, and as soon as morning service was over many hands were ready to assist in putting up screen, texts and wreathing. The music was sweet and appropriate, and the old carol, "It came upon the midnight clear," was printed on the anthem paper, so all could join in. The sermon was preached by the Provost of Trinity College. On Christmas morning the Rector preached and the music was again full of happy association.

"If looking back a few short years
 At Christmas makes you sad;
 Then look back eighteen hundred years
 And God will make you glad."
