

Good Things Coming to Theatres of St. John

OUR BOYS TO HELP FINISH THE KAISER

Possibly the people of St. John do not fully appreciate the fact that the machine-gun draft C. E. F. being recruited here by Lieut. Scammell to take their departure at a near date for overseas, is destined to be a separate unit from this city in the final plans of General Haig for exterminating the German army in the drive towards the Rhine.

"For instance, if we should go to war, we will have before us the great question of the treatment of the alien enemy population. Are we to allow them to go loose in the country anywhere they please, to blow up bridges and do any damage they can, or shall we intend holding up of payments that were due, but they did take a number of other measures necessary in a country going to war."

"If we should unfortunately become involved in this war, we will immediately be faced by a series of extraordinary problems. When Germany went to war, they made their declaration on the 4th of August, and the fourth of August, at the meeting of the Reichstag, some industrious German had prepared an extraordinarily elaborate code of laws, which was immediately put in force by the Reichstag, the business affairs of Germany. They did not declare a moratorium, that is to say, there was no holding up of payments that were due, but they did take a number of other measures necessary in a country going to war."

"When I went into Germany and started to learn German, I was very much surprised that they had no word for 'efficiency' in that language, but after I had been there a short time I discovered that they did not need the word because everything they did was efficient, and therefore there was no need to distinguish one act from another."

MORE BRAVE ST. JOHN BOYS HOME FROM WAR

To be wounded in three places by shrapnel and left on the battlefield for twenty-four hours was the experience of George Tilley, ex-sergeant, who arrived in the city this morning en route to his home in Oliville, Queens county. He is at present visiting his aunt, Mrs. Shanks, 27 Middle street, West St. John.

Private Tilley took part in the third battle of Ypres and in that battle sustained three wounds, one in the shoulder, another in the leg and one in the arm. Although just able to limp along, he is as happy as can be.

In speaking of the conditions at the front, he said he was of the opinion that the Allies on the western front now have the upper hand of the Germans, but from what he could see it would take some fighting yet before the Allies could reach the Channel.

He spoke of the highest terms of the hospital in France and England and did not neglect to mention the manner in which the Canadian nurses cared for the Canadian boys at the front. Private Tilley will be unable to return to the front again as it will be some time before he will recuperate. He will leave for his home in Queens on Monday evening.

Private E. S. Adams, of 96 Queen street, arrived home this morning on a six months' leave of absence to recuperate from wounds sustained in the fighting against the Germans on the blood stained fields of France.

He is accompanied on two occasions while fighting in the ranks of a New Brunswick unit. On June 13 he was struck in the thigh with a bullet while going over the top during an engagement at Ypres, and again on Sept. 28 he sustained a bullet wound in the back while fighting at the Somme. At the latter engagement the Canadians had succeeded in driving the Germans from their positions but he was shot down.

Private Adams said the original boy of the 28th battalion think that Lieut. McArthur was one of the bravest officers at the front, and one of the bravest men that ever put foot in a trench. He purchased a lot of their own officers and would follow them anywhere.

U. S. MUST FACE BIG PROBLEMS IN EVENT OF WAR, SAYS GERARD

Not Least Will Be Treatment of Alien Enemy Population in The States

For Compulsory Service—Explicit German Sequelation of Business and Property Owned by Allied Interests

New York, March 24—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, who was the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a reception and luncheon, said that, in the event of war, this country faced the question of internment of alien enemies or leaving them free to blow up bridges and do other damage. He described the rigid policy of sequestration which Germany had put into effect against the property and business of firms owned or controlled by enemies of Germany. Mr. Gerard again urged compulsory military service for this country, asserting that it was the foundation of the industrial efficiency of Germany in peace.

"If we should unfortunately become involved in this war, we will immediately be faced by a series of extraordinary problems. When Germany went to war, they made their declaration on the 4th of August, and the fourth of August, at the meeting of the Reichstag, some industrious German had prepared an extraordinarily elaborate code of laws, which was immediately put in force by the Reichstag, the business affairs of Germany. They did not declare a moratorium, that is to say, there was no holding up of payments that were due, but they did take a number of other measures necessary in a country going to war."

WOULD TIGHTEN SCREWS ON HUNS

London, March 24—The promulgation of a new allied doctrine against Germany is demanded by Carlton Wilfroy Bellairs, Unionist M.P. for Malden, in a resolution laid on the table of the House of Commons for debate next week.

The resolution provides that "in view of the murders and the shocking violations of international law in the high seas by the German government, this house, recognizing that Germany has obtained herself in the past by the use of Germany or her allies; that prize court procedure was devised to meet conditions of civilized warfare which do not exist, and that consequently supplies for neutral European countries must now be procured on Monday and Tuesday.

The Palace Theatre, Main street, will screen an extraordinary Red Feather play on Wednesday and Thursday, entitled "The War of the Tongs," Chinese plot, stars and life, photographed in genuine hues by the modern Chinese. It's a wonderful play that grips from the very start, an enlightenment on many strange customs, packs houses everywhere and will pack this little theatre with satisfied patrons. No advance in prices. Orchestra music suitable to the picture.

