

JESUITS AT GUELPH COURT FULL ENQUIRY

Say Ministers Failing to Convict the Novitiate Are Now Attacking the Law.

NO CHANGE IN 250 YEARS

Complain That Statement That Jesuit Could Lie at Will is a Miserable Slander.

Special to The Toronto World.

Guelph, June 24.—The agitation which has resulted from the raid made on the night of June 7 at the Jesuit Novitiate is beginning to quiet down here, and it is not thought there may be much more news until an official report is forthcoming from the government. The feeling is general that the officials at the novitiate have not been guilty of any infractions of the Catholic church, and that the Jesuit ministers are now turning their attention to attacking the act itself.

Your correspondent had an interview this afternoon with Rev. Father Bourque, rector of the novitiate, and Very Rev. Father Power, superior general of the Jesuit order in Canada, and several of the most important points over which there was some contention were cleared up. Father Bourque stated that the Jesuit Novitiate courts the "zuehest inquiry into its records and the members in this institution, the date of their admission, ages, etc. "We are not keeping anything secret and our books and archives are open for the fullest inspection," he declared.

Very Rev. Father Power, superior general of the Jesuit order in Canada, stated that he had been asked to furnish out any information which would have a tendency to clear up the controversy, and he stated that he had no objection to doing so.

Outcome of Slander.

He said "such was our love of quiet and freedom and peace here that we remained silent for several days, at the request of the government, and had not the persistent ministers of Guelph taken their case to court. That is the highest possible slander on the Jesuit order and the Catholic Church, and I want to state most emphatically that if our order or any of our members of men of that stamp, we could not possibly exist, and the whole Roman Catholic Church would go down with us. We Jesuits have been on the firing line for the last 450 years, and we are still fighting strong. If men of other creeds and religions would exercise a little more brotherly charity the world would be the better. It is only the very lowest class of scoundrels who would say such things against us.

"We are getting tired of them trying to shift the responsibility; first they were after the ministers, and then they find they are disproven they shift the responsibility and talk about getting after the Jesuit order."

Very Rev. Father Power declared most emphatically that the novitiate was not shielding anyone from military service, and that the novitiate was not a refuge for anyone. He stated that the novitiate was not a refuge for anyone, and that the novitiate was not a refuge for anyone.

No Change in 250 Years.

In reply to a question he declared that there had been no change in the probationary period of the novitiate from what had been exacted of the order for the past 250 years, and in connection with the vows and obligations taken by a novice when he enters the institution, turned to the clause taken from the Catholic Encyclopedia by which it was shown that by the fact of his entrance into a congregation, the novice becomes an ecclesiastical person. If he is a novice in a religious order, he becomes a regular in the widest sense of the word; as such he is not bound by any vows but he is protected by the ecclesiastical immunities and shares in the indulgences and privileges of his order, as such he is not bound by any vows but he is protected by the ecclesiastical immunities and shares in the indulgences and privileges of his order, as such he is not bound by any vows but he is protected by the ecclesiastical immunities and shares in the indulgences and privileges of his order.

"What is your reply to the argument that there is one law for the Roman Catholic and another for the Protestant with regard to military service, the contention being that the Protestant colleges are depleted of men, while the men at such institutions as this novitiate escape?"

Declines to Discuss the Law.

In answer to this Rev. Father Power pointed out that the accusers were now trying to evade the charges they had first made. "The whole question is whether or not we are breaking the law in having men here who should be in military service, and until that statement is retracted by our accusers, I absolutely decline to discuss the question of the law. We have been accused of being law breakers, which has been proved false. The merits of the law we refuse to discuss, and we call upon them as honorable men to retract their statements regarding this place, and the men at the head of it against the whole Jesuit order and the Catholic church. These are the men who will go into their pulpits next Sunday and preach charity toward their brethren. Why can't men agree to disagree, and let it go at that?"

A list of all those who were in the institution at the time of the raid, together with the date of entry and their birth, was supplied, and the books of the institution were placed at the reporters' disposal for an inspection. These are being forwarded to Ottawa.

HAMILTON TO GREET HEROES OF VERDUN

Will Be in the City for About Two Hours and Will Be Well Entertained.

Hamilton, June 24.—The "Blue Devils" are coming to Hamilton. The heroic sons of France, who took part in the engagement at Verdun and are now touring the United States and Canada to show the type of men who said "they shall not pass," will be in this city for about two hours on the afternoon of July 2. They will arrive by special car at 1:30 and leave at 4:30, unless arrangements are made in the meantime to hold up their train for a few hours.

Thomas Binkley, secretary of the Kiwanis Club, upon his return from Toronto tonight informed The World that he had succeeded, after a great deal of trouble, in having the program changed, in order to have the famous Alpine hunters stop off in Hamilton. The original program called for the "Blue Devils" to stop at Toronto for New York at five o'clock, but now they will leave Toronto for Hamilton at 3:30, which means they will arrive here at 5:30.

"We will make our plans for their entertainment at once," said Mr. Binkley. "The program will consist of a motor ride, a banquet and a short route march. In order that the soldiers, who are tired and hungry, may be able to rest, a motor car will be provided for them."

Claiming unstated damages for alleged illegal seizure of a race horse named "Blue Devils" and a motor car, which was seized by the Ontario Mounted Police, William Hamilton, the plaintiff, who claims that he had a lien on the horse for board and keep amounting to $80, also threatens to make a seizure.

