HE SAVED MANY LIVES.

Engineer's Presence of Mind and Promptness Prevented a Deplorable Smash on the B. & O. Connellsville, Va., Sept. 7 .- Fifty persons were injured, many of them seriously, in a rear end collision on the Baltimore and Ohio Raliroad last night at Connelisville Station. The presence of mind of the engineer, John Haggarty, alone saved the lives of many. The first section of train No. 5, a special of eight Wagner sleepers, ran into the rear end of the Cumberland accommodation. Both trains were west-bound. Engineer Murray of the special train lost control of his engine, the air break refusing to work, and crashed into the rear end of the accommodation, which was standing in front of the station, and was crowded with passengers. Engineer Haggarty, who was offing his engine, saw the runaway train coming and sprang aboard his engine, throwing the throttle wide open. The accommodation train lurched forward, but not quick enough to escape a collision. Two coaches of the accommodation were wrecked. The coaches were filled with people. Many were covered with the wreckage and find to be helped From Washington.

Should Have Their Medals.

No little disappointment was shown at the delay in presenting the medals for the expedition, two years having nearly elapsed and it was felt that if this extraordinary delay is to continue much longer, few would be left to receive them. In a letter of regret from Col. William Smith of Stratford at not being able to be present at the gathering, he said:

Object Lesson Failed.

London, Sept. 7.—Capt. Welby, who is just returned from an expedition in Central Africa, has been relating his adventures. He tells a curious story regarding the inhabitants of the Walamo country, who are supposed to cast the "evil eye" on and to render insane visitors eating in their presence. After several of his men had gone mad Capt. Welby tried to give an object lesson by taking a meal ostentatiously in the presence of some Walamos. Curiously enough, he himself fell ill the next day, though he had not a day's illness previously during his journey. So the object esson seems to have missed its mark. Welby does not endeavor to explain what seems a peculiar coincidence.

Speaking of the value of the hog industry, he said it was the money-making industry in Ontario for the farmers. It is a great thing to the farmer if he gets 4c to 5c for hogs, if Denmark had no hog and butter industry that country would have been rulned long before this. There are so many buyers for hogs, that hogs to-day are better than cash.

The natural exuberance of youth often leads to recklessness. Young people don't take care of themselves, get over-heated, catch cold, and allow it to settle on the kidneys. They don't realize the significance of backache—think it will soon pass away—but it doesn't. Urinary Troubles come, then Diabetes, Bright's Disease and shattered health. A young life has been sacrificed. Any help for it? Yes!