An Advertisement to Wives

Perhaps you don't want your husband to insure his life. The possibility of his dying suddenly seems too awful to think about. And getting money as a result of such a tragedy offends your conscience.

Well now, do you know two widows, one left comfortably provided for by life insurance money and another left destitute? Ask them what they think of life insurance. Then draw your own conclusions.

If what they say leads you to believe in life insurance—as we believe it will—ask for our free booklet "Safeguard your legacy." It will tell you about an Imperial Life Policy in which your husband can invest a few dollars each year. Then if he should die we will pay to you as long as you live—regularly—each month—a certain amount of money to keep you and the little ones from want.

PEOPLE OF NEWFOUNDLAND WARNED AGAINST U-BOATS; URGED TO TILL MORE SOIL

St. John's, Nfld., March 24—Acting Secretary of Agriculture A. J. Ball said today that German submarines might make it impossible to import flour and other foodstuffs in sufficient quantity for the needs of Newfoundland this year. Appeal was made to the fishermen to give their spare time to farming.

Bishop Michael Finlan, of St. George's, in a pastoral letter called attention to the situation, saying: "We must get ready for hard times, at present probably not far distant. We should endeavor to work the land and increase the colonial food supply. The seriousness of the situation will be seen should the submarines come to our coast next summer and cut us off from the continent. This is not at all unlikely."

NEW BRUNSWICK AND NOVA SCOTIA IN FAVOR OF SYSTEM

(Continued from page 1) system should prove very beneficial and gives it his personal endorsement. He will take the matter before the legislative committee of the labor federation at the next meeting in order to secure some official action upon it. F. B. McLaughlin, chief labor representative of the Cape Breton miners, is also in accord with the suggestion made by Miss Wileman and on his return to the Cape Breton coal-field will explain the proposal to the miners there.

The Canadian Club, Union of Teachers, Y. M. C. A., S. of E. St. George's Society and other organizations in Nova Scotia have taken the matter up in a most enthusiastic manner. Miss Wileman during her tour visited Amherst, New Glasgow, Stellarton and Moncton and in each of these centres the various public organizations were much impressed with the idea, she said, and will in all probability express officially their concurrence in the scheme by endorsing the memorial of Miss Wileman to the government.

Percy Ayer, leader of the New Brunswick Federation of Labor, has intimated to Miss Wileman that in his opinion the new scheme is calculated to promote a greater degree of harmony between employers and employes than has previously been enjoyed and will result to a large extent the existing friction between capital and labor if the proposed system be employed. The fund and returned soldiers' aid commissions believe that the organization of a national labor union is indispensable to the proper reconstruction of industrial and commercial life after the war.

Today every provincial government in Canada has been lined up to co-operate actively in this non-partisan system as suggested by Miss Wileman. Nova Scotia Union of Municipalities, representing the civic governments of that province, will also look into the matter. Several captains of industry in both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have been interviewed by Miss Wileman and they have expressed their appreciation of the scheme and their willingness to co-operate in the spirit of the measure.

MORE TROOPS SAFELY ACROSS

Ottawa, March 24—The following troops have arrived safely in England: 17th French Canadian battalion; Jewish Canadian Corps; drafts 68th, 64th, 68th, 76th, 77th, 78th battalions. A. M. C. drafts from London, Toronto and Kingston, draft 65th battery, Woodstock. Heavy brigade draft, Montreal, total, 1,829.

SOLDIER HONORED

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Frederick Harvey, 48 Britain street, on Thursday evening, at a function in honor of James S. Osbourne, late of the 18th battalion of Montreal, who has recently returned from the front, wounded. He has seen much service on the western front. A large number of friends of the gallant soldier gathered to extend to him a warm greeting. During the course of the evening a signal ring, accompanied by an address expressing the appreciation of those present was presented to him. In a short speech Mr. Osbourne expressed his deep appreciation of the kindness expressed by his friends.

GIVE TO AMERICANS BENEFIT OF EXPERIENCE

Sir Herbert Ames and Commodore Jarvis to Speak in New York

New York, March 24—The National Training Association announces that Sir Herbert B. Ames, who organized the Canadian Patriotic Society, which is providing for the families of recruits aided in the enlistment of more than 600,000 Canadians, and Commodore Aurelius Jarvis, who organized the Canadian National Reserve, were coming to New York next week to tell Americans how Canada solved her big military problems. Sir Herbert and Commodore Jarvis will speak in New York and in Washington.

They will arrive here next Thursday morning and will make their headquarters at the University Club. There will be a luncheon in their honor at India House on Tuesday, given by Herbert L. Satterlee, after which they will address the Chamber of Commerce. At night there will be a reception at the Waldorf at which they and American naval officers will speak.

On Wednesday Sir Herbert and Commodore Jarvis will go to Washington, and after a stay of two days, they will visit Aiken, S. C., to attend a national service meeting now being arranged.
