

CHILDREN MUST PAY TWENTY-FIVE CENTS GOING TO THE PORT

No Mention of Leaving It At Half Fare as Rumored.

Rumors were current this morning to the effect that the London and Port Stanley Railway management had intended charging 25 cents for children carried over its road to Port Stanley this coming summer. Philip Pocock asserts that there is no truth in this at all. He says that there never was any intention on the part of the railway to make this charge, and that, according to the act governing such matters, it could not be done. It is the intention to charge all children between the ages of six and 12, the 25 cent rate, for half fare, the 25 cent rate, says Mr. Pocock.

ANOTHER VICTORIA HOSPITAL NURSE IS TAKEN BY INFLUENZA

In the death of Miss Bessie Irene Geoghegan, which occurred at Victoria Hospital yesterday afternoon, another name has been added to the long roll of young women who have given their lives for humanity during the influenza epidemic.

Miss Geoghegan was a member of the class which graduated from Victoria Hospital last May. She was a nurse in the Victoria Hospital, and was taken ill with influenza on New Year's Day and pronounced by the doctor to be in a critical condition. She died yesterday.

The only daughter of Mrs. Bessie and the late George Geoghegan, whose death occurred last April, Miss Geoghegan was 23 years old. She was an active worker in the church of the Redeemer, having been at one time president of the Junior branch of the Women's Auxiliary.

In addition to her mother, surviving of this city, and George with the Canadian army of occupation in Germany.

The funeral will be held privately from the family residence, 552 St. James street, at 2:30 Friday afternoon at Woodland Cemetery. The service will start at 2 o'clock.

TRAY AND ADDRESS FOR WIFE OF PASTOR

The members of the Junior B. Y. P. U. of Maitland Street Baptist Church were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris. Teale, 511 St. James street, Tuesday evening. The evening was spent in games and concluded with a literary program.

During the evening Mrs. Norton, wife of Rev. J. A. Norton, pastor of the church, was presented with a handsome tray. The address was read by Lilla Teale and the presentation was made by Lilla Coughtry. Mrs. Norton replied, thanking the members.

DISCUSS MEDICAL SCHOOL.

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the board of directors of the Western University the question of constructing a new medical school was referred to the medical school committee. The only other business transacted consisted of the passing of accounts.

SCHOOL REPORTS

The report of the December examination in the senior room of the Mount Brydges Public School follows. The pupils whose names are marked with (*) were absent for part of the examination.

Class IV.—Marks required to pass 480.—W. Wynn 480, J. Webb 534, D. Wyatt 535, M. Pauls 537, J. Barnes 538, C. Sinker 539, C. Oliver 539, W. Barnes 547, W. Graham 548, B. Wilkinson 552, G. Dugman 554, D. Bancroft 555, J. Smith 556.

Class III.—Marks required to pass 360.—T. Monte 360, J. Miller 361, A. Hardy 360, S. Wyatt 360, D. Reynolds 360, W. Smith 353, T. Jones 355, W. Harmsworth 356, D. Winterbottom 356.

ANY WOMAN'S STRUGGLE
FOR GOOD HEALTH
QUICKLY REWARDED

A Simple Home Treatment
Now Advocated That Gives Fine Results.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong. Putting off only makes matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment.

At the close of every meal, with a glass of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozine Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, rundown and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferrozine's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination. By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozine supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozine quickens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this gives the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozine puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health. Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not persons who are weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozine.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozine is unrivaled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up strength. Try it yourself—six boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Catarhobee Company, Kingston, Ont.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Address Your Problems to the Military Editor of The Advertiser and They Will Be Answered From Official Information.

SOLDIER READER: Q.—Is a man discharged from the Canadian army in March, 1918, but who re-enlisted in the Canadian army again in September, 1918, entitled to the extra post discharge pay on being discharged again, he having served overseas and already being in receipt of three months post discharge pay? First enlistment was on January 4, 1916.

A.—Yes. He will be entitled to the war service gratuity according to the following scale: For three years' service or over—153 days' pay and allowances of rank; for two years' service and under three years—153 days' pay and allowances of rank; for one year's service and under two years—122 days' pay and allowances of rank; for less than one year—82 days' pay and allowances of rank. For the purpose of determining the amount of gratuity by reference to the length of service, the soldier's service shall be counted from the date he was first entitled to count the services subsequent to both enlistments. The amount already received as post discharge pay will be deducted from the war service gratuity on discharge. This man's service would count for two years and under three years, or 153 days' pay and allowances of rank.

F. S. CITY: Q.—What post discharge pay is the pay of the Royal Air Force entitled to on discharge?

A.—Any war service gratuity payable to soldiers by the British Government, as the Royal Air Force is not a part of the Canadian army and members of the same are not entitled to any war service gratuity from Canadian funds, according to the regulations of the Royal Air Force, and information regarding military duties which will thus be obtained.

