BOY FED A RABBIT WITH A PEN FILLER

Successfully Reared Little Pet, Using Filler as Feeding Bottle, and Now It is Thriving.

A baby rabbit, the property of a Horley schoolboy, has been successfully reared with a fountain-pen filler as a feeding bottle.

Jack St. John Smith, aged 18, was walking in the grounds of the Burston Preparatory School, near Horley, when he saw a rabbit run down a hole. With a schoolboy's curiosity he dug around the hole and two feet below the surface found a nest of four, one of which was a two-day-old rabbit, no bigger than a full-sized mouse. There was very little fur on its body and its eyes were closed.

Wrapping it in his handkerchief, Master Jack put it in his pocket and cycled home. The rabbit was housed in a chocolate box, but the problem then arose—how was it to be fed? It was too young to lick or chew its food, and suddenly Jack had his brilliant idea—why not give it milk with a fountain pen filler?

A filler was obtained and a drop of milk squeezed into the rabbit's mouth. It was almost a case of forcible feeding at first, for when the bulb was squeezed Pincher, as the rabbit was named, had to swallow the milk. After a time, however, Pincher opened its mouth eagerly when it felt the tip of the filler, and sucked away at the filler. During the first critical days Pincher emptied a filler of milk three times every three hours.

Now Pincher is living on regular food.

CAFÉ ROYAL GUESTS DANCED NEW YEAR IN

Eight Hundred Attended Cabaret Performance in King Street Restaurant.

Nearly 800 merry-makers, with a caterer who has never before been heard in the cabaret, greeted the New Year at the Café Royal, King Street. Dancing was at its height and the clock chimed 12 and in walked Father Time, bidding the revelers make their resolutions for the New Year. Everything to provide amusement was to be found on the tables at the popular cabaret and the fun was kept up until 2 a.m.

WILLIAM M'BRIDE HURT IN COLLISION WITH CAR

William McBride, a driver for Ambrose Woods, liquor merchant, Dundas street, narrowly escaped serious injury at 6.20 last night, when the lorry he was driving was wrecked in a collision with a Dundas car at the corner of Jerome and Dundas streets. As it is, he is lying at his home, 7 Broad street, suffering from a badly fractured arm and a number of body bruises.

McBride was turning the corner from Jerome street to go north on Dundas street, when one of the hind wheels of the lorry was struck by the car and torn from the axle. The lorry was carried a considerable distance, and the axle and shafts were broken. The driver was thrown out on the curb. He was carried into the office of Dr. Matheson, on Dundas street, and had his injuries treated, and afterwards removed to his home. The horses received a number of cuts.

The police state that the car, which was an extra, was traveling at a fast rate to the barn at the time of the accident.

NOVA SCOTIA SEAMAN WAS TURKS' ADVISER

Favorite of Late Sultan and Directed Naval Affairs, Now Fighting for Allies.

Recent reports from Constantinople have told of the valorous naval exploits of one Admiral Buckman, or Buckman Pasha, the only Ottoman sea dog who has been able to cope successfully with Turkey's enemies. Now it is learned that the "Rams" Buckman, who was appointed naval adviser and aide-de-camp to His Imperial Majesty the sultan of Turkey nine years ago, on April 19, 1904, and who has been on the sea ever since, is the same daring and resourceful mercantile seaman, both steam and sail, on the Great Lakes and along the Atlantic coast.

"Rams" Buckman was described as a Canadian Yankee, for he was born in Ontario, Nova Scotia, some forty-four years ago, but removed with his parents to Maine, when an American education at Buckport, Me., and in Jefferson County, N.Y., the future Turkish adviser and aide-de-camp when fourteen, and ever since has been a wanderer on the face of the globe. His first voyage was on a sailing ship to Australia. Later he commanded a fleet of freighters on the Great Lakes, and commanded one of Uncle Sam's ships on its trial trip. In 1904 the shipyard completed a cruiser for the Turkish Government, and Buckman took it across the pond. Abdul Hamid invited him to remain as naval adviser at salary of $12,000, and Buckman accepted, and received his commission as admiral nine years ago.

He insisted that the deposed sultan, who insists with him, the deposed sultan, and his majesty liked "Rams" because of his integrity. On one occasion Buckman was in a hospital because of his honesty, having been sandbagged by fellow admirals who insisted that his differences with the sultan were well with the Young Turks, but, at the outbreak of the war with Italy, he found his differences and fought valiantly for his adopted land.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with bicarbonate and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.
