Engineer Rust's View of the Extension of Car Lines on Danforth Avenue.

The residents of Danforth-avenue district are making a vigorous canvass to have the street car service extended along Danforth-avenue, and a petition is being largely signed. The petition has a copy of City Engineer Rust's letter to Mayor Coatsworth appended. It reads: "In answer to your letter of the 4th

The north side of Danforth-road is outside the city limits and rents would be so much cheaper and taxes so much less it would induce people to go there. "I have had a conversation with Mr. Fleming, manager of the Toronto Railway Company, and he informs me that he would under no circumstances consider any further extension in this section of the city at present, and, as you tion of the city at present, and, as you are aware, if the Toronto Street Railway Company refuse to make these extensions, the city have no power to compel them to do so."

The secretary explained that he called the meeting because Mr. Robinson desired to meet the ratepayers, with a view of receiving the nomination for municipal honors in the coming election. Mr. Frankland presided. The question of the high level bridge connecting River-street with Danforthavenue, was brought up, and the chairman stated that the township never would see that improvement until the man stated that the township never would see that improvement until the district became part of the city, "and all I can say is, 'Oh, let it be soon." he added. The award went to I. & A. Groff of Alma for their 2-year-old roan steer, that tipped the scales at 1700 pounds. The reserve went to his stallmate-almost his counterpart. Such exhibitors as the J. W. Stone Co., James Rennie & Sons, and James Leask were there with champion animals, all beauties from the standpoint of feeders' and butchers' economy.

The fat stock show quarters demonstrated to-day what The World said yesterday as to the smallness of the building. "The crowd is a recordbreaker, and the show is growing fast. I feel highly pleased with everything," were the words of President Arthur Johnston, as he cheerfully passed a word with The World. And well might he be pleased at the surging mass of men, women and youthful enthusiasts who thronged to discomfort every aisle and platform of the once big building room. Scarcely could the prize animals make their way to the rings. Cattle, hogs and people were on intimate terms. Not a hitch marred rings. Cattle, hogs and people were on intimate terms. Export Steers.

The judging of the export steers was a lively one. Five contestants had three each in the ring. They were all fine, well-finished animals, and the judges had great difficulty in placing the awards. First place went to John Brown & Sons of Galt on three big steers. James Leask of Greenbank came second, with three yearling steers of exceptional merit. The fifth place also went to Brown & Sons, and place also went to Brown & Sons, and after the award considerable dissension took place in the placing of fourth and fifth places, but the decision of the judges was fully borne out by the crowd, who are generally fair to all concerned.