INTERESTED: Q.—I, a Canadian has resided in the United States for eight years. He has completed with the American laws and has been classified and carried papers to this effect. Could he remain in Canada under a longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

2. Would he be arrested by the Canadian police if he failed to register?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

L. G. S. Q.—I served for eight months in the Canadian army and was discharged on account of deafness. The military authorities refused to issue me a discharge certificate because my medical board decided that I was in no worse condition on discharge than when I enlisted. This is not so, as I passed the medical board and was discharged longer than ten days without registering with the deputy registrar at London?

A.—1. Yes. Registration under the military service act has been suspended.

2. No. Provided that he carries on his person his military service papers, proving that he is not a draft evader or defaulter from military service.

GUARDS FRUSTRATE ATTEMPT TO REACH GERMAN EX-KAISER

Twelve Americans Arrive at Castle and Ask For Mr.
Hohenzollern.

MYSTERIOUS APPEARANCE

Entire Police Force of Amerongen Is Called Out To Protect Wilhelm.

[By H. W. Smith, Copyright 1918 by
New York Tribune.]

Rottterdam, Jan. 8.—The Handelsblad, a newspaper here, says that two armed motor cars with twelve occupants appeared last evening at the Castle Huis at Amerongen.

The travelers said they came to speak to the ex-kaiser, but in view of the lateness of the hour—3:30—and other circumstances, they were refused admission.

What immediately followed is uncertain, but finally the entire police force was on the spot, surrounded the motor cars and the occupants were taken to the office of the steward, who is also the burgomaster, a member of the Bentinck family.

The real object of the visit is unknown, and it is stated that the cars came from Brussels and the occupants were Americans, who, it is alleged, mentioned the American minister in connection with their arrival.

DEMAND FOR AN EARLY PEACE IS MORE INSISTENT

Protests at Delay in Demobilization a Sign.

MUST BE NO DELAY

Short Outs Must Be Taken
Towards the Main Object.

BY JOHN W. DAFOR.

Canadian Press Correspondent.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—The principals of the peace conference are gathering at Paris in readiness for the conference of the Allied powers which open next Monday at the official residence of the French ministry of foreign affairs.

A considerable proportion of the British official staff, which is to assist the delegates, is already in Paris. The Canadian mission also has representatives there, making the necessary arrangements for the accommodation of the Canadian party.

The whole British mission is to be housed in two large hotels, the Astoria for officers and the Majestic as a residence. Mr. Balfour and Sir Robert Cecil, who has charge of the British case in relation to the proposed league of nations, are already in France, and Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Borden will cross immediately after the new government is announced, probably on Friday.

Fortnight Preliminaries.

Sir Robert Borden will leave Paris in time for the opening of the Allied conference on Monday. The procedure after the opening of these dispatches will be followed. A fortnight, and perhaps three weeks, will be taken up in informal confidential conferences between the Allies. The nucleus of this conference will be the British, American, French and Italian delegations.

The smaller Allied nations have agreed to a new procedure as calculated to expedite proceedings. The representatives of newly-formed states and international organizations will be called in for consultation as occasion requires. The conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

President Wilson's address in Italy will be the first of the conference. It is expected that the conference will be held in the Hotel de Ville, which is the headquarters of the Allies upon the first day of the conference.

France and Italy Stern.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS OVERSEAS MARRYING RATE OF 500 A WEEK

Large Feminine Army Will Have To Be Transported
Home.

A FINANCIAL PROBLEM

Matrimonial Epidemic Follows
Signing of the Armistice.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—Not the least difficult of the demobilization problems facing the Government is that connected with soldiers' dependents overseas and the means whereby they are to be brought back to Canada. It is not merely a question of transportation; it is a question of finance. It does not only apply to the children who went over to Great Britain to be with their men in the days before the armistice, but it applies to the thousands of matrons in France, Great Britain and elsewhere. The whole question is under advisement by the Government, and it is highly probable that a decision will shortly be reached whereby the Government will pay the expenses of soldiers' dependents coming home. This will include the expense of sea and rail travel to destination in Canada.

Matrimonial Epidemic.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.

Former reports were to the effect that soldiers' dependents overseas numbered about 55,000. It is stated, however, that since the armistice was signed the action created thereby has found vent in a perfect epidemic of marriages. Canadian soldiers have been bringing in their lot with French and British matrons at the rate of about 500 a week, and the total number of dependents is now in the neighborhood of 50,000, and it is increasing. A large proportion of these have never seen Canada, and several nationalities are represented.

Apart entirely from the expense involved in transporting this ever-increasing feminine army, the Government cannot exercise the immigration restrictions with regard to the money which is now coming to Canada in the form of post-discharge pay, which will go far to tide the youthful couples over the interval between discharge and repatriation.

It is believed that proof of positive bona fide marriages will, of course, have to be submitted before expenses are paid. In the meantime, the Government is endeavoring to ring for Canadians and their brides in London and Paris and in the little towns and villages of the camp, and the army of dependents continues on the increase.