PRESS AGENCY FOR LIBERALS

"Canned" News Will Be Sent to Liberal Newspapers in Ontario by Mr. Rowell's Secretary.

Liberal newspapers—urban and rural—in the near future, will be well supplied with "canned" editorials, "abolish the bar" dope and illuminating articles on all other things pertaining to the activities of Leader Rowell and his party, and the Ontario Government will pay $1000 a year towards supplying the opposition papers with this "news."

It comes about this way. Main Johnston, secretary of the Ontario Motor League, and a former newspaper man, has been appointed secretary to Mr. Rowell. He will also act as the official press agent for the Ontario Liberal party. His salary is $2500 a year, and the government pays $1000 of this sum, this being allowed the leader of the opposition in order that he may engage a secretary. Mr. Johnston starts next week.

FAMOUS CHEF HERE

Nicolas Soyer Gives Daily Demonstrations at St. George's Hall

Nicolas Soyer, at the St. George's Hall, Elm street, was surrounded by a great number of Toronto ladies at his lecture yesterday and on persuasion of the fair sex has promised to demonstrate next week, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Soyer has a reputation as a chef, which position he has filled to almost all the nobility of England, and will readily at his lectures tell his audience many little anecdotes of the late King Edward VII, who, Soyer asserts, never missed one day without visiting his kitchen and passing, if necessary, his opinion on the dishes he had been served with.

Soyer has been touring the world, intending to go to Australia in a few months, then retiring altogether after 25 years in the kitchen. Soyer says if he had his time over again he would be a chef, preferring his profession to that of being prime minister or president of the United States.

Conciliation Board Refused

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—(Can. Press).—The labor department has refused to grant a board of conciliation in the dispute between the C.P.R. and the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, which controls five thousand men in the service of the railway.

A communication to this effect has been sent President Mosher of the brotherhood by the minister. This decision, the representatives of the men state, will not be accepted as final, and further representations will be made to the department.

The company has so far refused to treat with the men as a union.

2 The Sunday World 2

The Sunday World this week appropriately breathes of the spirit of Thanksgiving. On the front page of the Illustration Section is a group of farmyard pictures, with the fattened turkey very properly in the foreground.

The front page of the Editorial Section is also prettily decorated with a four-color picture descriptive of the Biblical injunction contained in the 100th Psalm. Special prominence is given to the 50th anniversary of the Royal Grenadier Regiment, which falls on Nov. 2. More than a page of pictures of various groups of officers and men of the regiment are given. Other subjects treated in the Pictorial Section are: Allen-Allard wedding; some of Toronto's finest police; parade of bluejackets in New York; Alex. Muir nature class; point-to-point races; Dunlop Trophy races; Argo-Montreal Rugby; intercollegiate sports; Woodbridge Fair; Book-Moore wedding; two interesting groups of five generations.

A new feature of The Sunday World will be Madame Sarah Bernhardt's letter. Bernhardt is the greatest figure in the history of the stage, and she writes interestingly on all topics concerning women.

Thanksgiving Concerts.

A perusal of the programs of the two concerts to be given in Massey Hall on Monday by the Royal English Handbell Ringers will afford convincing proof that nothing so good in the way of popular amusement will be offered on the holiday. No more delightful music than that produced on the bells can well be imagined. The artists have been together for so many years that they play in perfect unison. Among their numbers at Monday's concert will be: "The Chimes," "Dawn of Love," "Caliph of Bagdad," "Hallelujah Chorus," "Grand March," and a selection "British Empire," introducing many popular airs, including "Bonnie Dundee," "Ye Banks and Braes," and "Cock o' the North." The vocal work will be found equally attractive. Among the quartets announced are: "Annie Laurie," "The Dear Little Shamrock," and "Kentucky Home," and "Strike the Lyre" and "Comrades in Arms" will be given as double quartets. Among leading solos might be mentioned "I Was Dreaming," and "Love's Old Sweet Song" (alto) by Mr. E. Charlesworth; "Alice Where Art Thou," and "Mary of Argyle" (tenor), by Mr. W. Wain; bass solos, "The Miner," and "The Old Soldier," by Mr. J. E. Jessop. Duets will be sung by Messrs. Wain and Jessop, one of them being "Watchman What of the Night." Mr. F. Dawson, the entertainer of the company, will vary the programs with readings, humorous and otherwise, his first number being "The Man With the Single Hair." Those who have not secured their seats for this fine entertainment should do so without delay, either at the hall or at Nordheimer's music store.

Thanksgiving at Broadway.

Jessie Alexander and Harold Jarvis will be heard at Broadway Tabernacle in a combined song and story recital on Monday evening. Always popular, these artists should prove a strong holiday attraction.
