EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Ten Dollars a Week.

HOW can a family of five—two children, a baby, a man and his wife—live on ten dollars a week? The first answer that comes to mind is, "they cannot," but ten dollars a week is exactly the sum that eighty per cent. of city dwellers have. Out of this income ten dollars a month must be saved for rent, the remainder must clothe the family, supply the provisions and provide for the special needs of the baby. There was a time in this country when ten dollars a week was enough with which to care for a family. A book bearing the title, "Ten Dollars a Week Enough," was written to prove it, and it shows how easily a good manager could apportion such an income to the best advantage, but that time is in the past. Today it is only by constant denial, most careful planning and constant saving as to what can be done without, that families of laboring men can barely exist on this sum.

Then there is the matter of soups. Days when there is meat for dinner the liquid in which it is cooked, and the bones, are carefully saved. Not to make a huge soup, but a broth, rich enough to take the place of the meat which must be absent, for soup and meat are not for the same meal when five are to be fed three meals on an appropriation of sixty cents.

Barley is generally used in broths, beans are excellent but no longer cheap, rice is delicate but not so nourishing as lentils. Besides the cereal there must be potatoes, a carrot, and any other vegetable at hand. When soup is the order of the day the Bible injunction, "gather up the fragments that nothing be lost," is religiously followed. A bowl of this soup is so satisfying that nothing else is needed; in it is health and variety.

People must learn that economy is a daily saving of little things, and not a spasmodic effort to be practiced the last of the week or just before the month's payday.

One of our city teachers has put the question of living on ten dollars a week squarely before the pupils and is demanding that they solve it by a series of house hunting and marketing expeditions. They are expected to apportion their imaginary incomes to cover the needs of a family of five and to put their result in writing. Because four-fifths of our people are doing this very thing and doing it cheerfully and well, these school girls know the task is not impossible and are studying the question earnestly. A glance at their note books a few weeks later will be interesting to us and, perhaps, beneficial.

The average baby cuts his teeth somewhat in this fashion: About the first month he begins to drool more than he has before, the lower gum becomes swollen and somewhat inflamed and between this time and the ninth month he begins to drool more than he has before, the lower gum becomes swollen and somewhat inflamed and between this time and the ninth month he begins to drool more than he has before, the lower gum becomes swollen and somewhat inflamed.

There are a number of things to be thought of while the baby is teething; one of them is the necessity of keeping his clothing dry when the drooling is profuse. The little padded bibs are useful for this, or a small bit of waterproof material placed under a cotton bib. It is not wise to let wet clothing remain on the baby's chest, as everything goes into his mouth at this time, so he must be carefully watched.

It is not well to allow him to chew on very hard substances like hard rubber or ivory; but a soft rubber ring which is washed often and kept clean, or a teething ring cracker may be given him to bite on at times. A piece of absorbent cotton wet with boric acid solution should be rubbed over the hot gums several times during the day; and plenty of cool, boiled water given baby to drink.

There is the sarracenia purpurea, or purple pitcher plant, called the "side-saddle flower," a very hardy specimen. It is a native of the province of Ontario. Then there is the "Cassia," a very hardy specimen. It is a native of the province of Ontario. Then there is the "Cassia," a very hardy specimen. It is a native of the province of Ontario.

There are so many wonderful things to talk about concerning these various pitcher plants that we shall not be able to do so here. We shall, however, except just a word or two to show we know what we are about.

You know our boys and girls around Toronto, and throughout Ontario are filled with native sarracenia, many of which we should become acquainted with.

Winnipeg Man Saves His Wife Through Samaria Prescription. How terrible the effects of the cure of drink when a woman is afflicted. Wives and daughters often save their husbands or fathers from the drinking habit through giving tasteless Samaria to them in their tea, coffee or food. But this is the story of a young husband in Winnipeg who overcame all difficulties and saved his wife.

The treatment of Samaria Prescription which I bought at Gordon Mitchell's Drug Store has saved my wife, who has been suffering from drink for twelve months ago. I had to go through trouble. I cannot thank you enough, for she never even thinks of drinking now, and she goes near anyone who has had a drink, she always says how she feels. I'd like to use your name, as we are so well known.

Free trial package of Samaria with Booklet, giving full particulars, directions, testimonials, price, etc., will be sent in a plain sealed package, enclosing a returning this paper, and a response addressed confidentially. Write to-day. The Samaria Prescription Company, Dept. 83, 142 Mutual Street, Toronto, Canada. Also for the City of Tamblin, Limited, at all ten stores.

Women will find more news of interest to them in The World's magazine page every morning than in any other paper.
