MAKING THRIFT UNATTRACTIVE

(The "Tribune," New York.)

There is not much point in wasting sympathy on the bare life that Mrs. Hetty Green preferred to live. She got very little out of existence for her millions; but that little was what she wanted, and who can use more?

Happiness is not necessarily a matter of town houses and country estates, nor yet of travel and friendships, nor even of working great things for other people. Mrs. Hetty Green was the personification of New England thrift and shrewdness—or perhaps it would be more accurate to say New Bedford thrift and shrewdness, since those qualities are popularly credited with reaching high-water mark in that town of her birth. She was a master of investing skill, and in her exercise of that skill she found her great pleasure. To her it was home, friends, food, drink and the whole playground of life.

The one regret that we can muster over such a life of rare energy and ability is the discouraging effect of its example. Such a life as Mrs. Green's does more to make thrift unattractive than years of preaching can overcome. There are far too many spenders in America today, and it is high time that we settled down and learned a little common sense about money. Spending is one of our chief national vices. Yet when a little thrift and saving are proposed such an example as Mrs. Hetty Green's is always cited with a "What's the use?" The idea of openhandedness is upheld as the great good of all others, let the poorhouse come when it may.

Of course there is a thrift that has no narrowness of life about it. Perhaps the French, as a people, exhibit it in more sensible, amiable form than any other race. They are shrewd and careful and save enough; but they are equally intent on living just as comfortably and agreeably as their neighbors. That is the orderly mean, based on looking at the chances of life clear-eyed, that America cannot too soon cultivate. It avoids extravagance in all things—extravagance of thrift as well as reckless spending.

Is it not Reasonable that the food for the hand-fed baby should be progressive? Think of the baby in the cradle, and then picture him when nine months of age.

The 'Allenburys' Milk Food—No. 1 is a thoroughly suitable nourishment for the first three months of life. It contains no starch, is identical with human milk, can be digested by the most delicate infant, and requires only hot boiled water to prepare it.

The 'Allenburys' Milk Food—No. 2 follows when baby is three months of age. This food contains added nourishment for the brain and nervous system. It should be given until the child is about six months old.

The 'Allenburys' Malted Food No. 3 is a farinaceous food specially advantageous at this period—six months onwards. It is a Malted Food prepared specially for infants.

Remember—the 'Allenburys' Foods Nos. 1, 2 and 3 are graduated to provide the maximum nourishment that the child is able to digest at the period of life for which each food is recommended. Carefully follow the simple directions given on each tin. Baby's health is assured, and the Mother is relieved of all anxiety.

R. trains will be in ample time for the proceedings and speeches.

A young girl was nearly drowned yesterday afternoon at the foot of Broad street, when, losing her balance on a cap of the wharf, she toppled over. The prompt work of the crew of a shunting engine undoubtedly saved her life. The man fished her out with a long pole. She gave her address as 85 Erin street, and attributed her cold ducking to a mishap.

JOCKEYS ENLISTING; RACING THREATENED
London, July 22—The call of all able-bodied men between the ages of eighteen and forty-one to the colors under the new Conscription Act, threatens seriously to interfere with horse racing, the majority of the present day jockeys being liable for service. Frank and Stanley Wootton have been on active service for some months, but the compulsory service calls out such famous jockeys as Frank Rickaby, J. Childs, C. Childs, H. Jells and Lancaster. Many jockeys have suffered from broken bones in carrying out their profession in the past, and only such deformities will enable them to keep in the saddle during the continuation of the war. A well known Anglo-French jockey, George Stern, offered himself for service, but has been rejected as being too short.

Feeble, Nervous, Women

LOSE COLOR, ARE WEARY, LOOK WRINKLED.

Can Get Health, Vitality, Vim, Strength from Ferrozone.

Once you use the celebrated nerve vitalizer and tonic, Ferrozone—once you feel its magic power, working through your weakened system—then you'll know for sure that health at last awaits you. So much quicker and sure is Ferrozone to rebuild and restore that thousands use no other medicine.

"Because I am now well," writes Miss I. P. Sinclair, from Sault Ste Marie, "I feel it my duty to tell every young woman what benefit I got from Ferrozone. I grew very thin, and at twenty-five years old my face was hollow and wrinkled—my color was bad and I looked nervous and hysterical, couldn't sleep, had no appetite, burst into tears at the least provocation. Then I worried, feared I would go into decline, and was so depressed every morning that life was no longer happy.

"I was astonished at the quick and thorough action of Ferrozone. It gave me permanent strength and vitality, nervous fears disappeared, indigestion and stomach weakness were cured. Sound sleep returned. I looked better and younger, had clear color. I gained in weight, felt happy, vigorous, strong. It is a year since I first took Ferrozone. It has restored me to health I never knew before and I will continue to recommend it as the grandest tonic and strengthener on earth."

Very few girls and women are so abundant in health as to not require medicine. Nothing equals Ferrozone in supplying strength, blood and nerve power. Not a stimulant, but a nourishing tonic is Ferrozone. 50c per box or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers. Try Ferrozone. Do it today.

THE U. S. AND MEXICO
The newspapers of the United States have a pretty clear idea of how the Mexicans feel towards the United States citizens, and the Central Christian Advocate puts it forcibly and briefly as follows: "Mexico hates the United States. And has she no reason? Our capitalists have gone there; they have got the most iniquitous concessions; they have wrung from the people work for which they have paid but a few cents a day. Our capitalists have not taken any public schools; they have not taken any churches; they have taken no broad uplifting influences. They have taken the lemon squeezer, and they have squeezed the lemon, even the blood of the workers to the last drop. American capital has joined hands with the ruling class so far as keeping the workers down is concerned. Therefore, the people want to get out and stay out."

How Would You Like It?
The Falkland Islands form Great Britain's southernmost colony. They are, however, only at the same latitude south of the Equator as is London north of the Equator. But (the Daily Chronicle points out) the climates of the two places are very different. The sky is almost always overcast, and rain falls in a light drizzle on about 250 days in the year. The population of the islands is small, but the desire to possess them once brought England and Spain within an ace of war.

THE MODERN WAY TO FURNISH HOMES

In these days of Pullman sleepers, no one would think of using a prairie schooner to cross the country. With modern plumbing facilities, nobody takes clothes down to the river to do washing. The old way of doing things gives place to the new. It is the same way with furnishing a home. No one thinks of doing without furniture in the home. We make it possible to have not only the necessities, but what is modern and in good taste, at Amland Bros.' low prices.
