

GENERAL BRADDOCK'S ORDERLY BOOK,
NO. 2.

CAMP AT THE GROVE,
Thursday, June 12th, 1755.
Parole—"Ilford."

Field Officer of the Picquet Lt Col Gage.

The Picquet to load with cartridges, and not with raming Ball, to challenge and demand the countersign till troop beating; and the Field officer and Picquet to be always received as Grand rounds as often as he thinks proper to visit the out posts, by Night or Day.

The advanced corporals and sentrys to have their bayonets fixed; the Detached partys from the sergeants guard to have corporals with them; the advanced sentrys not to suffer anybody to come within ten paces of their arms without demanding the countersign.

The advanced partys not to build any bowers, upon pain of severest punishment; those already built to be immediately destroyed.

These orders to be read to the men, by the officer of ye Picquet before the out guards are posted.

Whatever communications from sergeant's guards to sergeants guards, and from corporals guards to corporal's guards are not yet opened to be done immediately. This to be a standing order, and to