Damages to the amount of $300 for injuries sustained during a collision between a motor car and a motorcycle, as claimed by Arthur Hutchinson in an action against James Halloran, the defendant, which was heard in court yesterday.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

The defeat of the Austrian armies on the western bank of the Piave River is complete. Admission is made by the Austrian high command that the troops of Emperor Charles have been forced to evacuate the Montello Plateau, over which they had hoped to press their way and gain the Venetian plain, and "some sectors" of the positions they attained last week on the bank of the river between the plateau and the point where the stream empties into the Adriatic.

Bad weather and the rising of the Piave under the heavy rainfalls are assigned as the reasons for the withdrawal of the Austrians, but the Rome war office asserts that it was the impetuous attacks of the Italians that brought about the failure of an operation which was started with the intention of crushing the armies of General Diaz and forcing the Italians, like the Russians, to accept a Teuton ally peace.

All along the river the Italians have pressed back the invaders of their territory until only small units remain on the western bank, and across the stream King Victor Emmanuel's men are keeping well on the heels of the retreating enemy, who is fleeing in disorder. Again the cavalry has been thrown into the fighting and is sorely harassing the enemy, while machine guns from the ground and from aircraft are working havoc among the fleeing Austrian columns.

The losses to the enemy are described as enormous, both in men killed, wounded, made prisoner. An official statement from Rome, that has been published in Washington asserts that the Austrians have lost 45,000 men in prisoners alone.

The probability that this is true is enhanced by the fact that the river was swollen out of bounds, and most of the few bridges that had not been carried away by the freshet had been shot to pieces by the Italian guns, compelling the enemy either to surrender or take the chance of being able to swim the turbulent stream.

So hurried was the retrograde movement of the Austrians at some points that they did not even take time to save their guns and stores, great quantities of which are now in Italian hands.

As yet there has been no sign that the enemy purposes again to renew an early date another offensive in the mountain region, notwithstanding the fact that reports emanating from Switzerland have said that they are bringing up large reinforcements and great quantities of supplies along the front behind the lines from the Swiss border to the upper reaches of the Piave.

That another great offensive is expected—and at any moment—has been made known by David Lloyd George, the British premier, to the house of commons. Where it is to come was not stated, but it was asserted that on the blow the issue of the campaign might depend. Hopefulness was expressed in the statement that the entente allies never felt better prepared to meet it.

"Enough Americans have arrived to take the operations continue of a minor character. The Italians again have defeated the Germans near Bligny in the Marne sector, inflicting heavy casualties on them and taking a number of prisoners.

In the same region the Americans at last have succeeded in clearing the Belleau Wood, northwest of Chateau Thierry, of the Germans who had been clinging stubbornly to positions which were regarded as almost impregnable. Prisoners were taken and five machine guns were captured by the Americans. The German official communique states that the trenches near Badonviller, occupied by French and American troops, have been invaded by the Germans, who inflicted heavy losses on the defenders. There is no confirmation of this.

Danforth BOYS BOMBARD THEATRE AND BREAK DOOR PANEL

Complaints have been made for some time past in the Danforth and Logan avenue section, regarding the annoyance to business people and others by growing-up boys throwing stones and playing ball in the streets. Starr was on his way to the city with a load of produce, and shortly before reaching the crossing picked up a man going south, but the man, on approaching the Grand Trunk tracks, warned Starr not to attempt to cross, and when Starr refused to heed the warning jumped from the rig, saving his life.

OTTAWA VETERANS CONDEMN W.C.T.U. CONFISCATED LIQUOR IS SOLD TO VENDORS

Ottawa, June 24.—A resolution deeply deploring the attitude taken by the W. C. T. U. at their recent convention regarding the sending of cigars to soldiers overseas, and their remarks about debauchery, was unanimously passed at a meeting held in the Royal Albert Hall tonight by the Ottawa branch of the Army and Navy Veterans, whose membership consists of soldiers who have fought in the present and other of the empire's wars.

The resolution was proposed by President H. A. Jarvis, who has the stripes for four years' service in Burpee. An amendment to make the resolution expressive of the "disgust of the association at the unadvisable conduct of the W. C. T. U. in attempting to deprive the boys in the trenches of their amusements," met with hearty approval from many present, but it was finally decided that it would be better "to meet the language of intemperance and intolerance with that of moderation," and to pass the main resolution as proposed.

Another resolution was passed endorsing and approving the work of the Y.M.C.A. in Canada. The original motion was to endorse the association's work in Canada and overseas, but the meeting eventually decided to judge only of the work done in Canada.

COAL FROM CANADA IS USED IN HAWAII

Ottawa, June 24.—How Canadian coal is being used in Hawaii is shown in a report received by the department of trade and commerce from A. E. Bryan, Canadian trade commissioner at Yokohama. The report states that until recently the islands of Hawaii received most of their coal supplies from Japan, with some shipments from Australia. Owing to a shortage of cargo space, however, Japan and Australia in 1917 failed to maintain their coal trade with the islands. For the same reason, the United States was unable to ship coal to Hawaii.

"As a result of this famine," the report continues, "the Hawaiian Islands turned to Canada for a supply of coal, and were able to buy about 50,000 tons from the Pacific coast coal companies at high prices. It is reported that nearly all the coal used on the islands now is of Canadian origin."
